BROOKHART and Nye, who beat administration senators in the primaries attend a farmers' conference called by Governor Hammill, of Iowa. One newspaper says this "may develop into an anti-Coolidge demonstration."

REMEMBER that farmers in Kansas will get about $150,000,000 for their wheat crop this year. A good deal will go to pay mortgages, but many farmers will remember that wheat now selling at $1.45 a bushel represents a considerable improvement on the price just before Coolidge was elected president.

SCIENTISTS say large families indicate lack of culture, generally speaking and that as culture increases families grow smaller, the number of births per mother diminishing.

That may be so, but you are glad that Caruso's mother kept on until she had No. 19. He was Caruso. The number of births per mother gradually diminish, since otherwise the earth would be overcrowded and men compelled to eat each other. You may be one that nature will attend to that wisely, as she keeps the trees from "growing into the heavens."

BUT the number of children need not diminish. In the mysterious future some women, like the queen bee, may specialize in motherhood, having many children, other women preferring to have none.

You see signs of that, already.

THE Young Men's Christian association starts 12,000 boys on a two-year training period for a relay race between New York and Chicago, distance 1,092 miles. The boys will run in relays, night and day, swimming rivers when necessary, bearing a symbolic bronze torch from city hall to city hall.

THAT quite useless experiment undoubtedly will injure the health of some of the boys and will cost money. Y. M. C. A. authorities might better buy half a dozen good flying machines from Fokker or Ford and teach 500 youngsters the art of flying. That would be doing something worth while.

AN ENGINEER plans an ocean highway for aviators, to be marked by buoys with floating landing places anchored 400 miles apart rising sufficiently high above the surface to let big waves roll under them.

THE idea, interesting now, will seem amusing to our descendants. A few years ago Northcliffe offered $50,000 to any man that would fly across the English channel. In a few years flying across the ocean will be as simple as flying across the channel or the North river. The ocean flight will be made comfortably between breakfast and dinner and millions that read this will live to see it.

TWO French airmen, Girler and Dordilly, have just flown from Paris to Omsk in Siberia, 2,920 miles in 29 hours, without a stop. This flight, that would have carried them across the Atlantic, sets a new record.

SIX ARE DEAD IN STATE AS TORRID SPELL PEAK IS NEAR

RELIEF ON WAY

Weatherman Promises Showers and Breezes Tomorrow.

With East Liverpool sweltering, the heat wave which is sweeping from the Rocky Mountain states to the Atlantic seaboard had claimed a death toll of 35 at noon today.

Six of the victims were Ohioans.

Maximum Here 94 Degrees.

At 11:30 o'clock this morning the mercury in a thermometer on the St. Clair avenue side of the Central fire station registered 92 degrees. At the same time a temperature of 94 was recorded at Dam No. 8, between this city and Wellsville.

Maximum temperature recorded at the dam yesterday was 104 degrees, registered in the sun at 3 p. m. The highest temperature this summer up until yesterday prevailed on July 8 when the mercury reached 98 degrees, according to records at the dam. The 8 o'clock reading this morning was 74, six degrees warmer than at the same hour yesterday morning.

Relief from the torrid weather is promised tomorrow. 'Continued warm tonight, with thunder showers Wednesday afternoon and evening" was the forecast.

CLEVELAND, July 20.—The peak of the hottest weather of the year that yesterday shot the mercury to the giddy heights of 106 degrees in the Dakotas, was expected to pass over Ohio today.

The advance heat waves of the torrid invasion yesterday took a toll of six lives in Ohio as the state broiled under temperatures that averaged 95 degrees.

At 8 a. m. today the official government thermometer here registered 82 degrees, exactly 10 degrees warmer than at 8 o'clock yesterday morning.

The weatherman held forth a faint hope of relief from the heat for tonight when thundershowers were on the schedule, he said.

Cleveland's sweltering thousands sought relief last night along the city's beaches, which entertained almost record crowds. Three persons were drowned in the Cleveland area and two overcome by the heat. One drowning was reported at Cincinnati and another at Middletown. Lima and Dayton each had one heat prostration and Portsmouth two.

The victims were:

CENTENARIAN DIES IN HOME

Mrs. Hannah Leonard Succumbs Today at Wellsville.

Mrs. Hannah Leonard, Columbiana county's only centenarian, died this afternoon at 12:30 o'clock at her home in Sixth street, Wellsville, following a lingering illness. Her death was attributed to infirmities of old age.

No arrangements for the funeral had been made at noon.

Mrs. Leonard observed her one-hundredth birthday anniversary several months ago.

She was born in western Pennsylvania, but has spent the greater part of her life in Ohio. Traveling down the Ohio river in house boat when a young girl she, along with her family, became residents of New Lisbon and later moved to Wellsville.

While conversing with her numerous friends during her birthday observance, she clearly recalled happenings from her early life, notable events in the city's history, including the inauguration of service over the Pennsylvania railroad from Cleveland to Wellsville, and the excitement following the capture of General Morgan, "the raider," near Salineville.

Mrs. Leonard, known as "grandma," had been in failing health for several weeks.

NO TANGIBLE CLUE IN MELLETT MURDER

PASTOR PLEADS SELF DEFENSE

That he shot in self defense will be the plea of Rev. J. Frank Norris, above, Fort Worth, Tex., pastor known as the "Texas Tornado" when he answers the charge of murder placed against him following the shooting to death of D. E. Chipps, lumberman, in the study of Norris' church.

DRINK-CRAZED POLICE SHOOT FIVE PERSONS

Seven Others Beaten Into Unconsciousness in Oklahoma.

ONE MAY DIE

Three Small Hotels at Muskogee are Shot Up.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., July 20.—Five persons were shot and seven were beaten into unconsciousness in three small hotels by two drunken peace officers here early today. At least one of the injured is expected to die. He is Paul Davis, Muskogee county deputy sheriff, who, with Ves Carmack, staged the brawl.

Davis was shot through the chest.

Commerce Chamber Presents Traffic Signs to City

The Chamber of Commerce has presented the city with approximately 175 enameled traffic signs which are to be placed at various places about the city.

The signs are in the shape of a shield and are in colors of red and white. One hundred of them bear the inscription, "Through Traffic," while 25 others read "Parking Limit 30 Minutes." The other 50 signs are blank, which will permit their use wherever needed. Cost of the signs was approximately $200.

Police today announced that the west side of Washington street between Fourth and Fifth street, which has been closed to parking, would be opened to 30-minute parking only. Signs to this effect have been erected along the street.

FIRE DAMAGES H. A. HUNKER HOME

Fire, originating from an undetermined manner, damaged the home of H. A. Hunker, West Sixth street, at 6:30 o'clock last evening. The blaze, which started in a dresser, was discovered by neighbors who called the fire department. The fire was extinguished with a garden hose.

About $300 worth of clothing belonging to the Hunker family, who were absent from the house at the time of the blaze, was destroyed.

The interior of the house, owned by Miss Agnes O'Hanlon, was also damaged.

HERRIOT URGES MORATORIUM AS FRENCH FRANC HITS TOBOGGAN

Recommendation to be Made to Avoid Financial Panic.

40-POINT DROP

Wave of Anti-American Feeling Sweeping France.

BY HARRY R. FLORY.

PARIS, France, July 20.—The Herriot government will recommend a moratorium to avoid a French financial panic as the result of the tumble of the French franc, according to Minister of Interior Chautemps.

The franc, opening weakly, dropped 40 points within an hour this morning, going to 47.90 to the dollar.

FRANC WORTH BUT 2.02 CENTS

PARIS, July 20.—The downward plunge of the Franc continued today.

At 2:30 this afternoon, amidst exciting scenes on the Bourse the franc reached a new low record when it sold at 49.33 to the dollar.

This low made the franc worth 2.02 cents.

Normally the franc is worth 19.30 cents but it has declined steadily since the early war days. In 1914-1915 the average value of the franc was 18.80 cents, while in 1920-21 the average value of the franc had declined to 6.30 cents and by 1925 it was down to 4.39 cents, and has continued to tumble reaching today's new low level at 2.02 cents.

Forced consolidation of all treasury bonds and a moratorium will be the bases of the financial platform of the Herriot ministry, M. Chautemps told a meeting of the radical Socialists today.

Public Confidence Lacking.

The finance minister, M. de Monzie, will be given broader powers and will avoid inflation, M. Chautemps promised.

The situation which is reflected in the weakness of the franc today would indicate that public confidence in the new ministry is lacking and unless M. Herriot can stage some spectacular maneuver to remedy the financial situation immediately, it seems likely that the 14th cabinet since 1920 will have to make way for the 15th within a few days.

American Tourists Insulted.

PARIS, July 20—A wave of anti-American feeling is sweeping France today.

American tourists were brazenly insulted last night while dining in an open-air restaurant in Montmarte. A scuffle ensued in which the police intervened, arresting several Frenchmen.

Resentment against the Americans,

Restraining Order Against Moving of Two-story Building

An injunction, restraining the city from moving a two-story frame building, which is said to be occupying a portion of Shadyside avenue, near West Eighth street, has been issued to Abraham Fisher of this city by Appellate Judge L. T. Farr, Lisbon.

The injunction notice was served upon Service-Safety Director J. W. Moore yesterday. City officials have asked that the case be heard at an early date as the order is delaying the improvement of Shadyside avenue by the Allison & Harris Construction company.

The city claims that the building owned by Fisher is extending into the roadway for a distance of about seven feet at one end and a few inches at the other end. The city was preparing to move the structure yesterday when the injunction order was served.

GOV. DONAHEY IN PHILADELPHIA

TRAILS SLAYERS OF OHIO EDITOR

This man, Ora E. Slater, Cincinnati detective, is in charge of the forces searching for the men who shot and killed Don R. Mellett, publisher of the Canton, (O.,) Daily News, before his garage. ### Several Victims of Chicago Wreck are Believed Dying.

BLAME ENGINEER

Express Crashes Into Work Train at Bridge.

CHICAGO, July 20. — Twenty-one persons, most of them women, were injured seriously and a number of others cut and bruised here today when an Illinois Central suburban express train crashed into a work train at the South Park bridge during the morning rush hours.

Several of the victims were believed dying.

A. M. Umsler, terminal superintendent of the railroad, said the fault for the crash lay with the engineer of the passenger train, who was believed to have ignored or failed to see a block signal set against him.

All of the injured were taken to nearby hospitals.

BOY RUN DOWN BY AUTOMOBILE

Car Passes Over Elmo Rowe, 9, of Chester.

Elmo, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Rowe, Sr., Church alley, Chester, is in the City hospital suffering, it is believed, from internal injuries received about 8 o'clock last night when run down by an automobile driven by Clarence Manes, 147 Virginia avenue, Chester.

The lad, who was playing in the street near his home, is said to have darted directly into the path of the Manes machine. Both the front and the back wheel of the car passed over the boy's abdomen.

He was attended by Dr. C. R. Campbell.

COUNTY LEGION MEETING FRIDAY

Members of Columbiana County Voiture No. 273, La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux, will go to East Palestine Friday evening for a county promenade.

The meeting, which will be held in the American Legion home, will be featured by an initiation followed by an entertainment and refreshments. Local members will leave the Legion headquarters, 633 Dresden avenue, at 6:30 o'clock.

Detective Plans Trip to Warren to Check up on Story Told by George Psialias, Alias "George, the Greek," Who is Held in Jail at Pittsburgh.

CANTON, July 20.—County Prosecutor C. B. McClintock this afternoon announced that the investigators were now working on real "live wire angles" and that if their plans worked out, startling developments would be unveiled in the slaying of Don R. Mellett, crusading Canton publisher, within a few hours.

CANTON, O., July 20.—A move, indicative possibly of a major development in the Don R. Mellett slaying case was seen today when the leaders in the investigation abruptly went into a conference in the office of County Prosecutor C. B. McClintock.

SHERIFF GEORGE WRIGHT'S TIP TURNS SEARCH TOWARD NEW KENSINGTON

The trail for the slayers of Don R. Mellett, Canton newspaper publisher, who was shot to death by underworld hirelings early Friday morning, led to New Kensington, Pa., today, as a result of the discovery of an abandoned 1926 model Chevrolet coach on the Lincoln highway at West Point yesterday.

Sheriff George Wright, checking secret numerals overlooked by occupants of the car who chiseled out the motor serial number and removed the license plates after the coach overturned, learned from the Flint, Mich., manufacturers that the car was originally the property of a New Kensington dealer.

Wright called upon police there to ascertain the identity of the owner.

The car when found contained two copies of the Pittsburgh Post, a blood-stained flashlight, loaded revolver, dynamite, caps, fuses and other yegg tools.

With McClintock was Ora Slater, private detective in charge of the probe; James E. Kinneson, city solicitor; Ben Clark, of the Bertillon bureau here, and Earl Hexamer, safety director.

As the meeting was shrouded in secrecy nothing could be learned of the discussion. Slater and Hexamer left together after the meeting had been in progress only a few minutes.

It was also thought that the meeting might have been one merely to outline a policy for the day's work.

After the return of Chief of Detectives Edward Swope and Detective Clark from Warren today, it was announced that their effort to trace a man known as "Jimmy" and supposed to be with George Psialias on the night of the Mellett murder, was in vain and they had found no trace of him there.

Detective Clark declared that they had not interviewed the clerk of the Lincoln hotel nor anyone else at the hotel.

Suspect Held on Open Charge at Pittsburgh Will be Put Through Another Intensive Grilling.

PITTSBURGH, July 20.—Police Lieut. Peter Connors, investigating the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton, O., publisher, returned here today from the scene of the crime and anfiled in common pleas court shortly nounced that George Psialias, alias "George, the Greek,' held on an open charge, will be put through another intense grilling at once as a result of discrepancies in his story.

Psialias, arrested in connection with the Mellett murder, steadfastly denied any connection with the shooting, although admitting he was in the vicinity of Canton when the editor was killed.

Application for the release of Psialias on a writ of habeas corpus was filed in common pleas court shortly before noon by Samuel Rosenberg, his counsel. Hearing on the application will be held tomorrow, the court clerk said.

Psialias is held on a "suspicious person" charge.

Lieutenant Connors, upon his arrival here from a trip through Ohio, where he checked the story told by Psialias, went directly to the jail where Psialias was held over night for a private conference with him.

After a short talk with Psialias, the lieutenant announced that he would again question the man, this time confronting him with facts obtained on his visit to Warren and Canton, O.

Lieut. Conpors indicated that he will insist upon Psialias revealing the motive of his midnight drive through Ohio the night Mellett was slain. Thus far, Psialias has turned a deaf ear to police questions in this respect.

The lieutenant said that while Psialias' story of his actions the night of the murder was borne out in some respects by facts developed in his investigation, it has been broken down in other places.

In his story police see evidence pointing to a relationship between the underworlds of Pittsburgh and Canton —a connecting link which they believe will lead to verification of Police Lieutenant Connors' theory that the young Ohio publisher was slain by gunmen imported from Pittsburgh.

Working as a unit, police from the two cities under the leadership of Lieut. Connors and Ora Slater, private detective who has been chosen to lead the investigation, today were bringing to light details of an alleged underworld alliance.

Meanwhile Psialias' attorney, Samuel Rosenberg, outlined plans for his

The signs are in the shape of a shield and are in colors of red and white. One hundred of them bear the inscription, "Through Traffic," while 25 others read "Parking Limit 30 Minutes." The other 50 signs are blank, which will permit their use wherever needed. Cost of the signs was approximately $200.

Police today announced that the west side of Washington street between Fourth and Fifth street, which has been closed to parking, would be opened to 30-minute parking only. Signs to this effect have been erected along the street.

FIRE DAMAGES H. A. HUNKER HOME

Fire, originating from an undetermined manner, damaged the home of H. A. Hunker, West Sixth street, at 6:30 o'clock last evening. The blaze, which started in a dresser, was discovered by neighbors who called the fire department. The fire was extinguished with a garden hose.

About $300 worth of clothing belonging to the Hunker family, who were absent from the house at the time of the blaze, was destroyed.

The interior of the house, owned by Miss Agnes O'Hanlon, was also damaged.

HERRIOT URGES MORATORIUM AS FRENCH FRANC HITS TOBOGGAN

Recommendation to be Made to Avoid Financial Panic.

40-POINT DROP

Wave of Anti-American Feeling Sweeping France.

BY HARRY R. FLORY.

PARIS, France, July 20.—The Herriot government will recommend a moratorium to avoid a French financial panic as the result of the tumble of the French franc, according to Minister of Interior Chautemps.

The franc, opening weakly, dropped 40 points within an hour this morning, going to 47.90 to the dollar.

FRANC WORTH BUT 2.02 CENTS

PARIS, July 20.—The downward plunge of the Franc continued today.

At 2:30 this afternoon, amidst exciting scenes on the Bourse the franc reached a new low record when it sold at 49.33 to the dollar.

This low made the franc worth 2.02 cents.

Normally the franc is worth 19.30 cents but it has declined steadily since the early war days. In 1914-1915 the average value of the franc was 18.80 cents, while in 1920-21 the average value of the franc had declined to 6.30 cents and by 1925 it was down to 4.39 cents, and has continued to tumble reaching today's new low level at 2.02 cents.

Forced consolidation of all treasury bonds and a moratorium will be the bases of the financial platform of the Herriot ministry, M. Chautemps told a meeting of the radical Socialists today.

Public Confidence Lacking.

The finance minister, M. de Monzie, will be given broader powers and will avoid inflation, M. Chautemps promised.

The situation which is reflected in the weakness of the franc today would indicate that public confidence in the new ministry is lacking and unless M. Herriot can stage some spectacular maneuver to remedy the financial situation immediately, it seems likely that the 14th cabinet since 1920 will have to make way for the 15th within a few days.

American Tourists Insulted.

PARIS, July 20—A wave of anti-American feeling is sweeping France today.

American tourists were brazenly insulted last night while dining in an open-air restaurant in Montmarte. A scuffle ensued in which the police intervened, arresting several Frenchmen.

Restraining Order Against Moving of Two-story Building

An injunction, restraining the city from moving a two-story frame building, which is said to be occupying a portion of Shadyside avenue, near West Eighth street, has been issued to Abraham Fisher of this city by Appellate Judge L. T. Farr, Lisbon.

The injunction notice was served upon Service-Safety Director J. W. Moore yesterday. City officials have asked that the case be heard at an early date as the order is delaying the improvement of Shadyside avenue by the Allison & Harris Construction company.

The city claims that the building owned by Fisher is extending into the roadway for a distance of about seven feet at one end and a few inches at the other end. The city was preparing to move the structure yesterday when the injunction order was served.

Several Victims of Chicago Wreck are Believed Dying.

BLAME ENGINEER

Express Crashes Into Work Train at Bridge.

CHICAGO, July 20. — Twenty-one persons, most of them women, were injured seriously and a number of others cut and bruised here today when an Illinois Central suburban express train crashed into a work train at the South Park bridge during the morning rush hours.

Several of the victims were believed dying.

A. M. Umsler, terminal superintendent of the railroad, said the fault for the crash lay with the engineer of the passenger train, who was believed to have ignored or failed to see a block signal set against him.

All of the injured were taken to nearby hospitals.

BOY RUN DOWN BY AUTOMOBILE

Car Passes Over Elmo Rowe, 9, of Chester.

Elmo, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Rowe, Sr., Church alley, Chester, is in the City hospital suffering, it is believed, from internal injuries received about 8 o'clock last night when run down by an automobile driven by Clarence Manes, 147 Virginia avenue, Chester.

The lad, who was playing in the street near his home, is said to have darted directly into the path of the Manes machine. Both the front and the back wheel of the car passed over the boy's abdomen.

He was attended by Dr. C. R. Campbell.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE:

Bee and Lou are modern girls sharing a Greenwich Village apartment. Bee is an actress, at present in the chorus, but keeping a stiff upper lip and a fond hope of success. Into the Village comes Delia, frail poetess of New England, seeking freedom from the repressions of her home. And Bee, a school chum of the freedom-seeker, invites her to share their apartment. Delia is determined to win through to the freedom she came for. Before the first evening is well under way Delia has met Wilbur, a young artist who is suffering from "too much mother and whom Lou has undertaken to rescue; and Leslie, intimate of Lou; and Arthur Rockwell, the poet whose work Delia knows and admires; and various others of the Village crowd.

Bee and Lou have their troubles. Bee is beset by a highly successful young business man who wants to marry her and carry her off from the Village; Lou and Leslie verge on a misunderstanding because of her efforts in behalf of Wilbur. And Delia fast succumbs to the fascination of Rockwell, who is unscrupulous in love and therefore dangerous. Now go on with the story:

CHAPTER NINETEEN.

It was Lou's nature, when a difficult task lay before her, to handle it in a businesslike way. She had now to dispose of Wilbur, and meant to do it briskly and completely. She didn't like leaving loose ends. There wasn't a great deal of time to do it in, for she made it a matter of principle never to be late at the office. It was really, she reflected as she went upstairs to waken him, a bit of a surgical job. The more cleanly it was done, the better. Bee had hit on the truth in her amusingly sputtering way; the only possible way she could help Wilbur would be to set him squarely on his own legs and leave him there.

His door opened, to her surprise, before she could knock. He was dressed, with his hat on, and his coat over his arm. "I heard you coming up,' he said. "I was just going down after you. I'm afraid I've got to talk with you, Lou."

"Yes," said she. "We'll go outside for breakfast."

They took a corner table. She looked him over with cool, quiet eyes. His color was off, and his eyes far from clear. The sensitive mouth twitched nervously, and every now and then he pressed his lips together in what was evidently and pathetically a mighty effort at self-control. She found her interest quickened, as well as her sympathy, for she had never seen him quite like this. He was living through a battle, apparently putting up a real fight.

He opened the conversation. "First, Lou, I think I'd better say just this: I know I made a fool of myself last night."

"Let's not talk about that, Wilbur." She said it kindly.

"We wont. I just had to say that much. I—I haven't slept any. Didn't take off my clothes all night."

"But that isn't wise. More than anything else you need sleep."

"There'll be time for that.' " He moved a slender hand. "As a matter of fact, it was worth while. I've thought it all out. Got my balance back. And I know what I've got to do. I've been thinking; in a way we were wrong in what we did."

"Perhaps."

"But we were right, too. There had to be some sort of a break with Mother. That has become very clear to me. We couldn't go on as we were. But now we've had the break. It marks the end of something else."

Lou had never seen him in this sensitively firm mood. He had the air of one who is building the conversation to a definite and difficult end. The whining incompetent of the previous evening had disappeared. For the first time in their acquaintance the thought rose in her mind that there might be mettle in him.

"I'm not going to dwell on the past, Lou," He was pushing a saltshaker this way and that. "That's no good, of course. All I'll say is that if I—well, if I succeed in working this out, I shall owe everything to you." ("Oh, come!' 'said Lou.) "Yes, I shall. You saw clear into the situation. You made yourself no end of trouble." ("Really Wilbur—") "by pitching in and helping me take a stand. I didn't see it as you did." ("You were too close to it.") "But please listen, Lou! All this is rather difficult to say. And I've got to say it. What I finally got into my head during the night—it was queer; I made endless sketches. Tried a lot of you—your head. Some day I want to make a real head of you, see if I can't catch your poise and that look about your eyes. It's baffled me some. What I was saying is that I did, I think, get the thing clear in my head. I'm in a queer fix. You'd think a man, if he had anything in him at all, could deal decently with his own mother."

"Don't underrate the problem, Wilbur."

"I don't think I do. Anyhow, what I'm getting at is that it isn't your problem. It's mine. And you can't handle it for me. It's just one of those human puzzles a person has to work out. I don't know that it particularly matters which. But I am sure now—I should have seen it all along—that no one else can do it for me."

"Yes," said she gently—she was deeply moved; no need now to rub it in. "Yes, I suppose that's the truth of it. But what is it you're planning to do?"

"I'm going back to Mother."

"Are you sure that you—"

"I've thought it over from every possible angle." He smiled unhappily. "All night! But the point is, I'm going back with a difference. I want you to understand that it's your help that has cleared the air for me. There had to be the break—something clean and sharp. You saw that. Well, we've had it. She'll know now that a change has come. And there are some things about that, little things, perhaps, but—It will be an issue. She'll never let me alone. Be at me all the time. Mother can keep at you . .. . However, I've got to take my stand. I've got to. And I know all the difficulties. All of them." He pressed his lips together. "I'm afraid we'll have to go through some quarrels. If I were surer of my own nerves, it would be easier. But I've got to take my stand, no matter what it comes to. I realize that she has driven me into this inferiority complex. All my life she's been at it. She's so dominant—and so persistent. She knows just where my most sensitive nerves are, and how to play on them. She doesn't mean to be unkind. It's more like a blind instinct. I know. But I've got to see that no matter what happens, even if it kills her,"—he drew in his breath with a nervous shudder—"I've got to see it through. And I've got to try to be kind to her. I've thought of some things I can do. Have flowers in the apartment, and take her out to the theater once in a while—you know, not just fight against her influence all the time. Don't you think that's the best way, Lou?"

Mother can keep at you . .. . However, I've got to take my stand. I've got to. And I know all the difficulties. All of them." He pressed his lips together. "I'm afraid we'll have to go through some quarrels. If I were surer of my own nerves, it would be easier. But I've got to take my stand, no matter what it comes to. I realize that she has driven me into this inferiority complex. All my life she's been at it. She's so dominant—and so persistent. She knows just where my most sensitive nerves are, and how to play on them. She doesn't mean to be unkind. It's more like a blind instinct. I know. But I've got to see that no matter what happens, even if it kills her,"—he drew in his breath with a nervous shudder—"I've got to see it through. And I've got to try to be kind to her. I've thought of some things I can do. Have flowers in the apartment, and take her out to the theater once in a while—you know, not just fight against her influence all the time. Don't you think that's the best way, Lou?"

She, clasping her hands before her on the table, considering him, found her eyes filling. She contrived to say: "Yes, Wilbur, you're right. You're taking the only fine course. It'll be hard, but I'm afraid there's no easy way out."

On Children's Day free tickets, good for admission to the grounds during the day and to the grounds and paddock for the night show, will be honored when presented by children of grade school age, who must be accompanied by an adult to look after them.

These tickets will be distributed through the schools in the Wheeling district, but may be secured for children of grade school age anywhere in the tri-state region of West Virginia, Ohio, and Pennsylvania by their parents writing to Secretary Bert H. ## Marked Decrease is Shown in Number of Women Physicians

"Contrary to popular notion, there is a marked decrease in the number of women taking up the study of medicine," Dr. Hanks said.

"There are some very definite reasons for this. First and foremost the economic problem. A family does not take kindly as a rule to sending a girl to a medical college. This means that if a woman wants to become a physician she must do it by her own efforts and earn her way through college.

"It's not so easy for a girl to earn her way through a medical course as a man."

Auto Death Record Soars

Twenty-four persons met violent deaths and scores were injured in Ohio over the week-end, a survey shows.

While a few drownings, the result of hundreds seeking relief from the heat wave, and one or two deaths from other causes occurred, most of the fatalities were attributable to automotive vehicles.

In Columbiana county, five persons were injured—an East Liverpool girl at Fredericktown and one Leetonia and three East Palestine men on the Lisbon-Leetonia road near Leetonia—all of them in motor car accidents.

Despite the price of their recklessness, automobile drivers persist in "stepping on the gas," speeding past street cars which are discharging or taking on passengers, and traveling over railroad and traction line crossings without paying attention to the common sense rules of safety.

And among the flagrant violators of state laws and city ordinances governing the operation of automobiles are many East Liverpool and Wellsville motorists who have converted the new inter-city highway into a speedway. On this new road there is no speed limit, judging from the antics of the maniacal drivers.

Fifteen car operators were arrested on the Wellsville end of the highway over Sunday, but so far none has been apprehended on the East Liverpool section. And scores of complaints of deliberate defiance of the law have been heard.

It is high time for action against the automobile speeder here. The old adage about "a stitch in time" should prompt a general round-up before the life of some pedestrian is exacted.

Camping Safety

Water is the main danger when touring. The wise family carries with it a large earthenware or thermos jug and fills it at safe places. City water is usually dependable. This is kept for drinking, and all other water is boiled before use.

Condensed or powdered milk is better for children than unreliable fresh milk. Have a look at the stable before buying milk at a roadside farm. It is all right to carry small supplies of staples, such as flour, corn meal, sugar, tea, cocoa, salt, etc., in a tight motor lunchbox, but fresh foods need air. They can go with the cooking utensils in a light, ventilated basket on long trips, or in an ice receptacle on short ones. It is best, anyhow, to buy small amounts and renew them frequently. Spoiled food is always a menace, at home or abroad.

Wool clothing is needed, and wool or corduroy knickers for everybody in the family are usually advisable around camp fires. Mosquitoes are far more dangerous than snakes, because there are so many more of them. Sometimes they endanger the health; always they endanger tempers and destroy peace.

So much for the safety provisions for the tourists themselves. Leaving the camp site as neat as the home kitchen is important for everybody else. It seems needless to say once more that fires must be thoroughly put out, but there are still people in the world who never seem to have heard this warning. And the family that wants a pleasant place to come to next year must set a good example to its fellow-tourists this trip.

Medical Fakes

The medical fakes of a few years ago mostly took the form of what were called patent medicines—warranted to cure anything, and containing, as a rule, water, flavoring, and just enough of a habit-forming drug to keep the patient buying more.

The present day style takes, quite often, the form of a "laboratory" which advertises that it will "awaken glands and nerves and give back the vigor of youth."

Light thrown by the medical world and the forces of publicity upon the cause and cure of tuberculosis has to a large extent deprived of their riotous gains those people who used to guaranteee "consumption cures." But face-lifters who will ruin what features you have got and leave you worse off than before, for large sums of good coin, are still rampant.

The U. S. government, according to Hygeia, has been closing the mails to great numbers of these swindlers, but other numbers are still operating, some of them managing to keep just under the law, others flouting it openly for the sake of getting what they can while the getting is good.

Asthma cannot be cured in four minutes—nor four weeks—no matter what the ads say. Pyorrhea is best attacked by a competent dentist.

It's curious what people will do to their precious internal workings because they are afraid of doctors or doctors' fees. Yet the doctor always costs less than the fake, and gives one a chance at health.

Protecting German Beauty

The Bavarian alderman who sought to levy a tax of $10 on every bobbed head in order that "the ideal of German womanly beauty be protected against the mutilation of modern fashions" deserved to have his motion lost.

Little does he know about women. If bobs are in style, taxes won't stop them. Any lassie who sees her favorite laddie casting glances at some other girl's bobbed head would think bobbing her own well worth the price.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 20.—Shopping is always an adventure in New York—whether you buy or not. I've returned from an exploration to carol the wonders although I didn't make a purchase. I beheld many things—from a cork monkey that climbs up a string to a $90,000 pearl necklace.

There was, for instance, a rubber night dress for mustaches which fits around the mustache, is attached to the ears and keeps the mustache in were sizes, ranging from the Ray meticulous shape over night. There Long to the Over-Niagara of Laurence D'Orsay.

For those who play "African golf" there was a tube of glycerine containing dice. Inverted, they strike prongs and roll over and over so that one may make his point. It is obvious they are made so devotees may play with strangers.

Everything appears monogrammed this year, and for a small sum one may purchase monograms in steel for hat bands, luggage, handbags, walking sticks and even shoes. There are also gold bands for wrist watches, fashioned with links of one's monogram.

Handkerchiefs have taken on unusual novelty effects. There are for the ladies those with tiny pockets containing a miniature powder puff. And for the men are those about four times the average size and of such soft texture they may be tucked in a watch pocket.

And a powder compact, fitting into the palm of the hand, that will hold a lipstick, mirror, puff, eyebrow pencil, cigaret lighter and on the reverse side a secret pocket for a cute miniature flask to hold perfume or something or other.

Also an automatic pencil with a perpetual calendar, barometer, collar buttoner, nail file and hidden scissors—retailing modestly at $47. And the inventor forgot the rubber eraser, goody! goody! For that price they ought to throw in a kiddie car.

I find unusual courtesy among sales folk. Even the clerk with the Burlington Arcade accent who showed me the $90,000 necklace looked me over and didn't roll on the floor in a gale of laughter. He told me they required only $40,000 down. I worshipped that "only." I wish I knew a good trade last for him, too.

It seems to me that despite snippishness found here and there the New York clerks are the most alert in the world. They are as quick, if the simile is pardonable, as a nanny-goat's tail. Rarely does a customer idle around before being waited upon. When a customer opens the door, clerks seem to leap at him.

Any many are diplomatists. They have a finesse in calming the ruffled. I was recently sold a pair of shoes entirely too small. I said so at the time. But I was talked out of it and after a torturous evening I found next morning my feet had swollen so I could not get them on. My bath was devoted to a rehearsal of cutting things I intended to say to him. After breakfast in high rage I visited the store. He disarmed me at once with a complimentary remark and was so gracious that after a few moments I apologized for having such big feet and departed.

Down in the stores in Chinatown a sale is never forced. In the largest store there you may wander about for hours without a clerk making a single suggestion. Everything is displayed. If you want an article you buy it. I may be a good system, but one notices that business down there is seldom rushing. In Division street, not so far away, the process is entirely different. Salesmen will often follow you for a block to make a sale, and what is more they usually make it. Or pull off your coat sleeve as a souvenir.

NOT AT ALL SINGULAR

An American journalist in poor health spent the summer of 1910 at a resort in Southern France. The proprietor was an English woman, and all of the other guests were English too. They were friendly and kind to the invalid—all excepting one very austere and haughty lady.

On his first day as a guest at the house he heard this lady say to the landlady:

"I distinctly understood that you did not admit Americans as lodgers here, and I wish to know why you have broken the rule."

The other woman explained that the stranger had come with good references and that he seemed a quiet, well-mannered person who handn't offered to scalp anybody and who knew how to eat with a knife and fork. Nevertheless the complaining matron was not at all pleased.

She took frequent opportunity of saying unkind things about the States and those who lived in the States. The sick American maintained a polite silence. Finally one day at the dinner table she addressed him with direct reference to a certain ghastly murder case which even after the lapse of eleven years will be remembered by the readers today.

"What do you Yankees think of your fellow-Yankee, Doctor Crippen?" she inquired.

"We think he's crazy," said the American.

"How singular!" said the lady, arching her eyebrows.

"Not at all," said the American. "He must have been crazy to kill an American woman in order to marry an English one."

Truth in Advertising Campaign.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 20.—A frank and vigorous campaign to secure truthful and accurate labeling of furniture for what it is, rather than what it may appear to be, has marked one of the important steps of the Federal Trade commission under the plan of operations which is now guiding the majority of that commission, and which is expected to develop similar campaigns in other basic trades and industries. Making public the names of 722 furniture manufacturers who have accepted the commission's rules about how furniture should be labelled, tagged, advertised, and sold, the commission has also made public a list of 68 firms which have declined to agree to the new rules.

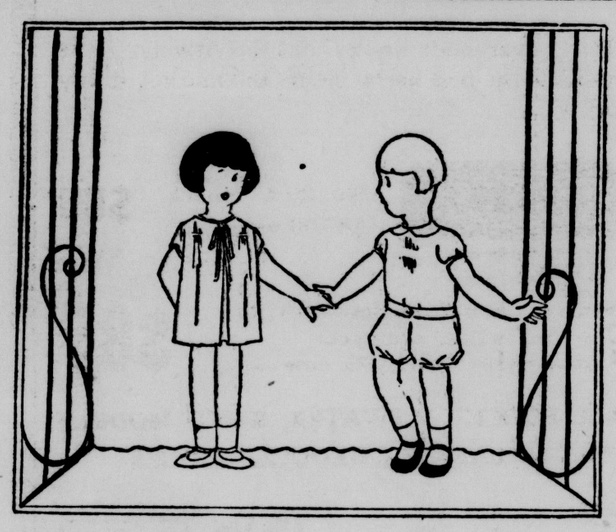

Together with this official publicity, the commission plainly adds, "All concerns, therefore, who continue to describe their products contrary to the rules, including those not describing their veneered furniture as such, will be investigated and complaints issued where the concern is engaged in interstate commerce."

This is a new method of procedure by the commission, and seems to mark out the line of duty which the majority now regards as its purpose in preventing unfair competition in trade. The announcement concerning the furniture rules is entirely devoid of any reference to trusts, big business, stifling competition, monopoly, or any of the other allegations against big industries which have marked much of the history of Federal Trade commission operations. It adheres closely to the letter of the law which created the commission, to deal with cases of unfair competition. Under the furniture ruling the commission says that mis-branding an article of furtniture is unfair competition with the firm which brands its furniture correctly. To determine what was correct and fair branding or labelling, and what was misleading or unfair, the commission held conferences with furniture manufacturers and dealers, and adopted a set of rules which the dealers themselves submitted. It then asked every manufacturer if he would abide by these rules. The answers to date were 722 yes and 68 no, and the commission has now warned the 68 that they will be forced to abide by the adopted rules, if the courts support the position of the commission.

This method of dealing with a whole industry in a public manner opens the way to other rule-making by the commission. It deals with what the majority of the commission thinks is Federal Trade commission business, namely the common practices of trade. The commission has recently been the scene of marked disagreements among its members about procedure.

Indians Recognize Friends As Circus Parade Passes

Hail Rev. R. G. Smith and Son, Prof. Kenneth M. Smith, of High School Faculty.

When the dozen or more members of the Musquakie Indians, with the Miller Brothers 101 Ranch Wild West Show, visited East Liverpool last Saturday they found at least three persons whom they knew.

They were: Rev. and Mrs. R. G. Smith, Indian missionary workers, and their son, Prof. Kenneth M. Smith, ceramics instructor in the local high school. Mr. and Mrs. Smith, who have been working among the 375 members of the Musquakie tribe at Tama, Iowa, for about 20 years, are visiting their son, Prof. Kenneth Smith, West Third street.

Mrs. Smith was witnessing the parade on Washington street when she recognized several of the Indians. She stepped to the curb and called them by their Indian names. They replied with a friendly salute. A little further along the parade route, Rev. Mr. Smith and his son, Kenneth, called to the Indians. Rev. Mr. Smith and his son were guests of the management of the show at the afternoon performance.

The Indians, according to Mrs. Smith, quit the government reservation about two months ago when the 101 Ranch Show was leaving its Oklahoma winter headquarters. Rev. Mr. Smith, in addition to his religious work among the Indians, is also at the head of a hospital for Indian tubercular patients conducted on the reservation.

Q. What is meant by the International Zone of Tangier? C. F. D.

A. The status of Tangier because of its strategic position at the entrance to the Mediterranean became an intimate concern of the foreign offices of France, Spain and Great Britain, in the years immediately following the World war. In July, 1923, a commission composed of French, Spanish and British experts met for the purpose of preparing a new agreement regarding this territory. The sittings were completed December 18, 1923. The provisional agreement as submitted to the governments of the countries represented contained the following provisions: The Tangier Zone, whose permanent neutrality was assured, was to continue as a part of Morocco under its own constitution. The municipality of Tangier was to be under both a committee of control and an international legislative assembly. The customs service was to be under the control of the international administration. Economic equality at the port was to be observed. No fortifications were to be erected. A protocol was signed July, 1925, by Great Britain, France and Spain providing for permanent neutrality, security and internationalization.

Q. Are honeys that are dark in color, stronger in taste? T. T.

A. Generally speaking, the darker honeys have richer flavor. Some light honeys, however, have pronounced characteristic flavors.

Q. What color should clothes be to be coolest in the summer time? L. W.

A. White is best, then gray, and yellow.

Q. What are rune stones? N. S.

A. They are stone or monuments on which are engraved runes — the earliest form of the Teutonic alphabet.

Q. Could the Sahara Desert be converted into an inland sea? B. M.

A. The Sahara is, generally speaking, a table-land 1,300 to 1,600 feet above sea level. This fact would interfere seriously with such a plan.

Q. Were there instances during our Civil war when troops were affected by scurvy? A. C. T.

A. It is estimated that at least 15 per cent of the deaths in the Civil war were caused by scurvy.

Q. How many men and women are

A. There are 334,326 men and 187,528 women enrolled.

Q. At what time of day are fires most frequent in New York city? G. A. N.

A. According to a report to the fire commissioner there were in 1925: 4,137 fires from 6 a. m. to noon; 7,886 fires from noon to 6 p. m.; from 6 p. m. to midnight, 7,709 fires, and from midnight to 6 a. m. 3,117 fires.

Q. How do airmen keep themselves warm when flying? C. R. F.

A. Aviators when flying in high altitudes wear electrically heated clothing, suits which are wired with batteries. These suits are also fur lined.

Q. Why does foam look white? W. A. C.

A. The fact that foam generally appears white is due to its being composed of tiny bubbles which reflect the light from their surfaces. When white light, such as sunlight, shines upon them, they therefore naturally appear white.

Q. Please name some famous bachelors of history. D. A. T.

A. Voltaire, Gibbon, Macauley, Cowper, Pope, Gray, Charles Lamb, Walter Pater, Swinburne, Beethoven, Leonardo da Vinci, Lord Kitchener, Cecil Rhodes, General Gordon, William Pitt, the younger, and Sir Isaac Newton.

Q. Please give the full name of Richthofen, and the way in which he was killed. E. M. S.

A. The full name of Baron von Richthofen was Manfred Albrecht, freiherr von Richthofen. He was born May 2, 1892. He was shot down on Sunday, April 21, 1918, during a combat in which several other German planes were engaged. His machine crashed and examination later showed that he had a bullet through his heart. It is difficult to say whether it came from ground fire or from British machines which were in pursuit.

Q. What were the highest and lowest voting percentages in presidential elections? W. R.

A. The highest voting percentage of eligible voters who cast their ballot as far as there is accurate record was in 1880 when the percentage was 84 per cent. The lowest was in 1920 when the number was 50.9 per cent. The lowest before the suffrage was granted to women was in 1912 with 62.8 per cent.

Q. How does the amount of caffeine in coca cola compare with the amount in coffee? G. B.

A. There are from .92 to 1.30 grams per fl. oz. of caffeine in coca cola. There is 1.24 per cent of caffeine in roasted coffee.

and to attack the aluminum business as being a trust, and to go in generally for trust-busting. The majority, led by Commissioner Will E. Humphrey, chairman, has adopted the general view that trust-busting is the business of the department of Justice, under the Sherman Law, and that the Federal Trade commission was designed to regulate trade practices in order to protect the public and the honest trader against unfair methods of competition.

Responsibility of Publications.

In addition to the furniture case, the commission just prior to the summer vacation period began looking into the question of fradulent advertising from a new angle, namely that of holding a publication responsible if it prints a fradulent advertisement. A test case is in preparation in which the commission plans to order a magazine to cease and desist from publishing a certain advertisement which the commission will allege is a fraud on its face.

Hitherto the defendant in such cases would be the advertiser, but some of the commissioners decided that the publisher was equally a party to the transaction if a brave purchased the fradulently advertised article in response to the advertisement. They also took into consideration that certain advertisers coming within the patent medicine group were very hard to reach. They could be forced to desist from one practice, and could change their name and start again from a new address. A publication, on the other hand, remains in one place, and what it printed remains a matter of record and is easily fixed with responsibility.

Hence the commission plans to order a publication to cease and desist from publishing a selected advertisement, and if it refuses the case will be taken to the Federal courts. In fairness to the parties concerned, no publicity will be given the case chosen until the publisher has a chance to answers, and to desist if he choses that course rather than a court contest.

This plan of the Federal Trade commission will be observed with interest by business everywhere, as it may open an entirely new agency for dealing with advertising. Hitherton the only Federal supervision of advertising has been the post office department, which can bar indecent matter from the mail, or bar the mail of any concern doing a fradulent business. The Post Office, however, has been somewhat handicapped in dealing with alleged frauds, as it has been obliged to gather much evidence to prove its case, to find an actual victim of the fraud, and in the case of a patent medicine, for example, to prove definitely that the medicine would not do what its manufacturers claimed for it in some statement sent through the mail.

Probable Procedure.

The Federal Trade commission has a much broader authority. It can issue a notice that it suspects unfair practice (any fraud being an unfair practice) and then issue a case and desist order and place the burden of proof, if the case is taken to court, at least partly on the defendant, who is obliged either to desist from what the commission says is unfair, or show cause why he should not be interferred with. If the commission succeeds in fixing upon a publication the responsibility for seeing that davertising which it prints is not franddulent, it will hold a much greater and more direct power than rests with the Post Office fraud orders.

A majority of publications of all sorts, and associations both of advertisers and of publishers and advertising agencies, have been striving for years to maintain a high standard of truth in advertising. They will probably welcome the assistance of the Federal Trade commission, although watching with some care to see whether the exercise of this new power, or newly asserted power, oversteps any of the constitutional guarantees of freedom of the press.

The furniture campaign will probably reach the Federal courts before the advertising case is acted upon. An association of furniture manufacturers at Grand Rapids, Michigan, objects to one of the new rules which says that a veneered furniture in which the basic wood is not of the same material as the veneered surface, must be labelled veneered. Thus much furniture hitherto labelled mahogany, or walnut, would have to be called mahogany veneered and walnut veneered.

The manufacturers in question do not contend that they want to mislead the buyer, but they think the word veneer is misunderstood by the public, and carries some stigma of cheapness or imitation quality. The commission has heard this question argued at length, and has declared flat-footedly that veneered shall be the term and that it must be used under the adopted rules. A test of the order will probably be made shortly in the Federal courts.

UNITED STATES TIRES ARE GOOD TIRES

Latex-treated Web Cord

An invention of the United States Rubber Company technicians. The cords are laid parallel without tie-threads, and soaked in virgin rubber Latex, which forms an elastic web through and through and between the cords. Important because it gives the cord structure maximum strength and maximum flexibility.

Answering Some Further Questions about Latex-treated Web Cord

NOTE—So great an interest has been shown in this new construction because of the service given by United States Royal Cord Tires on passenger cars and busses that a further explanation of this patented process has been suggested.

A—Yes. Until this process was developed by the United States Rubber Company, the use of Latex before it had been coagulated into crude rubber had never been used in tire building.

Q—Is the process patented?

A—Yes. The process is patented and owned by this Company.

Q—What are its advantages?

A—The tire engineer's ideal is a tire thin and flexible as a soap bubble and strong as steel. The more you can add to a tire's strength without increasing its weight the better.

Latex-treated Web Cord provides the strength and flexibility without adding unnecessary weight.

Q—Is it possible to make the cord structure of a tire too heavy?

A—Yes. Just as a cable made of many strands of fine and highly tempered wire can be stronger than a heavier iron bar, so the cord structure of a tire can be made strong, yet light and flexible, through this process.

Q—How does treating cords in Latex give additional strength?

A—Latex is virgin rubber just as it comes from the tree.

There are no chemicals in Latex to destroy the natural oils in the cotton or to weaken the cord fibre.

The cords are then laid side by side and drawn up over heated rollers which evaporate the water in the Latex, producing a rubberized fabric of cotton cords and pure rubber.

Each cord is impregnated and surrounded by rubber, and attached to its neighboring cord with an elastic rubber web.

Q—Are there any other advantages?

A—Yes. In the old cord fabric, the main strands in the cord structure were tied to each other with fine threads.

Latex-treated Web Cord has none of these cross-tie threads and this source of internal friction is therefore eliminated.

By looking inside of a Royal Cord Tire and comparing it with tires made of the old cord fabric you will see that the Royal Cord has a much smoother and evener appearance.

Indians Recognize Friends As Circus Parade Passes

Hail Rev. R. G. Smith and Son, Prof. Kenneth M. Smith, of High School Faculty.

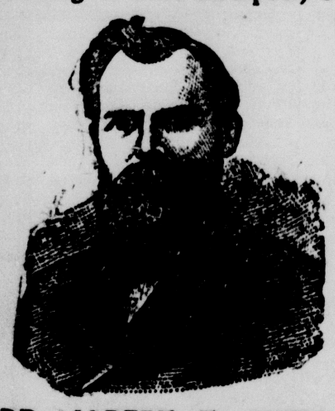

When the dozen or more members of the Musquakie Indians, with the Miller Brothers 101 Ranch Wild West Show, visited East Liverpool last Saturday they found at least three persons whom they knew.

They were: Rev. and Mrs. R. G. Smith, Indian missionary workers, and their son, Prof. Kenneth M. Smith, ceramics instructor in the local high school. Mr. and Mrs. Smith, who have been working among the 375 members of the Musquakie tribe at Tama, Iowa, for about 20 years, are visiting their son, Prof. Kenneth Smith, West Third street.

Mrs. Smith was witnessing the parade on Washington street when she recognized several of the Indians. She stepped to the curb and called them by their Indian names. They replied with a friendly salute. A little further along the parade route, Rev. Mr. Smith and his son, Kenneth, called to the Indians. Rev. Mr. Smith and his son were guests of the management of the show at the afternoon performance.

The Indians, according to Mrs. Smith, quit the government reservation about two months ago when the 101 Ranch Show was leaving its Oklahoma winter headquarters. Rev. Mr. Smith, in addition to his religious work among the Indians, is also at the head of a hospital for Indian tubercular patients conducted on the reservation.

Q. Has the Sesquicentennial a name that corresponds to the "White City" which housed the Columbian Exposition at Chicago? P. A. L.

A. The Philadelphia exposition is known as the "Rainbow City." The buildings are tinted in pastel shades laid on the stucco.

Q. Is it cruel to keep a dog muzzled? A. D.

A. The Bureau of Animal Industry says that it is no more severe to muzzle a dog than to use a horse with a steel bit in its mouth. Muzzling dogs through the summer causes an immediate decline in the number of cases of rabies.

Q. What does it cost to educate a cadet at West Point? F. S.

A. The War Department estimates the cost of putting a cadet through the United States Military Academy to be $10,000.

Q. When will the Oregon Trail coins be struck? G. M.

A. A design for this coin has not been accepted yet.

Q. Who are the members of an emperor's household? P. E. G.

A. They are too numerous to mention. The principal members are as follows: Aides, equerries, gentlemen in waiting, chamberlain, herald, master of the hunt, cup bearer, master of ceremonies, manager of the Royal Theatre, master of the horse, chef, gentlemen of the bed chamber, pages and superintendents of pages.

F. A. FENNING QUITS JOB AS COOLIDE ACTS

Commissioner of District of Columbia Resigns Place.

MOVE REQUESTED

Announcement is Made at Summer White House.

WHITE PINES CAMP, N. Y., July 20.—Frederick A. Fenning has resigned as commissioner of the District of Columbia at the formal request of President Coolidge.

He will step out of office in a few days and his successor will be named immediately.

The official statement was forthcoming today from the summer White House here.

It was revealed that Fenning's resignation actually has been in the hands of the attorney general since President Coolidge left Washington two weeks ago. Announcement of its receipt was withheld, however, as the president desired the commissioner to complete certain tasks before stepping out of office.

In behalf of President Coolidge it was stated that the executive had anticipated the resignation of Fenning as a result of the findings of the two house committees which had investigated the conduct of his office, but to make certain the executive had, just before departing on his summer vacation, made a formal request for it.

HURT IN WRECK, ASKS $25,000

Mrs. Ida Fox Sues Traction Company in County Court.

Mrs. Ida Fox, of this city, through her counsel, W. A. O'Grady, Wellsville, has filed an action in common pleas court at Lisbon, seeking $25,000 damages from the Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction company as the result of a collision between two Grandview street cars on August 8, 1924.

Mrs. Fox claims that she was a passenger on a north-bound Grandview car which was struck by a south-bound car at a switch just south of the Riverview cemetery entrance. She alleges that she was violently thrown to the floor and as a result received severe injuries to her spine and neck and also suffered from a nervous shock.

TODAY

THE distinguished and Rt. Rev. Dr. Manning, Episcopal bishop of New York, sailed last week for Europe, leaving this sensible message.

"No one that reads history can think that the world is growing worse."

He adds that the "jazz period," with the smoking and drinking among women, is fading away.

BISHOP MANNING in France will study the great cathedrals, and see in one of them huge stones dragged along the ground, mile after mile, by crowds of men, women and children, working for the glory of God and no other reward in the middle ages.

HE will see real cathedrals, built with a Christian enthusiasm that never sent a collector into Wall Street and never included a "sports feature" among its stained glass windows. And he will wish that his cathredal building activities had fallen in those ancient days of deeper faith.

THE 29 Mohammedan seamen of the British ship City of Newcastle, deserted at New York, camped on the dock and cooked their own food. They discovered that their cook was a Buddhist and they couldn't eat of his cooking because, as everybody should know, what a Buddhist touches is contaminated. They may take that less seriously when they reach England under a charge of mutiny. The belief of these ignorant seamen that the Lord of the universe is vitally interested in their food was common enough once.

fight to free the Hill district leader on a habeas corpus writ, and announced that he hoped to get a hearing for Psialias not later than Wednesday morning.

With each detail of Psialias' story carefully checked in the localities where he told police he had stopped on his trip to Warren, O., on the day of Mellett's death, police had a completely tabulated account of Psialias' movements to present to Lieut. Connors when he returned from a conference with officials at Canton.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, July 20.—Stocks of the motor companies absorbed most of the speculative interest in the stock market in the early trading today. Hudson Motors jumped into the spot light with a new 4 point gain in the first period but declined to 65, professional trading, chiefly the "squeezing of the shorts," was the most important factor in the market movements of this stock.

The financial district was pleased with the weekly report on brokers loans, issued after the close of business yesterday. It showed that there was no increase in speculative borrowing, despite the recent heavy turnover in stocks at higher price levels. The chaotic situation in the foreign exchanges spread to the Italian lira, which also reached a new low for the year, in company with the French franc, which today approximated 2 cents to the franc.

The stock market was unusually active for a mid-summer session, sales in the first hour approximating 525,000 shares. General Motors and United states steel were freely offered on profit taking and short selling, and prices declined nearly 2 points. But pool operations were resumed aggressively in Chrysler and Dodge Motor and in other stocks with which William C. Durant is reported to be identified.

The Copper stocks continued to move forward under the lead of Anaconda and American Smelting, while Baldwin led a moderate rally in the equipments and sold above 120 for the first time since March. A new fractional slump in the oils followed reports of 22,000 barrel increase in daily crude oil production and the prospect of a heavy flow in the newly discovered fields in Texas panhandle.

Call money was unchanged at 4 per cent.

PASTOR CALM AS HE AWAITS MURDER TRIAL

PLANS REVIVAL

Accused Cancels His Engagement in New York.

FORT WORTH, Tex., July 20.—While sentiment smouldered threateningly here today for and against the Rev. Frank Norris, who killed B. E. Chipps, Fort Worth lumberman, during a bitter quarrel, the pastor slayer calmly announced plans for a mammoth revival service.

Rev. Mr. Norris announced he has cancelled an engagement in New York for next week because he wished "to remain with my congregation this summer and inaugurate one of the biggest revivals I have yet attempted," he said.

Kary Crowley, Fort Worth manager for Lynch Davidson, gubernatorial candidate, today was drawn into the grand jury investigation of the killing.

He, with 12 others, was summoned to appear before the jury, although District Attorney R. K. Hanger refused to indicate what connection Crowley might have with the affair.

Unofficially, Portsmouth reported 99.

Chicago Death Toll 12.

CHICAGO, July 20.—Refreshing breezes from Lake Michigan brought a measure of relief to sweltering Chicago today. The government weather bureau promised no other respite from the high temperatures that scorched the city yesterday and exacted a toll of 12 lives.

The heat wave is general from the Rocky mountain states to the Atlantic seaboard. The middle west suffered most. Temperatures of 100 degrees or more were recorded in a number of places. Chicago reached a maximum of 94.2 at 4:30 yesterday afternoon, the hottest July 19 on record.

Deaths by States.

Known dead, due to the heat and accompanying storms, in the states over which the torrid wave has settled, totalled 35 at 6 o'clock this morning. Scores of persons are prostrated. States reported as follows:

No Tangible Clues

Check Up Hotel Clerk's Story.

This morning he declared that he "was through quizzing" members of the underworld. With the police department practically ignored as participants in the probe, the chief seemed not unwilling to get the department working "on normal cases again."

It is possible, however, that Slater may go to Warren today to check up on the story told by George Psialias, alias "George, the Greek," and on the story told by the clerk of the Lincoln hotel there to Lieut. Connor, of the Pittsburgh homicide squad, on his visit there last night.

The clerk is said to have admitted that he registered for Psialias on last Friday morning, or rather—"about midnight." Garage attendants were said to have told Connor that Psialias' automobile was not placed in a Warren garage until about 1 o'clock Friday morning.

It was not learned, according to an announcement early today, whether the clerk had registered while Psialias was present, or if he had been previously told to place the Pittsburg man's name on the register. If the habeas corpus action being started in Pittsburgh by Psialias' attorney proves successful, County Prosecutor C. B. McClintock will start counter action to have him held until Slater can check up on the Warren angle, McClintock said today.

Mysterious Telephone Call.

Possibility that a person other than the foreign-speaking man who warned Don Mellett on the Sunday before the crime that death was approaching might have had some knowledge of the murder was revealed here today, when it was learned that a mysterious call for the slain editor was received by Earl Shaeffer, composing room foreman on the Canton News within 45 minutes before Mellett was brutally murdered.

"The call came in about 11:30 o'clock on Thursday night," Shaeffer declared.

"No," I replied.

"Where does he live?"

"On Tuscarawas street. What do you want of him?" Shaeffer asked the mysterious caller.

"I've an important message for him, please get me his telephone number and his exact address," the voice pleaded.

Caller Slams Up Receiver.

Shaeffer said that he got Mellett's address and telephone number and gave it to the "caller" over the phone.

"When I asked him 'who was talking' he slammed up the receiver," Shaeffer added.

Although it is possible that this last mysterious telephone conversation might have been in reference to some of the battles that Mellett was waging on the underworld and the police department, it is thought significant by some because it came less than an hour before the publisher met his death.

The eyes of many of the probers were turned toward Pittsburgh, Warren, Massillon, Cleveland, and other cities in the belief that the solution of the crime might be found in these cities.

But Ora Slater, hired by the county to take charge of the search, declared this morning, after a full night's work, that he "really had no more to work on now than yesterday morning."

Slater also let it be known that his work would "keep him in Canton today," which might indicate that the wily Cincinnati detective thought that the killers or an important lead might be found in Canton.

Chief of Police S. A. Lengel maintains in a rather solitary manner that the killers of Mellett and those back of the killing will never be found in Canton.

Donahey Summons Detective.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 20.—John D. Cleary, head of a Columbus, O., detective agency, today was summoned by Governor Donahey of Ohio to join the investigation of the murder of Dan Mellett, Canton newspaper publisher.

Cleary, who was here attending the convention of the International Secret Service association, said he had received a telegram asking him to meet the governor in Philadelphia. From there he expects to start actively on the trail of the slayer.

CROWD ATTENDS BIG CARNIVAL

Patterson Field is Thronged at Opening of West Shows.

A crowd thronged Patterson Field last night to attend the grand opening of the West's Wonder Shows, filling a week's engagement here under the joint auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Spanish-American War Veterans.

Every attraction of the 25-car organization was ready for the opening. The company presents a dozen shows, 10 riding devices and about two-score concessions.

The midway, with its thousands of electric lights, was a dazzling spectacle last night. The show is conspicuous by the absence of the usual objectionable features which are associated with many carnival companies.

A children's matinee will be given between 2 and 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. A five-cent admission fee will be charged for all shows and rides.

The show will operate every evening this week.

BRADLEY BURNS IS FINED $10

Pleading guilty to a charge of speeding, Bradley Burns was fined $10 and costs by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley, this morning. Burns was arrested by Patrolman Roth and McFarland along the River Road last night while traveling at a rate estimated by the police at between 40 and 50 miles an hour. His fine was paid.

CANTON CRIME PROMPTS CLEAN-UP OF UNDERWORLD IN CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, O., July 20.—Declaring that the crime situation at Canton was a "warning example," Safety Director Barry today ordered a wholesale cleanup of Cleveland's underworld.

"I am going to rid the city of all undesirable characters and gunmen," Barry announced.

"I am issuing herewith an open ultimatum to the underworld leaders of Cleveland to come in and tell what they know about the Mellett case or we will use coercion," Barry said.

The safety director said that his men were making a roundup of all police characters who will be quizzed for any information regarding the shooting of Don Mellett, Canton publisher.

Cincinnati Launches Fresh Attack Against Underworld

Grand Jury Called to Investigate Alleged Race Track Gambling and Handbook Making.

CINCINNATI, O., July 20.—An offensive against the Cincinnati and Hamilton county underworld and general vice conditions launched with the impaneling of a grand jury to investigate alleged race track gambling and handbook making, has been intensified since the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher.

The special grand jury is still in session. County Prosecutor Charles S. Bell, Sheriff Richard B. Witt and a representative of Attorney General Crabbe were to meet today to determine whether or not they will allow the Coney Island racing program to open Thursday or delay it until the grand jury has made a report.

It is expected these authorities would either keep the entire racing plant closed or issue orders against any gambling that may have been contemplated with the opening of the season.

The probe was launched in connection with the operations of alleged "bookies" working with horses running on tracks already open in Kentucky, Ohio, and other states.

Cincinnati police and federal prohibition officers also were bending every effort toward a general roundup. So far the results have consisted in the arrest only of an occasional white underworld character on minor charges, and of negroes on liquor charges.

PLOT TO ASSASSINATE PUBLISHER WAS NOT HATCHED IN OHIO PRISON

Warden Thomas, Denying Investigation, Expresses Belief Inmates Know Nothing of Cowardly Killing.

COLUMBUS, July 20.—"The plot to assassinate Don Mellett was not hatched behind the walls of the Ohio state penitentiary. Prisoners sent here from Canton have not been receiving visitors, and no communications have been passed through. We have questioned one of our prisoners, a man from Canton's underworld, as to who were the higher-ups, but learned little. He knew nothing," was the statement of Warden P. E. Thomas here today.

Warden Thomas declared no investigation is being made in the prison, and expressed belief that inmates knew nothing of a plot, if there was one.

"Mellett's murder was deplorable and the murderer or murderers would be welcome guests here," he added.

Bandit Whittemore Will be Hanged on Thursday Aug. 12

BALTIMORE, Md., July 20.—Richard Reese Whittemore, the "Candy Kid" bandit, will not die on Friday, the thirteenth.

Instead, he will be hanged until dead at 11:30 p. m. on Thursday, August 12, at Maryland penitentiary.

Warden Brady today sent out the first batch of tickets to witness the hanging. He shoved the time ahead half an hour. Governor Ritchie had set the date as August 13. The warden was privileged to make the change.

Eighteen tickets will be issued. The first five went to the Baltimore newspapers.

Whittemore was convicted of the murder of Robert H. Holtman, prison guard. He carried an appeal to the state's highest court at Annapolis, but lost. He has told prison officers he wanted "to get the thing done quickly, the quicker the better."

Death Twice Visits Ohio Home Within Past Two Days

COLUMBUS, July 20.—Death twice visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Chauncey Rader, on West Second avenue, here within the past two days, and today arrangements were being made for a double funeral service.

The father, 32 years old, and his "buddy," Robert Chauncey, aged 6, were the victims.

Apoplexy coming as the father sat beside the bed of his ill son, brought death first on Sunday night. The child suffered a relapse as his father was carried from the room, and early today his little soul took flight. Today they lay side by side in the once happy little home, while "Mother" Rader and sister, Jean Anna, aged 4, wept.

Tomorrow afternoon the mother and her daughter will accompany the two bodies to Bloomfield, Ohio, where they will lay to rest their husband-father and son-brother.

Boy is Gunshot Victim.

VAN WERT, O., July 20.—Torrence Andley, 11, died in a hospital here of a gunshot wound accidentally inflicted by a boy companion.

Lengel Condemns "Fags" When Asked About Death Plot

CANTON, July 20.—Chief of Police S. A. Lengel today was perhaps the least perturbed of all persons who are centering their efforts toward the solution of the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton's crusading editor.

Shoving his hat back on the top of his head so that it revealed a mop of coarse gray hair, the chief, who was the target for every charge that the unfortunate publisher hurled at the police department, seemed more prone to condemn cigarettes than to talk of the murder episode.

"Naw, I don't smoke cigarettes," he declared when a newspaper man offered him one.

"I never smoked them but once—that was at the world's fair in Chicago. People thought that a cigarette smoker was a 'tough egg' in those days. I bought a whole package and smoked 'em while I wuz walkin' down Clark street just to keep the beggars away."

LIFE SAVING LESSONS GIVEN

C. W. Robbins on Job at Y. M. C. A. Pool.

Three demonstrations in life saving were given by C. W. Robbins, American Red Cross life saving expert, in his first day's visit in East Liverpool yesterday.

Robbins met the junior boys in the Y. M. C. A. pool at 2:30 o'clock, the intermediates at 7 p. m. and the seniors at 8 p. m. The attendance at the two boys' classes were unusually gratifying, according to Mr. Robbins.

The first day's work consisted of the carries to bring him ashore, drill in prone pressure of resuscitation, methods of restoring the apparently dead and also the method of surface diving for recovering a body from the bottom.

Those who attended yesterday's were:

Intermediates—Paul Cooper, James Wildblood, Alfred Earl, Robert Earl, James Hall, Edwin Bloor, Lester Smith, Lorin Howard, Allen Todd, John Mann and Ralph Jones.

Seniors—W. E. Kaiser, Albert Manton and Daniel Richards.

Robbins conducted classes for the elementaries this morning. At 2 o'clock this afternoon he was scheduled to visit the juniors, at 4 the intermediates and at 8 o'clock tonight will conduct another life saving class for seniors.

Tomorrow he will talk to firemen at the Central station, visit Camp Pine Ridge and Rock Springs parx where he will give life saving instruction. He will also meet with classes of girls and women at the Y. M. C. A. in the afternoon.

Oil Company Scout Dies, Friend Hurt In Airplane Crash

ARDMORE, Okla., July 20.—Details are still lacking today on the wreck of an airplane which fell east of here late yesterday, killing Fred Parks, scout for the Sinclair Oil company, and seriously injuring Walter Critchlow, prominent independent oil operator, who were flying the plane.

BRICK HISTORY ROTARY TOPIC

Ohio Valley Pioneer in Industry, Says Anthony Koehler.

The Ohio Valley was a pioneer in the manufacture of firebrick, Anthony Koehler, superintendent of the East Liverpool works of the Babcock, Wilcox company, told Rotarians at the weekly meeting of the club in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. at noon today. His subject was "The Manufacture and Prospects of Refractory Brick."

The first fire clay brick works west of the Allegheny mountains was established in what is now Wellsville in about 1842, Koehler declared. A second plant was erected a year or two later at Hammondsville. Clay, used in the manufacture of these brick taken from the hills in this section, was found to be the best for brick making purposes and soon other plants were established along the river front, he said.

Koehler was introduced by Malcolm W. Thompson, who presided. The chorus singing was led by Dr. Colin F. Kinsey with Mrs. Danks Cochran as the accompanist.

Frank L. Wells, who attended the annual convention of Rotary International held at Denver in June, made a brief report of the meeting. Wells, who was accompanied by his wife, made a pleasure visit to the Pacific coast after the convention, returning to their home in Wellsville a few days ago.

T. S. Brush, general manager of The Review-Tribune, will be chairman of next week's meeting. Mr. Brush will show members of the club through The Review-Tribune plant, Washington street.

Urges Moratorium

or "Yanqui," is particularly rife among the working classes who are told at every opportunity by street orators and newspaper editorials that the United States is responsible for all their ills, particularly the waning purchasing power of the franc.

Throughout the Latin quarter American tourists have been having trouble with quarrelsome and argumentative natives. Most of these runins, while not serious, do much to mar the pleasure of the visit to Paris.

Quest for American Dollar.

Agents for the large steamship companies reported that the July bookings on the American-bound steamers were unusually heavy, in some cases record-breaking. The homeward rush does not usually start until August. The premature rush was attributed in part to the anti-American feeling in France today.

Aggravating the situation is the declining value of the franc. Frenchmen have lost confidence in their own currency and are beseeching their American friends to sell them dollars. Storekeepers invariably suggest to their customers that they prefer payments in dollars or pounds at the rate of exchange current.

Apartment houses concierges, waiters and others are asking that their tips be given in American money.

Signs in Luxury Shops.

Small luxury shops in the downtown district have placed signs on their counters, both in English and French saying:

"Because of the exchange rate, prices have been increased 25 per cent.'

Ford automobiles have been boosted 20 per cent. The American Express company and other tourist agencies declined to quote prices of tours in francs, insisting on payment on the basis of the dollar or pound sterling, depending upon the nationality of the tourist.

Extra police have been called out to maintain order.

Italian Currency Declines.

NEW YORK, July 20.—Reflecting the heavy selling of francs and lire in the European markets today, the French and Italian currencies declined to new low levels at the opening of the American exchange.

French francs sustained a new decline of 11 points and were quoted at 2.03½ for demand and 2.04 (cents to the franc) for cables.

The Italian lire slumped 14 points to a new low at 3.19 cents for demand, while the Belgian franc declined 8½ points to 2.18½ cents. Dutch, Scandinavian and British exchanges were firm at the opening.

F. A. FENNING QUITS JOB AS COOLIDE ACTS

Commissioner of District of Columbia Resigns Place.

MOVE REQUESTED

Announcement is Made at Summer White House.

WHITE PINES CAMP, N. Y., July 20.—Frederick A. Fenning has resigned as commissioner of the District of Columbia at the formal request of President Coolidge.

He will step out of office in a few days and his successor will be named immediately.

The official statement was forthcoming today from the summer White House here.

It was revealed that Fenning's resignation actually has been in the hands of the attorney general since President Coolidge left Washington two weeks ago. Announcement of its receipt was withheld, however, as the president desired the commissioner to complete certain tasks before stepping out of office.

In behalf of President Coolidge it was stated that the executive had anticipated the resignation of Fenning as a result of the findings of the two house committees which had investigated the conduct of his office, but to make certain the executive had, just before departing on his summer vacation, made a formal request for it.

HURT IN WRECK, ASKS $25,000

Mrs. Ida Fox Sues Traction Company in County Court.

Mrs. Ida Fox, of this city, through her counsel, W. A. O'Grady, Wellsville, has filed an action in common pleas court at Lisbon, seeking $25,000 damages from the Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction company as the result of a collision between two Grandview street cars on August 8, 1924.

Mrs. Fox claims that she was a passenger on a north-bound Grandview car which was struck by a south-bound car at a switch just south of the Riverview cemetery entrance. She alleges that she was violently thrown to the floor and as a result received severe injuries to her spine and neck and also suffered from a nervous shock.

THE distinguished and Rt. Rev. Dr. Manning, Episcopal bishop of New York, sailed last week for Europe, leaving this sensible message.

"No one that reads history can think that the world is growing worse."

He adds that the "jazz period," with the smoking and drinking among women, is fading away.

BISHOP MANNING in France will study the great cathedrals, and see in one of them huge stones dragged along the ground, mile after mile, by crowds of men, women and children, working for the glory of God and no other reward in the middle ages.

HE will see real cathedrals, built with a Christian enthusiasm that never sent a collector into Wall Street and never included a "sports feature" among its stained glass windows. And he will wish that his cathredal building activities had fallen in those ancient days of deeper faith.

THE 29 Mohammedan seamen of the British ship City of Newcastle, deserted at New York, camped on the dock and cooked their own food. They discovered that their cook was a Buddhist and they couldn't eat of his cooking because, as everybody should know, what a Buddhist touches is contaminated. They may take that less seriously when they reach England under a charge of mutiny. The belief of these ignorant seamen that the Lord of the universe is vitally interested in their food was common enough once.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, July 20.—Stocks of the motor companies absorbed most of the speculative interest in the stock market in the early trading today. Hudson Motors jumped into the spot light with a new 4 point gain in the first period but declined to 65, professional trading, chiefly the "squeezing of the shorts," was the most important factor in the market movements of this stock.

The financial district was pleased with the weekly report on brokers loans, issued after the close of business yesterday. It showed that there was no increase in speculative borrowing, despite the recent heavy turnover in stocks at higher price levels. The chaotic situation in the foreign exchanges spread to the Italian lira, which also reached a new low for the year, in company with the French franc, which today approximated 2 cents to the franc.

The stock market was unusually active for a mid-summer session, sales in the first hour approximating 525,000 shares. General Motors and United states steel were freely offered on profit taking and short selling, and prices declined nearly 2 points. But pool operations were resumed aggressively in Chrysler and Dodge Motor and in other stocks with which William C. Durant is reported to be identified.

The Copper stocks continued to move forward under the lead of Anaconda and American Smelting, while Baldwin led a moderate rally in the equipments and sold above 120 for the first time since March. A new fractional slump in the oils followed reports of 22,000 barrel increase in daily crude oil production and the prospect of a heavy flow in the newly discovered fields in Texas panhandle.

Call money was unchanged at 4 per cent.

Accused Cancels His Engagement in New York.

FORT WORTH, Tex., July 20.—While sentiment smouldered threateningly here today for and against the Rev. Frank Norris, who killed B. E. Chipps, Fort Worth lumberman, during a bitter quarrel, the pastor slayer calmly announced plans for a mammoth revival service.

Rev. Mr. Norris announced he has cancelled an engagement in New York for next week because he wished "to remain with my congregation this summer and inaugurate one of the biggest revivals I have yet attempted," he said.

Kary Crowley, Fort Worth manager for Lynch Davidson, gubernatorial candidate, today was drawn into the grand jury investigation of the killing.

He, with 12 others, was summoned to appear before the jury, although District Attorney R. K. Hanger refused to indicate what connection Crowley might have with the affair.

Unofficially, Portsmouth reported 99.

Chicago Death Toll 12.

CHICAGO, July 20.—Refreshing breezes from Lake Michigan brought a measure of relief to sweltering Chicago today. The government weather bureau promised no other respite from the high temperatures that scorched the city yesterday and exacted a toll of 12 lives.

The heat wave is general from the Rocky mountain states to the Atlantic seaboard. The middle west suffered most. Temperatures of 100 degrees or more were recorded in a number of places. Chicago reached a maximum of 94.2 at 4:30 yesterday afternoon, the hottest July 19 on record.

Deaths by States.

Known dead, due to the heat and accompanying storms, in the states over which the torrid wave has settled, totalled 35 at 6 o'clock this morning. Scores of persons are prostrated. States reported as follows:

No Tangible Clues

Check Up Hotel Clerk's Story.

This morning he declared that he "was through quizzing" members of the underworld. With the police department practically ignored as participants in the probe, the chief seemed not unwilling to get the department working "on normal cases again."

It is possible, however, that Slater may go to Warren today to check up on the story told by George Psialias, alias "George, the Greek," and on the story told by the clerk of the Lincoln hotel there to Lieut. Connor, of the Pittsburgh homicide squad, on his visit there last night.

The clerk is said to have admitted that he registered for Psialias on last Friday morning, or rather—"about midnight." Garage attendants were said to have told Connor that Psialias' automobile was not placed in a Warren garage until about 1 o'clock Friday morning.

It was not learned, according to an announcement early today, whether the clerk had registered while Psialias was present, or if he had been previously told to place the Pittsburg man's name on the register. If the habeas corpus action being started in Pittsburgh by Psialias' attorney proves successful, County Prosecutor C. B. McClintock will start counter action to have him held until Slater can check up on the Warren angle, McClintock said today.

Mysterious Telephone Call.

Possibility that a person other than the foreign-speaking man who warned Don Mellett on the Sunday before the crime that death was approaching might have had some knowledge of the murder was revealed here today, when it was learned that a mysterious call for the slain editor was received by Earl Shaeffer, composing room foreman on the Canton News within 45 minutes before Mellett was brutally murdered.

"The call came in about 11:30 o'clock on Thursday night," Shaeffer declared.

"No," I replied.

"Where does he live?"

"On Tuscarawas street. What do you want of him?" Shaeffer asked the mysterious caller.

Caller Slams Up Receiver.

Shaeffer said that he got Mellett's address and telephone number and gave it to the "caller" over the phone.

"When I asked him 'who was talking' he slammed up the receiver," Shaeffer added.

Although it is possible that this last mysterious telephone conversation might have been in reference to some of the battles that Mellett was waging on the underworld and the police department, it is thought significant by some because it came less than an hour before the publisher met his death.

The eyes of many of the probers were turned toward Pittsburgh, Warren, Massillon, Cleveland, and other cities in the belief that the solution of the crime might be found in these cities.

But Ora Slater, hired by the county to take charge of the search, declared this morning, after a full night's work, that he "really had no more to work on now than yesterday morning."

Slater also let it be known that his work would "keep him in Canton today," which might indicate that the wily Cincinnati detective thought that the killers or an important lead might be found in Canton.

Chief of Police S. A. Lengel maintains in a rather solitary manner that the killers of Mellett and those back of the killing will never be found in Canton.

Donahey Summons Detective.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 20.—John D. Cleary, head of a Columbus, O., detective agency, today was summoned by Governor Donahey of Ohio to join the investigation of the murder of Dan Mellett, Canton newspaper publisher.

Cleary, who was here attending the convention of the International Secret Service association, said he had received a telegram asking him to meet the governor in Philadelphia. From there he expects to start actively on the trail of the slayer.

CROWD ATTENDS BIG CARNIVAL

Patterson Field is Thronged at Opening of West Shows.

A crowd thronged Patterson Field last night to attend the grand opening of the West's Wonder Shows, filling a week's engagement here under the joint auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Spanish-American War Veterans.

Every attraction of the 25-car organization was ready for the opening. The company presents a dozen shows, 10 riding devices and about two-score concessions.

The midway, with its thousands of electric lights, was a dazzling spectacle last night. The show is conspicuous by the absence of the usual objectionable features which are associated with many carnival companies.

A children's matinee will be given between 2 and 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. A five-cent admission fee will be charged for all shows and rides.

The show will operate every evening this week.

BRADLEY BURNS IS FINED $10

Pleading guilty to a charge of speeding, Bradley Burns was fined $10 and costs by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley, this morning. Burns was arrested by Patrolman Roth and McFarland along the River Road last night while traveling at a rate estimated by the police at between 40 and 50 miles an hour. His fine was paid.

CANTON CRIME PROMPTS CLEAN-UP OF UNDERWORLD IN CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, O., July 20.—Declaring that the crime situation at Canton was a "warning example," Safety Director Barry today ordered a wholesale cleanup of Cleveland's underworld.

"I am going to rid the city of all undesirable characters and gunmen," Barry announced.

"I am issuing herewith an open ultimatum to the underworld leaders of Cleveland to come in and tell what they know about the Mellett case or we will use coercion," Barry said.

The safety director said that his men were making a roundup of all police characters who will be quizzed for any information regarding the shooting of Don Mellett, Canton publisher.

Cincinnati Launches Fresh Attack Against Underworld

Grand Jury Called to Investigate Alleged Race Track Gambling and Handbook Making.

CINCINNATI, O., July 20.—An offensive against the Cincinnati and Hamilton county underworld and general vice conditions launched with the impaneling of a grand jury to investigate alleged race track gambling and handbook making, has been intensified since the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher.

The special grand jury is still in session. County Prosecutor Charles S. Bell, Sheriff Richard B. Witt and a representative of Attorney General Crabbe were to meet today to determine whether or not they will allow the Coney Island racing program to open Thursday or delay it until the grand jury has made a report.

It is expected these authorities would either keep the entire racing plant closed or issue orders against any gambling that may have been contemplated with the opening of the season.

The probe was launched in connection with the operations of alleged "bookies" working with horses running on tracks already open in Kentucky, Ohio, and other states.

Cincinnati police and federal prohibition officers also were bending every effort toward a general round-up. So far the results have consisted in the arrest only of an occasional white underworld character on minor charges, and of negroes on liquor charges.

PLOT TO ASSASSINATE PUBLISHER WAS NOT HATCHED IN OHIO PRISON

Warden Thomas, Denying Investigation, Expresses Belief Inmates Know Nothing of Cowardly Killing.

COLUMBUS, July 20.—"The plot to assassinate Don Mellett was not hatched behind the walls of the Ohio state penitentiary. Prisoners sent here from Canton have not been receiving visitors, and no communications have been passed through. We have questioned one of our prisoners, a man from Canton's underworld, as to who were the higher-ups, but learned little. He knew nothing," was the statement of Warden P. E. Thomas here today.

Warden Thomas declared no investigation is being made in the prison, and expressed belief that inmates knew nothing of a plot, if there was one.

"Mellett's murder was deplorable and the murderer or murderers would be welcome guests here," he added.

Bandit Whittemore Will be Hanged on Thursday Aug. 12

BALTIMORE, Md., July 20.—Richard Reese Whittemore, the "Candy Kid" bandit, will not die on Friday, the thirteenth.

Instead, he will be hanged until dead at 11:30 p. m. on Thursday, August 12, at Maryland penitentiary.

Warden Brady today sent out the first batch of tickets to witness the hanging. He shoved the time ahead half an hour. Governor Ritchie had set the date as August 13. The warden was privileged to make the change.

Eighteen tickets will be issued. The first five went to the Baltimore newspapers.

Whittemore was convicted of the murder of Robert H. Holtman, prison guard. He carried an appeal to the state's highest court at Annapolis, but lost. He has told prison officers he wanted "to get the thing done quickly, the quicker the better."

Death Twice Visits Ohio Home Within Past Two Days

COLUMBUS, July 20.—Death twice visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Chauncey Rader, on West Second avenue, here within the past two days, and today arrangements were being made for a double funeral service.

The father, 32 years old, and his "buddy," Robert Chauncey, aged 6, were the victims.

Apoplexy coming as the father sat beside the bed of his ill son, brought death first on Sunday night. The child suffered a relapse as his father was carried from the room, and early today his little soul took flight. Today they lay side by side in the once happy little home, while "Mother" Rader and sister, Jean Anna, aged 4, wept.

Tomorrow afternoon the mother and her daughter will accompany the two bodies to Bloomfield, Ohio, where they will lay to rest their husband-father and son-brother.

Boy is Gunshot Victim.

VAN WERT, O., July 20.—Torrence Andley, 11, died in a hospital here of a gunshot wound accidentally inflicted by a boy companion.

Lengel Condemns "Fags" When Asked About Death Plot

CANTON, July 20.—Chief of Police S. A. Lengel today was perhaps the least perturbed of all persons who are centering their efforts toward the solution of the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton's crusading editor.

Shoving his hat back on the top of his head so that it revealed a mop of coarse gray hair, the chief, who was the target for every charge that the unfortunate publisher hurled at the police department, seemed more prone to condemn cigarettes than to talk of the murder episode.

"Naw, I don't smoke cigarettes," he declared when a newspaper man offered him one.

"I never smoked them but once—that was at the world's fair in Chicago. People thought that a cigarette smoker was a 'tough egg' in those days. I bought a whole package and smoked 'em while I wuz walkin' down Clark street just to keep the beggars away."

LIFE SAVING LESSONS GIVEN

Oil Company Scout Dies, Friend Hurt In Airplane Crash

ARDMORE, Okla., July 20.—Details are still lacking today on the wreck of an airplane which fell east of here late yesterday, killing Fred Parks, scout for the Sinclair Oil company, and seriously injuring Walter Critchlow, prominent independent oil operator, who were flying the plane.

BRICK HISTORY ROTARY TOPIC

Ohio Valley Pioneer in Industry, Says Anthony Koehler.

The Ohio Valley was a pioneer in the manufacture of firebrick, Anthony Koehler, superintendent of the East Liverpool works of the Babcock-Wilcox company, told Rotarians at the weekly meeting of the club in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. at noon today. His subject was "The Manufacture and Prospects of Refractory Brick."

The first fire clay brick works west of the Allegheny mountains was established in what is now Wellsville in about 1842, Koehler declared. A second plant was erected a year or two later at Hammondsville. Clay, used in the manufacture of these brick taken from the hills in this section, was found to be the best for brick making purposes and soon other plants were established along the river front, he said.

Koehler was introduced by Malcolm W. Thompson, who presided. The chorus singing was led by Dr. Colin F. Kinsey with Mrs. Danks Cochran as the accompanist.

Frank L. Wells, who attended the annual convention of Rotary International held at Denver in June, made a brief report of the meeting. Wells, who was accompanied by his wife, made a pleasure visit to the Pacific coast after the convention, returning to their home in Wellsville a few days ago.

T. S. Brush, general manager of The Review-Tribune, will be chairman of next week's meeting. Mr. Brush will show members of the club through The Review-Tribune plant, Washington street.

Urges Moratorium

or "Yanqui," is particularly rife among the working classes who are told at every opportunity by street orators and newspaper editorials that the United States is responsible for all their ills, particularly the waning purchasing power of the franc.

Throughout the Latin quarter American tourists have been having trouble with quarrelsome and argumentative natives. Most of these runins, while not serious, do much to mar the pleasure of the visit to Paris.

Quest for American Dollar.

Agents for the large steamship companies reported that the July bookings on the American-bound steamers were unusually heavy, in some cases record-breaking. The homeward rush does not usually start until August. The premature rush was attributed in part to the anti-American feeling in France today.

Aggravating the situation is the declining value of the franc. Frenchmen have lost confidence in their own currency and are beseeching their American friends to sell them dollars. Storekeepers invariably suggest to their customers that they prefer payments in dollars or pounds at the rate of exchange current.

Apartment houses concierges, waiters and others are asking that their tips be given in American money.

Signs in Luxury Shops.

Small luxury shops in the downtown district have placed signs on their counters, both in English and French saying:

"Because of the exchange rate, prices have been increased 25 per cent.'

Ford automobiles have been boosted 20 per cent. The American Express company and other tourist agencies declined to quote prices of tours in francs, insisting on payment on the basis of the dollar or pound sterling, depending upon the nationality of the tourist.

Extra police have been called out to maintain order.

Italian Currency Declines.

NEW YORK, July 20.—Reflecting the heavy selling of francs and lire in the European markets today, the French and Italian currencies declined to new low levels at the opening of the American exchange.

French francs sustained a new decline of 11 points and were quoted at 2.03½ for demand and 2.04 (cents to the franc) for cables.

The Italian lire slumped 14 points to a new low at 3.19 cents for demand, while the Belgian franc declined 8½ points to 2.18½ cents. Dutch, Scandinavian and British exchanges were firm at the opening.

LIMA COMPANY LOW BIDDER ON HIGHWAY JOB

With an estimate of $170,210.27, Lewis & Copeland, Lima contractors, were the low bidders for the surfacing work on that part of the proposed new Youngstown-East Liverpool intercounty highway which begins at the Y. & O. sub-station and extends to a point near Williamsport. Bids for the job were opened by the state highway department at Columbus.

The Allison and Harris Construction company, of this city, submitted an estimate of $172,002.48; Holmes Construction company, Wooster, $173,321, and Hill & Hill, Elyria, $183,892.95. The job also provides for a connecting link between the Lincoln highway at Apple's Corners and the new Youngstown-East Liverpool road at a point near the Township Line school.

Herman C. Armstrong, Lisbon, was the lowest bidder for the concrete span at Cannons Mill, his proposal being $10,166.70. Lewis & Copeland, low bidders for the road surfacing work, estimated the bridge to be worth $10,319.70, while a third bid submitted by D. F. Nellis & Sons, East Liverpool, was not considered because of irregularities. The estimated cost of the bridge was $10,399.70.

The road from the sub-station through Cannons Mill to Apple's Corners may be completed this year. The Allison and Harris firm is now grading it.

JUDGE SPENCE HOLDS COURT

New Jurist Passes on Motions and Grants One Divorce.

Judge William H. Spence, of Lisbon, who was appointed to the vacancy on the common pleas bench in this county caused by the death of the late James G. Moore, took oath of office Monday morning, it being administered by Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine. Motions were heard and one decree entered.

The divorce case was that of Blanche Ball against her husband, Clyde M. Ball, the plaintiff being represented by Attorney Samuel W. Crawford. In this case the decree was awarded the plaintiff and the mother also was given the custody of minor children. The decree was granted upon the proof of allegations set up in the petition that the defendant had been guilty of wilful absence and gross neglect of duty.

Temporary alimony, as prayed for, has been granted in the divorce action filed June 23, last, by Nina Dora Dawson against her husband, Benjamin Dawson. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney W. A. O'Grady, of Wellsville.

In the case of the W. J. Gilmore Drug company, of Pittsburgh, against Harold Bulger and others, doing business under the name of Bulgers Pharmacy, the court has awarded judgment and interest in favor of the plaintiffs, amounting to $2,388.52. The costs in the action have also been assessed against the defendant.

An order of publication for the unknown heirs has been ordered by the court in the partition action now pending of John B. Walborn against Mrs. Hattie Guy and others.

A temporary restraining order has been handed down in the divorce action filed July 15, last, by Elizabeth Zurbrugg against her husband, Elmer F. Zurbrugg. In this case a decree of divorce, alimony and custody of children are sought by the plaintiff.

In the case of Frank Bosco against the Star Insurance company of America, wherein $2,000 with interest is sought upon refusal to pay the fire loss the policy covered, the court has granted leave to the defendant interest to plead by July 31. The action was filed on the appearance docket May 26, last.

The sale of premises has been confirmed, a deed and distribution ordered and a writ of possession has been awarded in the case of the Union Savings and Loan company against Ada Hall. This was an action in foreclosure and the case was filed in court June 2, 1925.

"Dismissed without prejudice" is the entry of the court in the case of the People's Saving and Loan company, of Lisbon, against Fred S. and Nora C. Woodburn, which was filed March 10, last. The costs in the case have been paid.

A decree of foreclosure has been ordered in the case of J. C. Horton against Edward F. Luck and the New Waterford Building & Loan company, which was an action to marshal liens, and to sell real estate. While the foreclosure was ordered March 24 last Judge Spence has now confirmed the sale of premises and a deed and distribution ordered.

CROSS PETITION FILED IN COURT

An answer and cross petition has been filed by the defendant in the divorce action which was filed in common pleas court May 25 by Emmet E. Longbottom, of Washingtonville, against his wife, Bertha L. Longbottom, by her counsel, George T. Farrell, of Lisbon.

Mrs. Longbottom admits thatshe accompanied her first cousin, Howard Kean, a divorced man , to visit his home at Earnfold, Saskatchewan, Canada, and later motored to Midwest, Wyo., where she visited the home of her father, Edgar Mortimer. On the trip she was accompanied by her two-year-old son, Paul M. Longbottom. She then returned to Leetonia.

Mrs. Longbottom denies all other allegations made in the petition of the plaintiff which was filed by Attorney K. L. Cobourn, of Salem, and in her petition she seeks a decree of divorce, and temporary and permanent alimony. The hearing on the question of temporary alimony has been set for Friday.

GREEN LAW FUND IS EXHAUSTED

No money from the Green law fund appropriation made by the last session of the state legislature will be distributed in Columbiana county this year, although every township in the county, received the $1,000 it was entitled to last year.

Advices received from the ofice of State Auditor Joseph Tracy show that the fund of $350,000 has been exhausted, and that no more money will be made available until there is another appropriation by the legislature.

The distribution was made at Columbus in the order the applications were received, and because of there being so many townships in the state it is declared that when the second year was reached, there was not sufficient in the fund to meet all applications.

Records of this county show that Columbiana county applications were filed in the proper way, and that the distribution of the fund at Columbus did not extend far into the second year. Counties of the state who have been left behind in the distribution are first in order to receive additional funds when another appropriation is made.

GRANTED LEAVE TO FILE PETITION

Leave to file a petition in error in the case of R. L. Griffith, as plaintiff in error against the State of Ohio as defendant in error has been granted by Judge William H. Spence. The motion was filed by Atorneys George T. Farrell of Lisbon and John P. Barrett of Youngstown.

Counsel for the plaintiff in error sets up in its motion there was error found in the judgment of Justice S. S. Weaver, Fairfield township, also irregularities in the proceedings of the trial court, wherein the state of Ohio obtained a judgment against the plaintiff in error for $500 June 29th last.

It is alleged among the nine causes of error, that the affidavit for the search warrant upon which the arrest and conviction of the plaintiff in error was obtained, were illegal and contrary to law, also that the court acted as prosecuting attorney for the state as well as judge, and as a result thereof the plaintiff in error did not obtain a fair trial.

Attachments Filed.

Two attachments have been filed against the property in Lisbon of J. D. Clouser, residing at California, Pa., but formerly living in Lisbon. The claims were filed by Attorney Walter W. Beck. One was for the recovery of $223.73 and interest from Oct. 26, 1921, claimed to be due on the account of the Lisbon Lumber Co., and another was for $275.46 and interest from July 29, 1923 claimed owing L. P. Beck, formerly doing business as the Lincoln highway garage.

Resumes Duties.

CROSS PETITION FILED IN COURT

An answer and cross petition has been filed by the defendant in the divorce action which was filed in common pleas court May 25 by Emmet E. Longbottom, of Washingtonville, against his wife, Bertha L. Longbottom, by her counsel, George T. Farrell, of Lisbon.

Mrs. Longbottom admits thatshe accompanied her first cousin, Howard Kean, a divorced man , to visit his home at Earnfold, Saskatchewan, Canada, and later motored to Midwest, Wyo., where she visited the home of her father, Edgar Mortimer. On the trip she was accompanied by her two-year-old son, Paul M. Longbottom. She then returned to Leetonia.

Mrs. Longbottom denies all other allegations made in the petition of the plaintiff which was filed by Attorney K. L. Cobourn, of Salem, and in her petition she seeks a decree of divorce, and temporary and permanent alimony. The hearing on the question of temporary alimony has been set for Friday.

GREEN LAW FUND IS EXHAUSTED

No money from the Green law fund appropriation made by the last session of the state legislature will be distributed in Columbiana county this year, although every township in the county, received the $1,000 it was entitled to last year.

Advices received from the ofice of State Auditor Joseph Tracy show that the fund of $350,000 has been exhausted, and that no more money will be made available until there is another appropriation by the legislature.

The distribution was made at Columbus in the order the applications were received, and because of there being so many townships in the state it is declared that when the second year was reached, there was not sufficient in the fund to meet all applications.

Records of this county show that Columbiana county applications were filed in the proper way, and that the distribution of the fund at Columbus did not extend far into the second year. Counties of the state who have been left behind in the distribution are first in order to receive additional funds when another appropriation is made.

GRANTED LEAVE TO FILE PETITION

Leave to file a petition in error in the case of R. L. Griffith, as plaintiff in error against the State of Ohio as defendant in error has been granted by Judge William H. Spence. The motion was filed by Atorneys George T. Farrell of Lisbon and John P. Barrett of Youngstown.

Counsel for the plaintiff in error sets up in its motion there was error found in the judgment of Justice S. S. Weaver, Fairfield township, also irregularities in the proceedings of the trial court, wherein the state of Ohio obtained a judgment against the plaintiff in error for $500 June 29th last.

It is alleged among the nine causes of error, that the affidavit for the search warrant upon which the arrest and conviction of the plaintiff in error was obtained, were illegal and contrary to law, also that the court acted as prosecuting attorney for the state as well as judge, and as a result thereof the plaintiff in error did not obtain a fair trial.

Attachments Filed.

Kestner Making Slab Debut, Allows Newell Club Three Safeties

Pass Paves Way for Wellsville Run in First and English's Triple Ties Count in Second; Dustman Crosses Plate With Winning Counter.

IN ONE of the best City Industrial league games of the season Wellsville, playing snappily behind fine pitching, defeated Laughlin, organization leaders, 2 to 1, in the down-river city yesterday.

Kestner, twirling his first game for Wellsville, held Laughlin to three safe hits, all being extra base clouts, doubles by Crawford and Finley and a three-bagger by English.

Bubin, pitching for Laughlin, fanned three as against two by Kistner. A walk, fielder's choice and an error by Finley gave Wellsville its first run in the first inning.

Finley, doubling in the second, scored on English's triple, making the count one all.

In Wellsville's half of the second Hancock singled to right but he was forced at second by Dustman, Watson to Finley. Dustman stole second and scored on Shipley's single over second.

Finley, brilliant Laughlin shortstop, accepted seven of eight chances.

Jennings and Jackson Hammered For 15 Safeties by Auto Outfit

Sainor Blanks Potters in All But Third When Foe Counts on a Hit, Error, Putout and Sacrifice.

FIFTEEN hits, good for as many runs, aided by the numerous miscues of their opponents, enabled Victory Motors to win handily from K. T. K. last evening at Columbian park before a large crowd. Only once did the Potters make the circuit. The final count was, accordingly, 15-1.

Jennings, K. T. K. pitcher, was found for seven runs in the second inning despite the fact that he fanned two men with the bases full. After 10 men had batted Jackson went in and retired the side after pitching to two batters.

The Motors jumped on Jackson in the third and scored six more runs as nine men used the bludgeon.

Saulsberry, formerly of the Chester club, finished the last two innings. Two runs, one in each inning, were made off him by the slugging Motors.

Sainor pitched steadily throughout the contest, blanking his opponents in all but the third when a hit, an error, putout and a sacrifice fly enabled the losers to score once. Incidentally Sainor was second only to Robinson in hitting with a mark of .667 for his two singles and being hit by Jennings in the four tries that he had.

Robinson, former Hall China player and one of the best catchers in the city, returned to the game with Victory Motors following a layoff of practically two years with the exception of a few games with Laughlin last season. He enjoyed a perfect swatting figure for the day with two doubles and a walk for his trio of attempts. He batted in three runs and scored twice himself.

All the Strobels, including John Henry and "Chick," were back in the Victory Motor lineup and all pasted the ball hard. They scored a quintet of runs among themselves.

Myers, hitting for Lysle in the third, singled but was left on the bags as Jackson retired the side by flying to H. Strobel.

The latter contributed the fielding flash of the game by a hard running catch of Rardin's foul in the fifth just over the left field line.

Sainor was hit in the pitching arm in the second and reached second as Jenning's throw to catch him off first went by Lysle. C. Coleman, Simcox and V. Bailey, sacrificing, was safe as Wilson threw low to Simcox at third. With the bases clogged, H., and C. Strobel struck out. Robinson, walking, forced in Sainor. J. Strobel doubled to middle and Robinson and J. Strobel finished. Davis stole second and scored on Mundy's single to left. The latter reached second on a passed ball and tallied on Sainor's rap. Jackson succeeded Jennings. C. Coleman singled but V. Bailey flew to Rardin.

H. Strobel, opening the third, singled to middle. C. Strobel beat out an infield hit but was hit in the head by Jackson, who assisted to first. Haught ran for him and took second. H. Strobel went to third on the bad throw. Robinson doubled to left, scoring two runners. J. Strobel was safe on Rardin's error and stole second. Davis singled to left, scoring Robinson and J. Strobel. Davis stole second and counted on Mundy's single to right. Sainor flew to Rardin. C. Coleman singled past third and stole second

The golfer must always watch that tendency of the wrists to run wild in the back swing. It is peculiarly true that permitting the wrists to be free and loose in the address encourages them to act too rapidly in the back swing. That is, they take the club upward much more quickly than it should be taken. The back swing should be more of a sweep back with the club, with the clubhead approximately even with the hands and wrists until near the top, where the wrists break it over and then take up the slack, so to speak. When the wrists act too quickly the clubhead is made to break directly upward. Thus it describes an ars that is too narrow and altogether too close to the body. Reach slightly out with the club in the lower part of the back swing.

HAGEN SHOOTS FOR NEW MARK

Breaks World's Record for Medal Play Over 36 Holes.

DELAWARE WATER GAP, Pa., July 20.—Having broken the world's record for medal play, scoring for 36 holes with 132 for the first two rounds, Walter Hagen resumed play in the eastern open golf championship today with the announced intention of going after a new world's record for 72 holes of open play on a 6,500-yard course.

The present record is held by Emmet French, of Youngstown, who made a score of 274 in 1922 in the Ohio open on his own course. His rounds were 67 68 71 68.

Hagen's score at the half way mark is 132, with a 67 and a 65. He needs a 70 and a 71 to break the record.

As a result of his sensational performance Hagen led Johnny Farrell and Wild Bill Mehlhorn by nine shots this morning.

Rickard Fails to Announce Plans for Heavyweight Bout

Policemen's Benevolent Association of Chicago Said to be Dickering for Big Fight.

By GEORGE A. STRICKLER.

CHICAGO, July 20.—Tex Rickard and the proposed Dempsey-Tunney bout today were just where the world left them yesterday, and many days previous. One still in the offing, the other in the throes of statements and counter statements, hastily making new promises to replace those broken yesterday.

At the appointed hour last night, Rickard failed to weigh in with his formal announcement regarding the site of the fight and the identity of the mysterious "committee of five" with which he is convening.

Police Seek Fight.

Among the intelligentsia this morning, however, there was a tendency to accept with marked sincerity a rumor linking the officials of the Policemen's Benevolent association of Chicago with the identity of these "five biggest men in town." The policemen's representatives, the bruit ran, are dickering for the bout as a substitute for their annual track and field benefit, scheduled for late in the summer.

After a day of conferences and long distance telephone calls, mostly from New York, Rickard intimated last night that his formal statement would be forthcoming today, and that he was not in the least worried over the threatened interference of the Coliseum A. C., which purports to hold Dempsey's contract for a Wills bout here.

"Dempsey analyzed their contracts and agreement to me at the time he signed with me in Little Rock last May," Rickard said. "They were to pay him $150,000 on a certain date. A few weeks after that date they made their first financial move, offering Jack $35,000, which he refused. Their failure to comply with the terms of their contract nullified it. They have nothing for me to worry about."

Commission Silent.

The Illinois state boxing commission, up to a late hour this morning, has been successful in holding its silence. As far as it was concerned, Secretary Con O'Brien said, the fight was still a rumor. No formal application to stage it had been made to the commission, and therefore the solons had nothing to say, individually or collectively.

It is a matter of record, though, that a local promoter was refused a license last week to feature a heavyweight bout, the commission rejected his application with the dictum that it was not in favor or heavyweight fights in the state during the first year of legalized boxing. A Dempsey-Tunney match might cause them to reflect and repent, however.

Rickard's only positive statement yesterday was that he would not stage a Dempsey bout here, or anywhere, unless all claims had been settled and all obstacles, bona fide or inspired, had been cleared away, giving him free reign to put on the fight as a heavyweight title bout should be put on. Such a situation smacks of the impossible.

Rickard's failure to issue an announcement yesterday is construed as a move prompted, indirectly, by the scheduled meetings of the Illinois and New York commission today.

Kestner Making Slab Debut, Allows Newell Club Three Safeties

Pass Paves Way for Wellsville Run in First and English's Triple Ties Count in Second; Dustman Crosses Plate With Winning Counter.

IN ONE of the best City Industrial league games of the season Wellsville, playing snappily behind fine pitching, defeated Laughlin, organization leaders, 2 to 1, in the down-river city yesterday.

Kestner, twirling his first game for Wellsville, held Laughlin to three safe hits, all being extra base clouts, doubles by Crawford and Finley and a three-bagger by English.

Bubin, pitching for Laughlin, fanned three as against two by Kistner. A walk, fielder's choice and an error by Finley gave Wellsville its first run in the first inning.

Finley, doubling in the second, scored on English's triple, making the count one all.

In Wellsville's half of the second Hancock singled to right but he was forced at second by Dustman, Watson to Finley. Dustman stole second and scored on Shipley's single over second.

Finley, brilliant Laughlin shortstop, accepted seven of eight chances.

Rickard Fails to Announce Plans for Heavyweight Bout

After a day of conferences and long distance telephone calls, mostly from New York, Rickard intimated last night that his formal statement would be forthcoming today, and that he was not in the least worried over the threatened interference of the Coliseum A. C., which purports to hold Dempsey's contract for a Wills bout here.

"Dempsey analyzed their contracts and agreement to me at the time he signed with me in Little Rock last May," Rickard said. "They were to pay him $150,000 on a certain date. ## Jennings and Jackson Hammered For 15 Safeties by Auto Outfit

Sainor Blanks Potters in All But Third When Foe Counts on a Hit, Error, Putout and Sacrifice.

FIFTEEN hits, good for as many runs, aided by the numerous miscues of their opponents, enabled Victory Motors to win handily from K. T. K. last evening at Columbian park before a large crowd. Only once did the Potters make the circuit. The final count was, accordingly, 15-1.

Jennings, K. T. K. pitcher, was found for seven runs in the second inning despite the fact that he fanned two men with the bases full. After 10 men had batted Jackson went in and retired the side after pitching to two batters.

The Motors jumped on Jackson in the third and scored six more runs as nine men used the bludgeon.

Saulsberry, formerly of the Chester club, finished the last two innings. Two runs, one in each inning, were made off him by the slugging Motors.

Sainor pitched steadily throughout the contest, blanking his opponents in all but the third when a hit, an error, putout and a sacrifice fly enabled the losers to score once. Incidentally Sainor was second only to Robinson in hitting with a mark of .667 for his two singles and being hit by Jennings in the four tries that he had.

Robinson, former Hall China player and one of the best catchers in the city, returned to the game with Victory Motors following a layoff of practically two years with the exception of a few games with Laughlin last season. He enjoyed a perfect swatting figure for the day with two doubles and a walk for his trio of attempts. He batted in three runs and scored twice himself.

All the Strobels, including John Henry and "Chick," were back in the Victory Motor lineup and all pasted the ball hard. They scored a quintet of runs among themselves.

Myers, hitting for Lysle in the third, singled but was left on the bags as Jackson retired the side by flying to H. Strobel.

The latter contributed the fielding flash of the game by a hard running catch of Rardin's foul in the fifth just over the left field line.

Sainor was hit in the pitching arm in the second and reached second as Jenning's throw to catch him off first went by Lysle. C. Coleman, Simcox and V. Bailey, sacrificing, was safe as Wilson threw low to Simcox at third. With the bases clogged, H., and C. Strobel struck out. Robinson, walking, forced in Sainor. J. Strobel doubled to middle and Robinson and J. Strobel finished. Davis stole second and scored on Mundy's single to left. The latter reached second on a passed ball and tallied on Sainor's rap. Jackson succeeded Jennings. C. Coleman singled but V. Bailey flew to Rardin.

H. Strobel, opening the third, singled to middle. C. Strobel beat out an infield hit but was hit in the head by Jackson, who assisted to first. Haught ran for him and took second. H. Strobel went to third on the bad throw. Robinson doubled to left, scoring two runners. J. Strobel was safe on Rardin's error and stole second. Davis singled to left, scoring Robinson and J. Strobel. Davis stole second and counted on Mundy's single to right. Sainor flew to Rardin. C. Coleman singled past third and stole second

IN THE LEAD

Fisher's engineering experts—skilled beyond their calling by virtue of years of continuous research and experimentation with all types of body construction—unhesitatingly aver that none but Body by Fisher—exclusively used by General Motors for Cadillac, Buick, Chevrolet, Oakland, Oldsmobile and Pontiac cars—affords the essential virtues of safety, beauty and comfort which characterize every Fisher product. Quite logically the public knows that when any improvement which really gives an enhanced measure of safety, comfort and luxury is perfected, Fisher will be the first to present it just as Fisher has created and been the first to present every important improvement in body design and construction of the past decade.

Fight Results

Harry Goldberg, New York welterweight, knocked out Frankie Pitcher, New York, in the seventh round.

RING BODY SPLIT ON TITLE BATTLE

NEW YORK, July 20.—The location of the proposed heavyweight fight between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney may be determined here this afternoon at the weekly meeting of the New York state athletic commission.

James A. Farley, chairman of the commission, declared that the commission positively would not issue a license for the fight, while William Muldoon, another member of the board, said he would do everything in his power to prevent the bout from slipping away from New York.

SKULL PRACTICE

Jack Delaney fought 10 rounds with a sprained thumb without a murmur to win the light heavyweight championship. But now that he has it he's using the same thumb as an excuse to call off two matches. Figure that one out.

Paul Berlenbach says he is still a light heavyweight. He doesn't attempt to go any farther.

Bill Tilden has just won the Tri-State title at Cincinnati but the experts haven't doped out yet just what effect this will have on Bill's play in the Davis Cup matches.

If Gene Tunney gets a battle with Jack Dempsey my choice of a winner is Tex Rickard.

Jennings and Jackson

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO.

ARTICLE XVIII, SECTION 11.

PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO SECTION 11 OF ARTICLE XVIII OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF OHIO, RELATIVE TO ASSESSMENTS FOR THE COST OF ACQUIRING PROPERTY.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to both houses concurring therein:

That there shall be submitted to the electors of this state in the manner provided by law, on the second Tuesday in August, 1926, a proposal to amend section 11 of article XVIII of the constitution of Ohio, so as to read as follows:

Sec. 11. Any municipality acquiring property by purchase or appropriation for a public improvement may provide money therefor, in whole or in part, by assessments upon property benefited by the improvement whether abutting, adjacent or otherwise located. Such assessments shall in no case exceed special benefits conferred thereby.

Be it further resolved, That at such election above referred to this amendment shall be placed on the official ballot, in the manner provided by law and designated as follows:

"To authorize assessment by municipalities of the cost of acquiring property for public improvement upon lands benefited thereby," or, in other language, sufficiently clear to designate such purpose.

If adopted, said amendment shall take effect on the first day of January, 1927.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
STATE OF OHIO.
Office of the Secretary of State.

I, THAD BROWN, Secretary of State, of the State of Ohio, do hereby certify that the foregoing is an exemplified copy, carefully compared by me with the original now on file in my office and in my official custody as Secretary of State and found to be true and correct of

Fight Results

AT NEW YORK:—Andy Martin, Boston featherweight, drew with Marty Silvers, New York, 10 rounds.

Harry Goldberg, New York welterweight, knocked out Frankie Pitcher, New York, in the seventh round.

RING BODY SPLIT ON TITLE BATTLE

NEW YORK, July 20.—The location of the proposed heavyweight fight between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney may be determined here this afternoon at the weekly meeting of the New York state athletic commission.

James A. Farley, chairman of the commission, declared that the commission positively would not issue a license for the fight, while William Muldoon, another member of the board, said he would do everything in his power to prevent the bout from slipping away from New York.

DeMOLAYS CLASH WITH BILLIARDS

The DeMolays will play the Madison Billiards, of the East End, tomorrow evening on the Columbian park diamond.

SKULL PRACTICE

Jack Delaney fought 10 rounds with a sprained thumb without a murmur to win the light heavyweight championship. But now that he has it he's using the same thumb as an excuse to call off two matches. Figure that one out.

Paul Berlenbach says he is still a light heavyweight. He doesn't attempt to go any farther.

Bill Tilden has just won the Tri-State title at Cincinnati but the experts haven't doped out yet just what effect this will have on Bill's play in the Davis Cup matches.

If Gene Tunney gets a battle with Jack Dempsey my choice of a winner is Tex Rickard.

Jennings and Jackson

H. Strobel, singling in the fourth, went to second as C. Strobel sacrificed, Sanior to Mundy, Robinson, doubling, scored him. J. Strobel flew to Jennings. Davis singled to left. On the play Robinson was caught beyond third, Jennings to Simcox to Wilson.

In the third McShane singled to middle and reached second as the ball got by Davis and landed on third when Rardin grounded to Mundy. He scored on Simcox' fly to Davis. Myers batting for Lysle, singled to right. Jackson flew to H. Strobel.

MRS. MARY FIELDS SEEKS DIVORCE

In the divorce action filed in common pleas court by Mary L. Fields against her husband, Carter A. Fields, the charges of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty are made by the plaintiff.

They were married at London, Ky., December 14, 1920.

For 14 months after their marriage, the petition relates, the defendant failed to establish a home for her, also that he failed to provide for her. She also declares that after a home had been established, Fields compelled his wife to keep boarders, and that while she spent the money she earned to keep up the home, her husband spent his money in riotous living and gambling. Fields is also charged with drunkenness for three years last past. Under the charge of extreme cruelty, Mrs. Fields relates that she was struck over the head with a heel of a shoe by her husband, that she was knocked to the floor, when she was kicked and her body discolored, and that on July 16, last, he placed his knee on her back and struck her.

The petition for the plaintiff was filed by Attorney W. A. O'Grady, of Wellsville.

FOREMEN OUT TO EVEN COUNT

Will Battle Clerks Again in Pennsy Series.

Victorious in the initial encounter with the Foremen in the first tilt of a three-game series, the Pennsylvania Railroad Clerks here will defend their lead in another engagement scheduled for the latter part of the week. The Clerks took over the Foremen by an 8-7 count in the inaugural battle.

"Christy" Hirst, machine shop foreman, lacking his old-time speed, but none of his cunning and control, passed but two men and had the Clerks fanning the air until they solved his delivery in the last two innings.

Denton Thomas, storehouse clerk, took the mound for the Scribes and held the foremen in check until the seventh when a sore arm forced him to abdicate in favor of P. L. Morris, who had considerable speed, accompanied by wildness.

The Clerks presented a complete lineup, but the Foremen were shy three men, due to emergency work, and were forced to fill in with substitutes.

The fielding of Walter Brooks, boiler shop foreman, cavorting at second, was one of the features, reminding the old timers of his playing when he was a member of the Allegheny Shop league.

The battling highlights were the three-base blow by Catcher Crumbley and the two-bagger lined out by Rosenberg of the Clerks with the sacks loaded.

The score sheet, kept by Joe Quayle, revealed that the Clerks registered 10 hits off Hirst, while the Foremen collected 13 off Thomas and Miller.

The work of J. B. Dugan, serving, after much persuasion, as arbiter, was deemed so satisfactory that he has been engaged to umpire the remaining games of the series.

CHARLES OLIVER AGED 70, IS DEAD

Charles Oliver, Sr., 70 years old, formerly of East Liverpool, died last night in the home of his son, Charles Oliver, 2433 Buckeye avenue, after an illness of a complication of diseases.

He is survived by two sons and five daughters: Fred, Hammondsville; Charles, Wellsville; Mrs. Margaret Freeman and Mrs. Elizabeth Yost, Calcutta; Mrs. Annie Dernberger, Mrs. Francis McKinnon and Mrs. Ella Harmon, all of East Liverpool.

He was a member of the Ben Hur lodge of East Liverpool.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the home of his son. Burial will be made in Spring Grove cemetery, East Liverpool.

ASKS JUDGMENT ON FIRE LOSS

O'Grady, of Wellsville.

The plaintiff seeks a judgment of $4,500 against the defendant company.

The local civil service commission may call for an examination for police job applicants within the near future.

Several novel features are being planned for the affair.

O'Grady, has filed a petition in common pleas court against the North River Insurance Co., of New York City, seeking a judgment for $1,000, the amount of a fire loss he sustained on his property May 9th last. The company has so far failed to pay the damage loss.

TRY TO FIGURE ILLINOIS RACE FOR GOVERNOR

Dopesters Have Hard Time Picking Pole Man.

EYES ON SENATE

Toga Fight is Problem With Wet and Dry Issue.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Political dopesters in Illinois are having a merry time, with prospects that "figurin' " winners will become more difficult as time goes on.

Although it is early yet, a number of candidates are considered as positive entries in the gubernatorial race. Personal friends of Gov. Len Small are confident that he will be in the primary contest in 1928.

John G. Ogelsby, former lieutenant governor and a former candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, has definitely tossed his crush hat into the ring.

Also mentioned as possible starters are Lieutenant Governor Fred E. Sterling, Rockford, Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom, Allen F. Moore, of Monticello.

And all of these are Republicans! Whom the Democrats will groom for the contest is to much a matter of conjecture for comment.

The senatorial race is also to be staged between lanes of interrogation points.

There are three candidates, George E. Brennan, Chicago, "dripping wet," a Democrat and Col. Frank L. Smith, a Republican dry, and James H. Kirby, who has entered the dash for the federal toga as an Independent Democrat, bone-dry.

Kirby's entry is expected to affect most seriously the chances of Colonel Smith as the colonel is expected to lose to Kirby dry Democratic votes which otherwise would be his.

The senatorial compaign will seriously start at the Illinois State Fair in August, at which political field days will draw candidates and present office holders from all over the state.

Before this transpires, however, the federal investigation will be held at Chicago by the senatorial committee into charges that Col. Frank Smith spent over $1,000,000 in his campaign.

While the distance between Cairo, Egypt, and Khartum, capital of the Sudan, is only a little more than that from New York to Chicago a journey between the two requires four days of continuous travel.

Greece is placing a tax on every person practicing any kind of trade or profession.

BROOKHART and Nye, who beat administration senators in the primaries attend a farmers' conference called by Governor Hammill, of Iowa. One newspaper says this "may devoiop into an anti-Coolidge demonstration."

REMEMBER that farmers in Kansas will get about $150,000,000 for their wheat crop this year. A good deal will go to pay mortgages, but many farmers will remember that wheat now selling at $1.45 a bushel represents a considerable improvement on the price just before Coolidge was elected president.

SCIENTISTS say large families indicate lack of culture, generally speaking and that as culture increases families grow smaller, the number of births per mother diminishing.

That may be so, but you are glad that Caruso's mother kept on until she had No. 19. He was Caruso. The number of births per mother gradually diminish, since otherwise the earth would be overcrowded and men compelled to eat each other. You may be one that nature will attend to that wisely, as she keeps the trees from "growing into the heavens."

BUT the number of children need not diminish. In the mysterious future some women, like the queen bee, may specialize in motherhood, having many children, other women preferring to have none.

You see signs of that, already.

THE Young Men's Christian association starts 12,000 boys on a two-year training period for a relay race between New York and Chicago, distance 1,092 miles. The boys will run in relays, night and day, swimming rivers when necessary, bearing a symbolic bronze torch from city hall to city hall.

THAT quite useless experiment undoubtedly will injure the health of some of the boys and will cost money. Y. M. C. A. authorities might better buy half a dozen good flying machines from Fokker or Ford and teach 500 youngsters the art of flying. That would be doing something worth while.

AN ENGINEER plans an ocean highway for aviators, to be marked by buoys with floating landing places anchored 400 miles apart rising sufficiently high above the surface to let big waves roll under them.

THE idea, interesting now, will seem amusing to our descendants. A few years ago Northcliffe offered $50,000 to any man that would fly across the English channel. In a few years flying across the ocean will be as simple as flying across the channel or the North river. The ocean flight will be made comfortably between breakfast and dinner and millions that read this will live to see it.

TWO French airmen, Girler and Dordilly, have just flown from Paris to Omsk in Siberia, 2,920 miles in 29 hours, without a stop. This flight, that would have carried them across the Atlantic, sets a new record.

Swimming Is The Ideal Exercise

Swimming is the most perfect exercise from the standpoint of its health-promoting value.

It stimulates the circulation of the blood, brings practically every large muscle into harmonious play, and develops fine healthy lungs.

If you can not swim you are missing one of the most valuable and enjoyable sports.

SIX ARE DEAD IN STATE AS TORRID SPELL PEAK IS NEAR

Weatherman Promises Showers and Breezes Tomorrow.

With East Liverpool sweltering, the heat wave which is sweeping from the Rocky Mountain states to the Atlantic seaboard had claimed a death toll of 35 at noon today.

Six of the victims were Ohioans.

Maximum Here 94 Degrees.

At 11:30 o'clock this morning the mercury in a thermometer on the St. Clair avenue side of the Central fire station registered 92 degrees. At the same time a temperature of 94 was recorded at Dam No. 8, between this city and Wellsville.

Maximum temperature recorded at the dam yesterday was 104 degrees, registered in the sun at 3 p. m. The highest temperature this summer up until yesterday prevailed on July 8 when the mercury reached 98 degrees, according to records at the dam. The 8 o'clock reading this morning was 74, six degrees warmer than at the same hour yesterday morning.

Relief from the torrid weather is promised tomorrow. 'Continued warm tonight, with thunder showers Wednesday afternoon and evening" was the forecast.

CLEVELAND, July 20.—The peak of the hottest weather of the year that yesterday shot the mercury to the giddy heights of 106 degrees in the Dakotas, was expected to pass over Ohio today.

The advance heat waves of the torrid invasion yesterday took a toll of six lives in Ohio as the state broiled under temperatures that averaged 95 degrees.

At 8 a. m. today the official government thermometer here registered 82 degrees, exactly 10 degrees warmer than at 8 o'clock yesterday morning.

The weatherman held forth a faint hope of relief from the heat for tonight when thundershowers were on the schedule, he said.

Cleveland's sweltering thousands sought relief last night along the city's beaches, which entertained almost record crowds. Three persons were drowned in the Cleveland area and two overcome by the heat. One drowning was reported at Cincinnati and another at Middletown. Lima and Dayton each had one heat prostration and Portsmouth two.

The victims were:

Mrs. Hannah Leonard Succumbs Today at Wellsville.

Mrs. Hannah Leonard, Columbiana county's only centenarian, died this afternoon at 12:30 o'clock at her home in Sixth street, Wellsville, following a lingering illness. Her death was attributed to infirmities of old age.

No arrangements for the funeral had been made at noon.

Mrs. Leonard observed her one-hundredth birthday anniversary several months ago.

She was born in western Pennsylvania, but has spent the greater part of her life in Ohio. Traveling down the Ohio river in house boat when a young girl she, along with her family, became residents of New Lisbon and later moved to Wellsville.

While conversing with her numerous friends during her birthday observance, she clearly recalled happenings from her early life, notable events in the city's history, including the inauguration of service over the Pennsylvania railroad from Cleveland to Wellsville, and the excitement folowing the capture of General Morgan, "the raider," near Salineville.

Mrs. Leonard, known as "grandma," had been in failing health for several weeks.

PASTOR PLEADS SELF DEFENSE

That he shot in self defense will be the plea of Rev. J. Frank Norris, above, Fort Worth, Tex., pastor known as the "Texas Tornado" when he answers the charge of murder placed against him following the shooting to death of D. E. Chipps, lumberman, in the study of Norris' church.

DRINK-CRAZED POLICE SHOOT FIVE PERSONS

Three Small Hotels at Muskogee are Shot Up.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., July 20.—Five persons were shot and seven were beaten into unconsciousness in three small hotels by two drunken peace officers here early today. At least one of the injured is expected to die. He is Paul Davis, Muskogee county deputy sheriff, who, with Ves Carmack, staged the brawl.

Davis was shot through the chest.

Commerce Chamber Presents Traffic Signs to City

The Chamber of Commerce has presented the city with approximately 175 enameled traffic signs which are to be placed at various places about the city.

The signs are in the shape of a shield and are in colors of red and white. One hundred of them bear the inscription, "Through Traffic," while 25 others read "Parking Limit 30 Minutes." The other 50 signs are blank, which will permit their use wherever needed. Cost of the signs was approximately $200.

Police today announced that the west side of Washington street between Fourth and Fifth street, which has been closed to parking, would be opened to 30-minute parking only. Signs to this effect have been erected along the street.

FIRE DAMAGES H. A. HUNKER HOME

Fire, originating from an undetermined manner, damaged the home of H. A. Hunker, West Sixth street, at 6:30 o'clock last evening. The blaze, which started in a dresser, was discovered by neighbors who called the fire department. The fire was extinguished with a garden hose.

About $300 worth of clothing belonging to the Hunker family, who were absent from the house at the time of the blaze, was destroyed.

The interior of the house, owned by Miss Agnes O'Hanlon, was also damaged.

HERRIOT URGES MORATORIUM AS FRENCH FRANC HITS TOBOGGAN

Recommendation to be Made to Avoid Financial Panic.

40-POINT DROP

Wave of Anti-American Feeling Sweeping France.

BY HARRY R. FLORY.

PARIS, France, July 20.—The Herriot government will recommend a moratorium to avoid a French financial panic as the result of the tumble of the French franc, according to Minister of Interior Chautemps.

The franc, opening weakly, dropped 40 points within an hour this morning, going to 47.90 to the dollar.

FRANC WORTH BUT 2.02 CENTS

PARIS, July 20.—The downward plunge of the Franc continued today.

At 2:30 this afternoon, amidst exciting scenes on the Bourse the franc reached a new low record when it sold at 49.33 to the dollar.

This low made the franc worth 2.02 cents.

Normally the franc is worth 19.30 cents but it has declined steadily since the early war days. In 1914-1915 the average value of the franc was 18.80 cents, while in 1920-21 the average value of the franc had declined to 6.30 cents and by 1925 it was down to 4.39 cents, and has continued to tumble reaching today's new low level at 2.02 cents.

Forced consolidation of all treasury bonds and a moratorium will be the bases of the financial platform of the Herriot ministry, M. Chautemps told a meeting of the radical Socialists today.

Public Confidence Lacking.

The finance minister, M. de Monzie, will be given broader powers and will avoid inflation, M. Chautemps promised.

The situation which is reflected in the weakness of the franc today would indicate that public confidence in the new ministry is lacking and unless M. Herriot can stage some spectacular maneuver to remedy the financial situation immediately, it seems likely that the 14th cabinet since 1920 will have to make way for the 15th within a few days.

American Tourists Insulted.

PARIS, July 20—A wave of anti-American feeling is sweeping France today.

American tourists were brazenly insulted last night while dining in an open-air restaurant in Montmarte. A scuffle ensued in which the police intervened, arresting several Frenchmen.

Restraining Order Against Moving of Two-story Building

An injunction, restraining the city from moving a two-story frame building, which is said to be occupying a portion of Shadyside avenue, near West Eighth street, has been issued to Abraham Fisher of this city by Appellate Judge L. T. Farr, Lisbon.

The injunction notice was served upon Service-Safety Director J. W. Moore yesterday. City officials have asked that the case be heard at an early date as the order is delaying the improvement of Shadyside avenue by the Allison & Harris Construction company.

The city claims that the building owned by Fisher is extending into the roadway for a distance of about seven feet at one end and a few inches at the other end. The city was preparing to move the structure yesterday when the injunction order was served.

PHILADELPHIA, July 20.—Governor and Mrs. A. V. Donahey, of Ohio, and a number of other prominent Ohioans arrived here today for ceremonies marking the dedication of the Ohio building at the sesqui-centennial exposition grounds.

TRAILS SLAYERS OF OHIO EDITOR

BLAME ENGINEER

Express Crashes Into Work Train at Bridge.

CHICAGO, July 20. — Twenty-one persons, most of them women, were injured seriously and a number of others cut and bruised here today when an Illinois Central suburban express train crashed into a work train at the South Park bridge during the morning rush hours.

Several of the victims were believed dying.

A. M. Umsler, terminal superintendent of the railroad, said the fault for the crash lay with the engineer of the passenger train, who was believed to have ignored or failed to see a block signal set against him.

All of the injured were taken to nearby hospitals.

BOY RUN DOWN BY AUTOMOBILE

Car Passes Over Elmo Rowe, 9, of Chester.

Elmo, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Rowe, Sr., Church alley, Chester, is in the City hospital suffering, it is believed, from internal injuries received about 8 o'clock last night when run down by an automobile driven by Clarence Manes, 147 Virginia avenue, Chester.

The lad, who was playing in the street near his home, is said to have darted directly into the path of the Manes machine. Both the front and the back wheel of the car passed over the boy's abdomen.

He was attended by Dr. C. R. Campbell.

COUNTY LEGION MEETING FRIDAY

Members of Columbiana County Voiture No. 273, La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux, will go to East Palestine Friday evening for a county promenade.

MAJOR DEVELOPMENTS HINTED, HOWEVER, AS CRIME PROBERS MEET

Eyes of Many Probers Turn Toward Pittsburgh, Warren, Massillon and Cleveland and Other Cities in Belief That Solution of Crime May be Found There.

POLICE CHIEF DECLARES THAT HE "IS THROUGH" QUIZZING UNDERWORLD

Detective Plans Trip to Warren to Check up on Story Told by George Psialias, Alias "George, the Greek," Who is Held in Jail at Pittsburgh.

CANTON, July 20.—County Prosecutor C. B. McClintock this afternoon announced that the investigators were now working on real "live wire angles" and that if their plans worked out, startling developments would be unveiled in the slaying of Don R. Mellett, crusading Canton publisher, within a few hours.

CANTON, O., July 20.—A move, indicative possibly of a major development in the Don R. Mellett slaying case was seen today when the leaders in the investigation abruptly went into a conference in the office of County Prosecutor C. B. McClintock.

SHERIFF GEORGE WRIGHT'S TIP TURNS SEARCH TOWARD NEW KENSINGTON

The trail for the slayers of Don R. Mellett, Canton newspaper publisher, who was shot to death by underworld hirelings early Friday morning, led to New Kensington, Pa., today, as a result of the discovery of an abandoned 1926 model Chevrolet coach on the Lincoln highway at West Point yesterday.

Sheriff George Wright, checking secret numerals overlooked by occupants of the car who chiseled out the motor serial number and removed the license plates after the coach overturned, learned from the Flint, Mich., manufacturers that the car was originally the property of a New Kensington dealer.

Wright called upon police there to ascertain the identity of the owner.

The car when found contained two copies of the Pittsburgh Post, a blood-stained flashlight, loaded revolver, dynamite, caps, fuses and other yegg tools.

With McClintock was Ora Slater, private detective in charge of the probe; James E. Kinneson, city solicitor; Ben Clark, of the Bertillon bureau here, and Earl Hexamer, safety director.

As the meeting was shrouded in secrecy nothing could be learned of the discussion. Slater and Hexamer left together after the meeting had been in progress only a few minutes.

It was also thought that the meeting might have been one merely to outline a policy for the day's work.

After the return of Chief of Detectives Edward Swope and Detective Clark from Warren today, it was announced that their effort to trace a man known as "Jimmy" and supposed to be with George Psialias on the night of the Mellett murder, was in vain and they had found no trace of him there.

Detective Clark declared that they had not interviewed the clerk of the Lincoln hotel nor anyone else at the hotel.

Suspect Held on Open Charge at Pittsburgh Will be Put Through Another Intensive Grilling.

PITTSBURGH, July 20.—Police Lieut. Peter Connors, investigating the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton, O., publisher, returned here today from the scene of the crime and unfiled in common pleas court shortly nounced that George Psialias, alias "George, the Greek,' held on an open charge, will be put through another intense grilling at once as a result of discrepancies in his story.

Psialias, arrested in connection with the Mellett murder, steadfastly denied any connection with the shooting, although admitting he was in the vicinity of Canton when the editor was killed.

Application for the release of Psialias on a writ of habeas corpus was filed in common pleas court shortly before noon by Samuel Rosenberg, his counsel. Hearing on the application will be held tomorrow, the court clerk said.

Psialias is held on a "suspicious person" charge.

Lieutenant Connors, upon his arrival here from a trip through Ohio, where he checked the story told by Psialias, went directly to the jail where Psialias was held over night for a private conference with him.

After a short talk with Psialias, the lieutenant announced that he would again question the man, this time confronting him with facts obtained on his visit to Warren and Canton, O.

Lieut. Connors indicated that he will insist upon Psialias revealing the motive of his midnight drive through Ohio the night Mellett was slain. Thus far, Psialias has turned a deaf ear to police questions in this respect.

The lieutenant said that while Psialias' story of his actions the night of the murder was borne out in some respects by facts developed in his investigation, it has been broken down in other places.

In his story police see evidence pointing to a relationship between the underworlds of Pittsburgh and Canton—a connecting link which they believe will lead to verification of Police Lieutenant Connors' theory that the young Ohio publisher was slain by gunmen imported from Pittsburgh.

Working as a unit, police from the two cities under the leadership of Lieut. Connors and Ora Slater, private detective who has been chosen to lead the investigation, today were bringing to light details of an alleged underworld alliance.

Car Passes Over Elmo Rowe, 9, of Chester.

Elmo, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Rowe, Sr., Church alley, Chester, is in the City hospital suffering, it is believed, from internal injuries received about 8 o'clock last night when run down by an automobile driven by Clarence Manes, 147 Virginia avenue, Chester.

The lad, who was playing in the street near his home, is said to have darted directly into the path of the Manes machine. Both the front and the back wheel of the car passed over the boy's abdomen.

He was attended by Dr. C. R. Campbell.

MAJOR DEVELOPMENTS HINTED, HOWEVER, AS CRIME PROBERS MEET

Eyes of Many Probers Turn Toward Pittsburgh, Warren, Massillon and Cleveland and Other Cities in Belief That Solution of Crime May be Found There.

Detective Plans Trip to Warren to Check up on Story Told by George Psialias, Alias "George, the Greek," Who is Held in Jail at Pittsburgh.

CANTON, July 20.—County Prosecutor C. B. McClintock this afternoon announced that the investigators were now working on real "live wire angles" and that if their plans worked out, startling developments would be unveiled in the slaying of Don R. Mellett, crusading Canton publisher, within a few hours.

CANTON, O., July 20.—A move, indicative possibly of a major development in the Don R. Mellett slaying case was seen today when the leaders in the investigation abruptly went into a conference in the office of County Prosecutor C. B. McClintock.

SHERIFF GEORGE WRIGHT'S TIP TURNS SEARCH TOWARD NEW KENSINGTON

The trail for the slayers of Don R. Mellett, Canton newspaper publisher, who was shot to death by underworld hirelings early Friday morning, led to New Kensington, Pa., today, as a result of the discovery of an abandoned 1926 model Chevrolet coach on the Lincoln highway at West Point yesterday.

Sheriff George Wright, checking secret numerals overlooked by occupants of the car who chiseled out the motor serial number and removed the license plates after the coach overturned, learned from the Flint, Mich., manufacturers that the car was originally the property of a New Kensington dealer.

Wright called upon police there to ascertain the identity of the owner.

The car when found contained two copies of the Pittsburgh Post, a blood-stained flashlight, loaded revolver, dynamite, caps, fuses and other yegg tools.

With McClintock was Ora Slater, private detective in charge of the probe; James E. Kinneson, city solicitor; Ben Clark, of the Bertillon bureau here, and Earl Hexamer, safety director.

As the meeting was shrouded in secrecy nothing could be learned of the discussion. Slater and Hexamer left together after the meeting had been in progress only a few minutes.

It was also thought that the meeting might have been one merely to outline a policy for the day's work.

After the return of Chief of Detectives Edward Swope and Detective Clark from Warren today, it was announced that their effort to trace a man known as "Jimmy" and supposed to be with George Psialias on the night of the Mellett murder, was in vain and they had found no trace of him there.

Detective Clark declared that they had not interviewed the clerk of the Lincoln hotel nor anyone else at the hotel.

Suspect Held on Open Charge at Pittsburgh Will be Put Through Another Intensive Grilling.

PITTSBURGH, July 20.—Police Lieut. Peter Connors, investigating the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton, O., publisher, returned here today from the scene of the crime and unfiled in common pleas court shortly nounced that George Psialias, alias "George, the Greek,' held on an open charge, will be put through another intense grilling at once as a result of discrepancies in his story.

Psialias, arrested in connection with the Mellett murder, steadfastly denied any connection with the shooting, although admitting he was in the vicinity of Canton when the editor was killed.

Application for the release of Psialias on a writ of habeas corpus was filed in common pleas court shortly before noon by Samuel Rosenberg, his counsel. Hearing on the application will be held tomorrow, the court clerk said.

Psialias is held on a "suspicious person" charge.

Lieutenant Connors, upon his arrival here from a trip through Ohio, where he checked the story told by Psialias, went directly to the jail where Psialias was held over night for a private conference with him.

After a short talk with Psialias, the lieutenant announced that he would again question the man, this time confronting him with facts obtained on his visit to Warren and Canton, O.

Lieut. Connors indicated that he will insist upon Psialias revealing the motive of his midnight drive through Ohio the night Mellett was slain. Thus far, Psialias has turned a deaf ear to police questions in this respect.

The lieutenant said that while Psialias' story of his actions the night of the murder was borne out in some respects by facts developed in his investigation, it has been broken down in other places.

In his story police see evidence pointing to a relationship between the underworlds of Pittsburgh and Canton—a connecting link which they believe will lead to verification of Police Lieutenant Connors' theory that the young Ohio publisher was slain by gunmen imported from Pittsburgh.

Working as a unit, police from the two cities under the leadership of Lieut. Connors and Ora Slater, private detective who has been chosen to lead the investigation, today were bringing to light details of an alleged underworld alliance.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE:

Bee and Lou are modern girls sharing a Greenwich Village apartment. Bee is an actress, at present in the chorus, but keeping a stiff upper lip and a fond hope of success. Into the Village comes Delia, frail poetess of New England, seeking freedom from the repressions of her home. And Bee, a school chum of the freedom-seeker, invites her to share their apartment. Delia is determined to win through to the freedom she came for. Before the first evening is well under way Delia has met Wilbur, a young artist who is suffering from "too much mother and whom Lou has undertaken to rescue; and Leslie, intimate of Lou; and Arthur Rockwell, the poet whose work Delia knows and admires; and various others of the Village crowd.

Bee and Lou have their troubles. Bee is beset by a highly successful young business man who wants to marry her and carry her off from the Village; Lou and Leslie verge on a misunderstanding because of her efforts in behalf of Wilbur. And Delia fast succumbs to the fascination of Rockwell, who is unscrupulous in love and therefore dangerous. Now go on with the story:

CHAPTER NINETEEN.

It was Lou's nature, when a difficult task lay before her, to handle it in a businesslike way. She had now to dispose of Wilbur, and meant to do it briskly and completely. She didn't like leaving loose ends. There wasn't a great deal of time to do it in, for she made it a matter of principle never to be late at the office. It was really, she reflected as she went upstairs to waken him, a bit of a surgical job. The more cleanly it was done, the better. Bee had hit on the truth in her amusingly sputtering way; the only possible way she could help Wilbur would be to set him squarely on his own legs and leave him there.

His door opened, to her surprise, before she could knock. He was dressed, with his hat on, and his coat over his arm. "I heard you coming up,' he said. "I was just going down after you. I'm afraid I've got to talk with you, Lou."

"Yes," said she. "We'll go outside for breakfast."

They took a corner table. She looked him over with cool, quiet eyes. His color was off, and his eyes far from clear. The sensitive mouth twitched nervously, and every now and then he pressed his lips together in what was evidently and pathetically a mighty effort at self-control. She found her interest quickened, as well as her sympathy, for she had never seen him quite like this. He was living through a battle, apparently putting up a real fight.

He opened the conversation. "First, Lou, I think I'd better say just this: I know I made a fool of myself last night."

"Let's not talk about that, Wilbur." She said it kindly.

"We wont. I just had to say that much. I—I haven't slept any. Didn't take off my clothes all night."

"But that isn't wise. More than anything else you need sleep."

"There'll be time for that.' " He moved a slender hand. "As a matter of fact, it was worth while. I've thought it all out. Got my balance back. And I know what I've got to do. I've been thinking; in a way we were wrong in what we did."

"Perhaps."

"But we were right, too. There had to be some sort of a break with Mother. That has become very clear to me. We couldn't go on as we were. But now we've had the break. It marks the end of something else."

Lou had never seen him in this sensitively firm mood. He had the air of one who is building the conversation to a definite and difficult end. The whining incompetent of the previous evening had disappeared. For the first time in their acquaintance the thought rose in her mind that there might be mettle in him.

"I'm not going to dwell on the past, Lou," He was pushing a saltshaker this way and that. "That's no good, of course. All I'll say is that if I—well, if I succeed in working this out, I shall owe everything to you." ("Oh, come!' 'said Lou.) "Yes, I shall. You saw clear into the situation. You made yourself no end of trouble." ("Really Wilbur—") "by pitching in and helping me take a stand. I didn't see it as you did." ("You were too close to it.") "But please listen, Lou! All this is rather difficult to say. And I've got to say it. What I finally got into my head during the night—it was queer; I made endless sketches. Tried a lot of you—your head. Some day I want to make a real head of you, see if I can't catch your poise and that look about your eyes. It's baffled me some. What I was saying is that I did, I think, get the thing clear in my head. I'm in a queer fix. You'd think a man, if he had anything in him at all, could deal decently with his own mother."

"I don't think I do. Anyhow, what I'm getting at is that it isn't your problem. It's mine. And you can't handle it for me. It's just one of those human puzzles a person has to work out. I don't know that it particularly matters which. But I am sure now—I should have seen it all along—that no one else can do it for me."

"Yes," said she gently—she was deeply moved; no need now to rub it in. "Yes, I suppose that's the truth of it. But what is it you're planning to do?"

"I'm going back to Mother."

"Are you sure that you—"

"I've thought it over from every possible angle." He smiled unhappily. "All night! But the point is, I'm going back with a difference. I want you to understand that it's your help that has cleared the air for me. There had to be the break—something clean and sharp. You saw that. Well, we've had it. She'll know now that a change has come. And there are some things about that, little things, perhaps, but—It will be an issue. She'll never let me alone. Be at me all the time. Mother can keep at you . . . However, I've got to take my stand. I've got to. And I know all the difficulties. All of them." He pressed his lips together. "I'm afraid we'll have to go through some quarrels. If I were surer of my own nerves, it would be easier. But I've got to take my stand, no matter what it comes to. I realize that she has driven me into this inferiority complex. All my life she's been at it. She's so dominant—and so persistent. She knows just where my most sensitive nerves are, and how to play on them. She doesn't mean to be unkind. It's more like a blind instinct. I know. But I've got to see that no matter what happens, even if it kills her,"—he drew in his breath with a nervous shudder—"I've got to see it through. And I've got to try to be kind to her. I've thought of some things I can do. Have flowers in the apartment, and take her out to the theater once in a while—you know, not just fight against her influence all the time. Don't you think that's the best way, Lou?"

She, clasping her hands before her on the table, considering him, found her eyes filling. She contrived to say: "Yes, Wilbur, you're right. You're taking the only fine course. It'll be hard, but I'm afraid there's no easy way out."

On Children's Day free tickets, good for admission to the grounds during the day and to the grounds and paddock for the night show, will be honored when presented by children of grade school age, who must be accompanied by an adult to look after them.

These tickets will be distributed through the schools in the Wheeling district, but may be secured for children of grade school age anywhere in the tri-state region of West Virginia, Ohio, and Pennsylvania by their parents writing to Secretary Bert H. Swartz, Wheeling, stating the number of children they desire to take to the fair on that day and their ages. ## Marked Decrease is Shown in Number of Women Physicians

"Contrary to popular notion, there is a marked decrease in the number of women taking up the study of medicine," Dr. Hanks said.

"There are some very definite reasons for this. First and foremost the economic problem. A family does not take kindly as a rule to sending a girl to a medical college. This means that if a woman wants to become a physician she must do it by her own efforts and earn her way through college.

"It's not so easy for a girl to earn her way through a medical course as a man."

Auto Death Record Soars

Twenty-four persons met violent deaths and scores were injured in Ohio over the week-end, a survey shows.

While a few drownings, the result of hundreds seeking relief from the heat wave, and one or two deaths from other causes occurred, most of the fatalities were attributable to automotive vehicles.

In Columbiana county, five persons were injured—an East Liverpool girl at Fredericktown and one Leetonia and three East Palestine men on the Lisbon-Leetonia road near Leetonia—all of them in motor car accidents.

Despite the price of their recklessness, automobile drivers persist in "stepping on the gas," speeding past street cars which are discharging or taking on passengers, and traveling over railroad and traction line crossings without paying attention to the common sense rules of safety.

And among the flagrant violators of state laws and city ordinances governing the operation of automobiles are many East Liverpool and Wellsville motorists who have converted the new inter-city highway into a speedway. On this new road there is no speed limit, judging from the antics of the maniacal drivers.

Fifteen car operators were arrested on the Wellsville end of the highway over Sunday, but so far none has been apprehended on the East Liverpool section. And scores of complaints of deliberate defiance of the law have been heard.

It is high time for action against the automobile speeder here. The old adage about "a stitch in time" should prompt a general round-up before the life of some pedestrian is exacted.

Camping Safety

Water is the main danger when touring. The wise family carries with it a large earthenware or thermos jug and fills it at safe places. City water is usually dependable. This is kept for drinking, and all other water is boiled before use.

Condensed or powdered milk is better for children than unreliable fresh milk. Have a look at the stable before buying milk at a roadside farm. It is all right to carry small supplies of staples, such as flour, corn meal, sugar, tea, cocoa, salt, etc., in a tight motor lunchbox, but fresh foods need air. They can go with the cooking utensils in a light, ventilated basket on long trips, or in an ice receptacle on short ones, It is best, anyhow, to buy small amounts and renew them frequently. Spoiled food is always a menace, at home or abroad.

Wool clothing is needed, and wool or corduroy knickers for everybody in the family are usually advisable around camp fires. Mosquitoes are far more dangerous than snakes, because there are so many more of them. Sometimes they endanger the health; always they endanger tempers and destroy peace.

So much for the safety provisions for the tourists themselves. Leaving the camp site as neat as the home kitchen is important for everybody else. It seems needless to say once more that fires must be thoroughly put out, but there are still people in the world who never seem to have heard this warning. And the family that wants a pleasant place to come to next year must set a good example to its fellow-tourists this trip.

Medical Fakes

The medical fakes of a few years ago mostly took the form of what were called patent medicines—warranted to cure anything, and containing, as a rule, water, flavoring, and just enough of a habit-forming drug to keep the patient buying more.

The present day style takes, quite often, the form of a "laboratory" which advertises that it will "awaken glands and nerves and give back the vigor of youth."

Light thrown by the medical world and the forces of publicity upon the cause and cure of tuberculosis has to a large extent deprived of their riotous gains those people who used to guaranteee "consumption cures." But face-lifters who will ruin what features you have got and leave you worse off than before, for large sums of good coin, are still rampant.

The U. S. government, according to Hygeia, has been closing the mails to great numbers of these swindlers, but other numbers are still operating, some of them managing to keep just under the law, others flouting it openly for the sake of getting what they can while the getting is good.

It's curious what people will do to their precious internal workings because they are afraid of doctors or doctors' fees. Yet the doctor always costs less than the fake, and gives one a chance at health.

Protecting German Beauty

The Bavarian alderman who sought to levy a tax of $10 on every bobbed head in order that "the ideal of German womanly beauty be protected against the mutilation of modern fashions" deserved to have his motion lost.

Little does he know about women. If bobs are in style, taxes won't stop them. Any lassie who sees her favorite laddie casting glances at some other girl's bobbed head would think bobbing her own well worth the price.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 20.—Shopping is always an adventure in New York—whether you buy or not. I've returned from an exploration to carol the wonders although I didn't make a purchase. I beheld many things—from a cork monkey that climbs up a string to a $90,000 pearl necklace.

There was, for instance, a rubber night dress for mustaches which fits around the mustache, is attached to the ears and keeps the mustache in were sizes, ranging from the Ray meticulous shape over night. There Long to the Over-Niagara of Laurence D'Orsay.

For those who play "African golf" there was a tube of glycerine containing dice. Inverted, they strike prongs and roll over and over so that one may make his point. It is obvious they are made so devotees may play with strangers.

Everything appears monogrammed this year, and for a small sum one may purchase monograms in steel for hat bands, luggage, handbags, walking sticks and even shoes. There are also gold bands for wrist watches, fashioned with links of one's monogram.

Handkerchiefs have taken on unusual novelty effects. There are for the ladies those with tiny pockets containing a miniature powder puff. And for the men are those about four times the average size and of such soft texture they may be tucked in a watch pocket.

And a powder compact, fitting into the palm of the hand, that will hold a lipstick, mirror, puff, eyebrow pencil, cigaret lighter and on the reverse side a secret pocket for a cute miniature flask to hold perfume or something or other.

Also an automatic pencil with a perpetual calendar, barometer, collar buttoner, nail file and hidden scissors—retailing modestly at $47. And the inventor forgot the rubber eraser, goody! goody! For that price they ought to throw in a kiddie car.

I find unusual courtesy among sales folk. Even the clerk with the Burlington Arcade accent who showed me the $90,000 necklace looked me over and didn't roll on the floor in a gale of laughter. He told me they required only $40,000 down. I worshipped that "only." I wish I knew a good trade last for him, too.

It seems to me that despite snippishness found here and there the New York clerks are the most alert in the world. They are as quick, if the simile is pardonable, as a nanny-goat's tail. Rarely does a customer idle around before being waited upon. When a customer opens the door, clerks seem to leap at him.

Any many are diplomatists. They have a finesse in calming the ruffled. I was recently sold a pair of shoes entirely too small. I said so at the time. But I was talked out of it and after a torturous evening I found next morning my feet had swollen so I could not get them on. My bath was devoted to a rehearsal of cutting things I intended to say to him. After breakfast in high rage I visited the store. He disarmed me at once with a complimentary remark and was so gracious that after a few moments I apologized for having such big feet and departed.

Down in the stores in Chinatown a sale is never forced. In the largest store there you may wander about for hours without a clerk making a single suggestion. Everything is displayed. If you want an article you buy it. I may be a good system, but one notices that business down there is seldom rushing. In Division street, not so far away, the process is entirely different. Salesmen will often follow you for a block to make a sale, and what is more they usually make it. Or pull off your coat sleeve as a souvenir.

NOT AT ALL SINGULAR

An American journalist in poor health spent the summer of 1910 at a resort in Southern France. The proprietor was an English woman, and all of the other guests were English too. They were friendly and kind to the invalid—all excepting one very austere and haughty lady.

On his first day as a guest at the house he heard this lady say to the landlady:

"I distinctly understood that you did not admit Americans as lodgers here, and I wish to know why you have broken the rule."

The other woman explained that the stranger had come with good references and that he seemed a quiet, well-mannered person who handn't offered to scalp anybody and who knew how to eat with a knife and fork. Nevertheless the complaining matron was not at all pleased.

She took frequent opportunity of saying unkind things about the States and those who lived in the States. The sick American maintained a polite silence. Finally one day at the dinner table she addressed him with direct reference to a certain ghastly murder case which even after the lapse of eleven years will be remembered by the readers today.

"What do you Yankees think of your fellow-Yankee, Doctor Crippen?" she inquired.

"We think he's crazy," said the American.

"How singular!" said the lady, arching her eyebrows.

"Not at all," said the American. "He must have been crazy to kill an American woman in order to marry an English one."

Truth in Advertising Campaign.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 20.—A frank and vigorous campaign to secure truthful and accurate labeling of furniture for what it is, rather than what it may appear to be, has marked one of the important steps of the Federal Trade commission under the plan of operations which is now guiding the majority of that commission, and which is expected to develop similar campaigns in other basic trades and industries. Making public the names of 722 furniture manufacturers who have accepted the commission's rules about how furniture should be labelled, tagged, advertised, and sold, the commission has also made public a list of 68 firms which have declined to agree to the new rules.

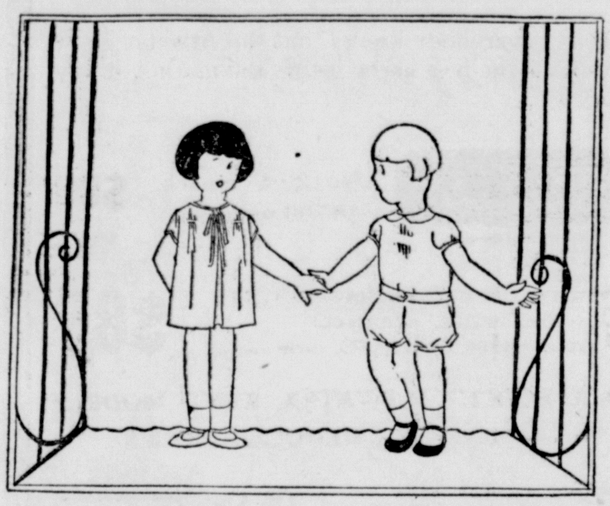

Together with this official publicity, the commission plainly adds, "All concerns, therefore, who continue to describe their products contrary to the rules, including those not describing their veneered furniture as such, will be investigated and complaints issued where the concern is engaged in interstate commerce."

This is a new method of procedure by the commission, and seems to mark out the line of duty which the majority now regards as its purpose in preventing unfair competition in trade. The announcement concerning the furniture rules is entirely devoid of any reference to trusts, big business, stifling competition, monopoly, or any of the other allegations against big industries which have marked much of the history of Federal Trade commission operations. It adheres closely to the letter of the law which created the commission, to deal with cases of unfair competition. Under the furniture ruling the commission says that mis-branding an article of furtniture is unfair competition with the firm which brands its furniture correctly. To determine what was correct and fair branding or labelling, and what was misleading or unfair, the commission held conferences with furniture manufacturers and dealers, and adopted a set of rules which the dealers themselves submitted. It then asked every manufacturer if he would abide by these rules. The answers to date were 722 yes and 68 no, and the commission has now warned the 68 that they will be forced to abide by the adopted rules, if the courts support the position of the commission.

This method of dealing with a whole industry in a public manner opens the way to other rule-making by the commission. It deals with what the majority of the commission thinks is Federal Trade commission business, namely the common practices of trade. The commission has recently been the scene of marked disagreements among its members about procedure.

Indians Recognize Friends As Circus Parade Passes

Hail Rev. R. G. Smith and Son, Prof. Kenneth M. Smith, of High School Faculty.

When the dozen or more members of the Musquakie Indians, with the Miller Brothers 101 Ranch Wild West Show, visited East Liverpool last Saturday they found at least three persons whom they knew.

They were: Rev. and Mrs. R. G. Smith, Indian missionary workers, and their son, Prof. Kenneth M. Smith, ceramics instructor in the local high school. Mr. and Mrs. Smith, who have been working among the 375 members of the Musquakie tribe at Tama, Iowa, for about 20 years, are visiting their son, Prof. Kenneth Smith, West Third street.

Mrs. Smith was witnessing the parade on Washington street when she recognized several of the Indians. She stepped to the curb and called them by their Indian names. They replied with a friendly salute. A little further along the parade route, Rev. Mr. Smith and his son, Kenneth, called to the Indians. Rev. Mr. Smith and his son were guests of the management of the show at the afternoon performance.

The Indians, according to Mrs. Smith, quit the government reservation about two months ago when the 101 Ranch Show was leaving its Oklahoma winter headquarters. Rev. Mr. Smith, in addition to his religious work among the Indians, is also at the head of a hospital for Indian tubercular patients conducted on the reservation.

Q. Has the Sesquicentennial a name that corresponds to the "White City" which housed the Columbian Exposition at Chicago? P. A. L.

A. The Philadelphia exposition is known as the "Rainbow City." The buildings are tinted in pastel shades laid on the stucco.

Q. Is it cruel to keep a dog muzzled? A. D.

A. The Bureau of Animal Industry says that it is no more severe to muzzle a dog than to use a horse with a steel bit in its mouth. Muzzling dogs through the summer causes an immediate decline in the number of cases of rabies.

Q. What does it cost to educate a cadet at West Point? F. S.

A. The War Department estimates the cost of putting a cadet through the United States Military Academy to be $10,000.

Q. When will the Oregon Trail coins be struck? G. M.

A. A design for this coin has not been accepted yet.

Q. Who are the members of an emperor's household? P. E. G.

A. They are too numerous to mention. The principal members are as follows: Aides, equerries, gentlemen in waiting, chamberlain, herald, master of the hunt, cup bearer, master of ceremonies, manager of the Royal Theatre, master of the horse, chef, gentlemen of the bed chamber, pages and superintendents of pages.

Q. What is meant by the International Zone of Tangier? C. F. D.

A. The status of Tangier because of its strategic position at the entrance to the Mediterranean became an intimate concern of the foreign offices of France, Spain and Great Britain, in the years immediately following the World war. In July, 1923, a commission composed of French, Spanish and British experts met for the purpose of preparing a new agreement regarding this territory. The sittings were completed December 18, 1923. The provisional agreement as submitted to the governments of the countries represented contained the following provisions: The Tangier Zone, whose permanent neutrality was assured, was to continue as a part of Morocco under its own constitution. The municipality of Tangier was to be under both a committee of control and an international legislative assembly. The customs service was to be under the control of the international administration. Economic equality at the port was to be observed. No fortifications were to be erected. A protocol was signed July, 1925, by Great Britain, France and Spain providing for permanent neutrality, security and internationalization.

Q. Are honeys that are dark in color, stronger in taste? T. T.

A. Generally speaking, the darker honeys have richer flavor. Some light honeys, however, have pronounced characteristic flavors.

Q. What color should clothes be to be coolest in the summer time? L. W.

A. White is best, then gray, and yellow.

Q. What are rune stones? N. S.

A. They are stone or monuments on which are engraved runes — the earliest form of the Teutonic alphabet.

Q. Could the Sahara Desert be converted into an inland sea? B. M.

A. The Sahara is, generally speaking, a table-land 1,300 to 1,600 feet above sea level. This fact would interfere seriously with such a plan.

Q. Were there instances during our Civil war when troops were affected by scurvy? A. C. T.

A. It is estimated that at least 15 per cent of the deaths in the Civil war were caused by scurvy.

Q. How many men and women are

A. There are 334,326 men and 187,528 women enrolled.

Q. At what time of day are fires most frequent in New York city? G. A. N.

A. According to a report to the fire commissioner there were in 1925: 4,137 fires from 6 a. m. to noon; 7,886 fires from noon to 6 p. m.; from 6 p. m. to midnight, 7,709 fires, and from midnight to 6 a. m. 3,117 fires.

Q. How do airmen keep themselves warm when flying? C. R. F.

A. Aviators when flying in high altitudes wear electrically heated clothing, suits which are wired with batteries. These suits are also fur lined.

Q. Why does foam look white? W. A. C.

A. The fact that foam generally appears white is due to its being composed of tiny bubbles which reflect the light from their surfaces. When white light, such as sunlight, shines upon them, they therefore naturally appear white.

Q. Please name some famous bachelors of history. D. A. T.

A. Voltaire, Gibbon, Macauley, Cowper, Pope, Gray, Charles Lamb, Walter Pater, Swinburne, Beethoven, Leonardo da Vinci, Lord Kitchener, Cecil Rhodes, General Gordon, William Pitt, the younger, and Sir Isaac Newton.

Q. Please give the full name of Richthofen, and the way in which he was killed. E. M. S.

A. The full name of Baron von Richthofen was Manfred Albrecht, freiherr von Richthofen. He was born May 2, 1892. He was shot down on Sunday, April 21, 1918, during a combat in which several other German planes were engaged. His machine crashed and examination later showed that he had a bullet through his heart. It is difficult to say whether it came from ground fire or from British machines which were in pursuit.

Q. What were the highest and lowest voting percentages in presidential elections? W. R.

A. The highest voting percentage of eligible voters who cast their ballot as far as there is accurate record was in 1880 when the percentage was 84 per cent. The lowest was in 1920 when the number was 50.9 per cent. The lowest before the suffrage was granted to women was in 1912 with 62.8 per cent.

Q. How does the amount of caffeine in coca cola compare with the amount in coffee? G. B.

A. There are from .92 to 1.30 grams per fl. oz. of caffeine in coca cola. There is 1.24 per cent of caffeine in roasted coffee.

and to attack the aluminum business as being a trust, and to go in generally for trust-busting. The majority, led by Commissioner Will E. Humphrey, chairman, has adopted the general view that trust-busting is the business of the department of Justice, under the Sherman Law, and that the Federal Trade commission was designed to regulate trade practices in order to protect the public and the honest trader against unfair methods of competition.

Responsibility of Publications.

In addition to the furniture case, the commission just prior to the summer vacation period began looking into the question of fradulent advertising from a new angle, namely that of holding a publication responsible if it prints a fradulent advertisement. A test case is in preparation in which the commission plans to order a magazine to cease and desist from publishing a certain advertisement which the commission will allege is a fraud on its face.

Hitherto the defendant in such cases would be the advertiser, but some of the commissioners decided that the publisher was equally a party to the transaction if a brave purchased the fradulently advertised article in response to the advertisement. They also took into consideration that certain advertisers coming within the patent medicine group were very hard to reach. They could be forced to desist from one practice, and could change their name and start again from a new address. A publication, on the other hand, remains in one place, and what it printed remains a matter of record and is easily fixed with responsibility.

Hence the commission plans to order a publication to cease and desist from publishing a selected advertisement, and if it refuses the case will be taken to the Federal courts. In fairness to the parties concerned, no publicity will be given the case chosen until the publisher has a chance to answers, and to desist if he choses that course rather than a court contest.

This plan of the Federal Trade commission will be observed with interest ly business everywhere, as it may open an entirely new agency for dealing with advertising. Hitherton the only Federal supervision of advertising has been the post office department, which can bar indecent matter from the mail, or bar the mail of any concern doing a fradulent business. The Post Office, however, has been somewhat handicapped in dealing with alleged frauds, as it has been obliged to gather much evidence to prove its case, to find an actual victim of the fraud, and in the case of a patent medicine, for example, to prove definitely that the medicine would not do what its manufacturers claimed for it in some statement sent through the mail.

Probable Procedure.

The Federal Trade commission has a much broader authority. It can issue a notice that it suspects unfair practice (any fraud being an unfair practice) and then issue a case and desist order and place the burden of proof, if the case is taken to court, at least partly on the defendant, who is obliged either to desist from what the commission says is unfair, or show cause why he should not be interferred with. If the commission succeeds in fixing upon a publication the responsibility for seeing that advertising which it prints is not fraudulent, it will hold a much greater and more direct power than rests with the Post Office fraud orders.

A majority of publications of all sorts, and associations both of advertisers and of publishers and advertising agencies, have been striving for years to maintain a high standard of truth in advertising. They will probably welcome the assistance of the Federal Trade commission, although watching with some care to see whether the exercise of this new power, or newly asserted power, oversteps any of the constitutional guarantees of freedom of the press.

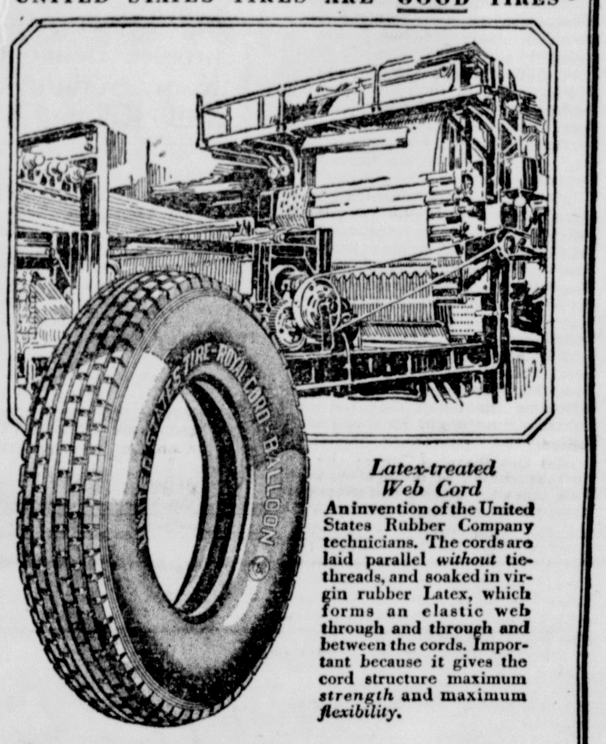

The furniture campaign will probably reach the Federal courts before the advertising case is acted upon. An association of furniture manufacturers at Grand Rapids, Michigan, objects to one of the new rules which says that a veneered furniture in which the basic wood is not of the same material as the veneered surface, must be labelled veneered. Thus much furniture hitherto labelled mahogany, or walnut, would have to be called mahogany veneered and walnut veneered.

The manufacturers in question do not contend that they want to mislead the buyer, but they think the word veneer is misunderstood by the public, and carries some stigma of cheapness or imitation quality. The commission has heard this question argued at length, and has declared flat-footedly that veneered shall be the term and that it must be used under the adopted rules. A test of the order will probably be made shortly in the Federal courts.

Some foreigners may lie, but if they do the ones we see now and then down town are certainly pleasant lies. —Urbana Democrat.

An invention of the United States Rubber Company technicians. The cords are laid parallel without tie-threads, and soaked in virgin rubber Latex, which forms an elastic web through and through and between the cords. Important because it gives the cord structure maximum strength and maximum flexibility.

Answering Some Further Questions about Latex-treated Web Cord

NOTE—So great an interest has been shown in this new construction because of the service given by United States Royal Cord Tires on passenger cars and busses that a further explanation of this patented process has been suggested.

A—Yes. Until this process was developed by the United States Rubber Company, the use of Latex before it had been coagulated into crude rubber had never been used in tire building.

Q—Is the process patented?
A—Yes. The process is patented and owned by this Company.

Q—What are its advantages?
A—The tire engineer's ideal is a tire thin and flexible as a soap bubble and strong as steel. The more you can add to a tire's strength without increasing its weight the better.
Latex-treated Web Cord provides the strength and flexibility without adding unnecessary weight.

Q—Is it possible to make the cord structure of a tire too heavy?
A—Yes. Just as a cable made of many strands of fine and highly tempered wire can be stronger than a heavier iron bar, so the cord structure of a tire can be made strong, yet light and flexible, through this process.

Q—How does treating cords in Latex give additional strength?
A—Latex is virgin rubber just as it comes from the tree.
There are no chemicals in Latex to destroy the natural oils in the cotton or to weaken the cord fibre.
Each cord in a United States Tire is run through a tank of Latex by means of the machine shown in the illustration above.
The cords are then laid side by side and drawn up over heated rollers which evaporate the water in the Latex, producing a rubberized fabric of cotton cords and pure rubber.
Each cord is impregnated and surrounded by rubber, and attached to its neighboring cord with an elastic rubber web.

Q—Are there any other advantages?
A—Yes. In the old cord fabric, the main strands in the cord structure were tied to each other with fine threads.
Latex-treated Web Cord has none of these cross-tie threads and this source of internal friction is therefore eliminated.
By looking inside of a Royal Cord Tire and comparing it with tires made of the old cord fabric you will see that the Royal Cord has a much smoother and evener appearance.

Indians Recognize Friends As Circus Parade Passes

Hail Rev. R. G. Smith and Son, Prof. Kenneth M. Smith, of High School Faculty.

When the dozen or more members of the Musquakie Indians, with the Miller Brothers 101 Ranch Wild West Show, visited East Liverpool last Saturday they found at least three persons whom they knew.

They were: Rev. and Mrs. R. G. Smith, Indian missionary workers, and their son, Prof. Kenneth M. Smith, ceramics instructor in the local high school. Mr. and Mrs. Smith, who have been working among the 375 members of the Musquakie tribe at Tama, Iowa, for about 20 years, are visiting their son, Prof. Kenneth Smith, West Third street.

Mrs. Smith was witnessing the parade on Washington street when she recognized several of the Indians. She stepped to the curb and called them by their Indian names. They replied with a friendly salute. A little further along the parade route, Rev. Mr. Smith and his son, Kenneth, called to the Indians. Rev. Mr. Smith and his son were guests of the management of the show at the afternoon performance.

The Indians, according to Mrs. Smith, quit the government reservation about two months ago when the 101 Ranch Show was leaving its Oklahoma winter headquarters. Rev. Mr. Smith, in addition to his religious work among the Indians, is also at the head of a hospital for Indian tubercular patients conducted on the reservation.

NOTE—So great an interest has been shown in this new construction because of the service given by United States Royal Cord Tires on passenger cars and busses that a further explanation of this patented process has been suggested.

Q—Is the process patented?

A—Yes. The process is patented and owned by this Company.

Q—What are its advantages?

A—The tire engineer's ideal is a tire thin and flexible as a soap bubble and strong as steel. The more you can add to a tire's strength without increasing its weight the better.

Latex-treated Web Cord provides the strength and flexibility without adding unnecessary weight.

Q—Is it possible to make the cord structure of a tire too heavy?

A—Yes. Just as a cable made of many strands of fine and highly tempered wire can be stronger than a heavier iron bar, so the cord structure of a tire can be made strong, yet light and flexible, through this process.

Q—How does treating cords in Latex give additional strength?

There are no chemicals in Latex to destroy the natural oils in the cotton or to weaken the cord fibre.

The cords are then laid side by side and drawn up over heated rollers which evaporate the water in the Latex, producing a rubberized fabric of cotton cords and pure rubber.

Each cord is impregnated and surrounded by rubber, and attached to its neighboring cord with an elastic rubber web.

Q—Are there any other advantages?

A—Yes. In the old cord fabric, the main strands in the cord structure were tied to each other with fine threads.

Latex-treated Web Cord has none of these cross-tie threads and this source of internal friction is therefore eliminated.

By looking inside of a Royal Cord Tire and comparing it with tires made of the old cord fabric you will see that the Royal Cord has a much smoother and evener appearance.

F. A. FENNING QUITS JOB AS COOLIDE ACTS

Commissioner of District of Columbia Resigns Place.

Announcement is Made at Summer White House.

WHITE PINES CAMP, N. Y., July 20.—Frederick A. Fenning has resigned as commissioner of the District of Columbia at the formal request of President Coolidge.

He will step out of office in a few days and his successor will be named immediately.

The official statement was forthcoming today from the summer White House here.

It was revealed that Fenning's resignation actually has been in the hands of the attorney general since President Coolidge left Washington two weeks ago. Announcement of its receipt was withheld, however, as the president desired the commissioner to complete certain tasks before stepping out of office.

In behalf of President Coolidge it was stated that the executive had anticipated the resignation of Fenning as a result of the findings of the two house committees which had investigated the conduct of his office, but to make certain the executive had, just before departing on his summer vacation, made a formal request for it.

HURT IN WRECK, ASKS $25,000

Mrs. Ida Fox Sues Traction Company in County Court.

Mrs. Ida Fox, of this city, through her counsel, W. A. O'Grady, Wellsville, has filed an action in common pleas court at Lisbon, seeking $25,000 damages from the Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction company as the result of a collision between two Grandview street cars on August 8, 1924.

Mrs. Fox claims that she was a passenger on a north-bound Grandview car which was struck by a south-bound car at a switch just south of the Riverview cemetery entrance. She alleges that she was violently thrown to the floor and as a result received severe injuries to her spine and neck and also suffered from a nervous shock.

THE distinguished and Rt. Rev. Dr. Manning, Episcopal bishop of New York, sailed last week for Europe, leaving this sensible message.

He adds that the "jazz period," with the smoking and drinking among women, is fading away.

BISHOP MANNING in France will study the great cathedrals, and see in one of them huge stones dragged along the ground, mile after mile, by crowds of men, women and children, working for the glory of God and no other reward in the middle ages.

HE will see real cathedrals, built with a Christian enthusiasm that never sent a collector into Wall Street and never included a "sports feature" among its stained glass windows. And he will wish that his cathredal building activities had fallen in those ancient days of deeper faith.

THE 29 Mohammedan seamen of the British ship City of Newcastle, deserted at New York, camped on the dock and cooked their own food. They discovered that their cook was a Buddhist and they couldn't eat of his cooking because, as everybody should know, what a Buddhist touches is contaminated. They may take that less seriously when they reach England under a charge of mutiny. The belief of these ignorant seamen that the Lord of the universe is vitally interested in their food was common enough once.

fight to free the Hill district leader on a habeas corpus writ, and announced that he hoped to get a hearing for Psialias not later than Wednesday morning.

With each detail of Psialias' story carefully checked in the localities where he told police he had stopped on his trip to Warren, O., on the day of Mellett's death, police had a completely tabulated account of Psialias' movements to present to Lieut. Connors when he returned from a conference with officials at Canton.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, July 20.—Stocks of the motor companies absorbed most of the speculative interest in the stock market in the early trading today. Hudson Motors jumped into the spot light with a new 4 point gain in the first period but declined to 65, professional trading, chiefly the "squeezing of the shorts," was the most important factor in the market movements of this stock.

The financial district was pleased with the weekly report on brokers loans, issued after the close of business yesterday. It showed that there was no increase in speculative borrowing, despite the recent heavy turnover in stocks at higher price levels. The chaotic situation in the foreign exchanges spread to the Italian lira, which also reached a new low for the year, in company with the French franc, which today approximated 2 cents to the franc.

The stock market was unusually active for a mid-summer session, sales in the first hour approximating 525,000 shares. General Motors and United states steel were freely offered on profit taking and short selling, and prices declined nearly 2 points. But pool operations were resumed aggressively in Chrysler and Dodge Motor and in other stocks with which William C. Durant is reported to be identified.

The Copper stocks continued to move forward under the lead of Anaconda and American Smelting, while Baldwin led a moderate rally in the equipments and sold above 120 for the first time since March. A new fractional slump in the oils followed reports of 22,000 barrel increase in daily crude oil production and the prospect of a heavy flow in the newly discovered fields in Texas panhandle.

Call money was unchanged at 4 per cent.

PASTOR CALM AS HE AWAITS MURDER TRIAL

Accused Cancels His Engagement in New York.

FORT WORTH, Tex., July 20.—While sentiment smouldered threateningly here today for and against the Rev. Frank Norris, who killed B. E. Chipps, Fort Worth lumberman, during a bitter quarrel, the pastor slayer calmly announced plans for a mammoth revival service.

Rev. Mr. Norris announced he has cancelled an engagement in New York for next week because he wished "to remain with my congregation this summer and inaugurate one of the biggest revivals I have yet attempted," he said.

Kary Crowley, Fort Worth manager for Lynch Davidson, gubernatorial candidate, today was drawn into the grand jury investigation of the killing.

He, with 12 others, was summoned to appear before the jury, although District Attorney R. K. Hanger refused to indicate what connection Crowley might have with the affair.

Unofficially, Portsmouth reported 99.

Chicago Death Toll 12.

CHICAGO, July 20.—Refreshing breezes from Lake Michigan brought a measure of relief to sweltering Chicago today. The government weather bureau promised no other respite from the high temperatures that scorched the city yesterday and exacted a toll of 12 lives.

The heat wave is general from the Rocky mountain states to the Atlantic seaboard. The middle west suffered most. Temperatures of 100 degrees or more were recorded in a number of places. Chicago reached a maximum of 94.2 at 4:30 yesterday afternoon, the hottest July 19 on record.

Deaths by States.

Known dead, due to the heat and accompanying storms, in the states over which the torrid wave has settled, totalled 35 at 6 o'clock this morning. Scores of persons are prostrated. States reported as follows:

No Tangible Clues

Check Up Hotel Clerk's Story.

This morning he declared that he "was through quizzing" members of the underworld. With the police department practically ignored as participants in the probe, the chief seemed not unwilling to get the department working "on normal cases again."

It is possible, however, that Slater may go to Warren today to check up on the story told by George Psialias, alias "George, the Greek," and on the story told by the clerk of the Lincoln hotel there to Lieut. Connor, of the Pittsburgh homicide squad, on his visit there last night.

The clerk is said to have admitted that he registered for Psialias on last Friday morning, or rather—"about midnight." Garage attendants were said to have told Connor that Psialias' automobile was not placed in a Warren garage until about 1 o'clock Friday morning.

It was not learned, according to an announcement early today, whether the clerk had registered while Psialias was present, or if he had been previously told to place the Pittsburg man's name on the register. If the habeas corpus action being started in Pittsburgh by Psialias' attorney proves successful, County Prosecutor C. B. McClintock will start counter action to have him held until Slater can check up on the Warren angle, McClintock said today.

Mysterious Telephone Call.

Possibility that a person other than the foreign-speaking man who warned Don Mellett on the Sunday before the crime that death was approaching might have had some knowledge of the murder was revealed here today, when it was learned that a mysterious call for the slain editor was received by Earl Shaeffer, composing room foreman on the Canton News within 45 minutes before Mellett was brutally murdered.

"The call came in about 11:30 o'clock on Thursday night," Shaeffer declared.

"No," I replied.

"Where does he live?"

"On Tuscarawas street. What do you want of him?" Shaeffer asked the mysterious caller.

"I've an important message for him, please get me his telephone number and his exact address," the voice pleaded.

Caller Slams Up Receiver.

Shaeffer said that he got Mellett's address and telephone number and gave it to the "caller" over the phone.

"When I asked him 'who was talking' he slammed up the receiver," Shaeffer added.

Although it is possible that this last mysterious telephone conversation might have been in reference to some of the battles that Mellett was waging on the underworld and the police department, it is thought significant by some because it came less than an hour before the publisher met his death.

The eyes of many of the probers were turned toward Pittsburgh, Warren, Massillon, Cleveland, and other cities in the belief that the solution of the crime might be found in these cities.

But Ora Slater, hired by the county to take charge of the search, declared this morning, after a full night's work, that he "really had no more to work on now than yesterday morning."

Slater also let it be known that his work would "keep him in Canton today," which might indicate that the wily Cincinnati detective thought that the killers or an important lead might be found in Canton.

Chief of Police S. A. Lengel maintains in a rather solitary manner that the killers of Mellett and those back of the killing will never be found in Canton.

Donahey Summons Detective.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 20.—John D. Cleary, head of a Columbus, O., detective agency, today was summoned by Governor Donahey of Ohio to join the investigation of the murder of Dan Mellett, Canton newspaper publisher.

Cleary, who was here attending the convention of the International Secret Service association, said he had received a telegram asking him to meet the governor in Philadelphia. From there he expects to start actively on the trail of the slayer.

CROWD ATTENDS BIG CARNIVAL

Patterson Field is Thronged at Opening of West Shows.

Every attraction of the 25-car organization was ready for the opening. The company presents a dozen shows, 10 riding devices and about two-score concessions.

The midway, with its thousands of electric lights, was a dazzling spectacle last night. The show is conspicuous by the absence of the usual objectionable features which are associated with many carnival companies.

A children's matinee will be given between 2 and 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. A five-cent admission fee will be charged for all shows and rides.

The show will operate every evening this week.

BRADLEY BURNS IS FINED $10

Pleading guilty to a charge of speeding, Bradley Burns was fined $10 and costs by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley, this morning. Burns was arrested by Patrolman Roth and McFarland along the River Road last night while traveling at a rate estimated by the police at between 40 and 50 miles an hour. His fine was paid.

CANTON CRIME PROMPTS CLEAN-UP OF UNDERWORLD IN CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, O., July 20.—Declaring that the crime situation at Canton was a "warning example," Safety Director Barry today ordered a wholesale cleanup of Cleveland's underworld.

"I am going to rid the city of all undesirable characters and gunmen," Barry announced.

"I am issuing herewith an open ultimatum to the underworld leaders of Cleveland to come in and tell what they know about the Mellett case or we will use coercion," Barry said.

The safety director said that his men were making a roundup of all police characters who will be quizzed for any information regarding the shooting of Don Mellett, Canton publisher.

Cincinnati Launches Fresh Attack Against Underworld

Grand Jury Called to Investigate Alleged Race Track Gambling and Handbook Making.

CINCINNATI, O., July 20.—An offensive against the Cincinnati and Hamilton county underworld and general vice conditions launched with the impaneling of a grand jury to investigate alleged race track gambling and handbook making, has been intensified since the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher.

The special grand jury is still in session. County Prosecutor Charles S. Bell, Sheriff Richard B. Witt and a representative of Attorney General Crabbe were to meet today to determine whether or not they will allow the Coney Island racing program to open Thursday or delay it until the grand jury has made a report.

It is expected these authorities would either keep the entire racing plant closed or issue orders against any gambling that may have been contemplated with the opening of the season.

The probe was launched in connection with the operations of alleged "bookies" working with horses running on tracks already open in Kentucky, Ohio, and other states.

Cincinnati police and federal prohibition officers also were bending every effort toward a general roundup. So far the results have consisted in the arrest only of an occasional white underworld character on minor charges, and of negroes on liquor charges.

PLOT TO ASSASSINATE PUBLISHER WAS NOT HATCHED IN OHIO PRISON

Warden Thomas, Denying Investigation, Expresses Belief Inmates Know Nothing of Cowardly Killing.

COLUMBUS, July 20.—"The plot to assassinate Don Mellett was not hatched behind the walls of the Ohio state penitentiary. Prisoners sent here from Canton have not been receiving visitors, and no communications have been passed through. We have questioned one of our prisoners, a man from Canton's underworld, as to who were the higher-ups, but learned little. He knew nothing," was the statement of Warden P. E. Thomas here today.

Warden Thomas declared no investigation is being made in the prison, and expressed belief that inmates knew nothing of a plot, if there was one.

Bandit Whittemore Will be Hanged on Thursday Aug. 12

Instead, he will be hanged until dead at 11:30 p. m. on Thursday, August 12, at Maryland penitentiary.

Warden Brady today sent out the first batch of tickets to witness the hanging. He shoved the time ahead half an hour. Governor Ritchie had set the date as August 13. The warden was privileged to make the change.

Eighteen tickets will be issued. The first five went to the Baltimore newspapers.

Whittemore was convicted of the murder of Robert H. Holtman, prison guard. He carried an appeal to the state's highest court at Annapolis, but lost. He has told prison officers he wanted "to get the thing done quickly, the quicker the better."

Death Twice Visits Ohio Home Within Past Two Days

COLUMBUS, July 20.—Death twice visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Chauncey Rader, on West Second avenue, here within the past two days, and today arrangements were being made for a double funeral service.

The father, 32 years old, and his "buddy," Robert Chauncey, aged 6, were the victims.

Apoplexy coming as the father sat beside the bed of his ill son, brought death first on Sunday night. The child suffered a relapse as his father was carried from the room, and early today his little soul took flight. Today they lay side by side in the once happy little home, while "Mother" Rader and sister, Jean Anna, aged 4, wept.

Tomorrow afternoon the mother and her daughter will accompany the two bodies to Bloomfield, Ohio, where they will lay to rest their husband-father and son-brother.

Boy is Gunshot Victim.

Lengel Condemns "Fags" When Asked About Death Plot

CANTON, July 20.—Chief of Police S. A. Lengel today was perhaps the least perturbed of all persons who are centering their efforts toward the solution of the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton's crusading editor.

Shoving his hat back on the top of his head so that it revealed a mop of coarse gray hair, the chief, who was the target for every charge that the unfortunate publisher hurled at the police department, seemed more prone to condemn cigarettes than to talk of the murder episode.

"Naw, I don't smoke cigarettes," he declared when a newspaper man offered him one.

"I never smoked them but once—that was at the world's fair in Chicago. People thought that a cigarette smoker was a 'tough egg' in those days. I bought a whole package and smoked 'em while I wuz walkin' down Clark street just to keep the beggars away."

LIFE SAVING LESSONS GIVEN

C. W. Robbins on Job at Y. M. C. A. Pool.

Three demonstrations in life saving were given by C. W. Robbins, American Red Cross life saving expert, in his first day's visit in East Liverpool yesterday.

Robbins met the junior boys in the Y. M. C. A. pool at 2:30 o'clock, the intermediates at 7 p. m. and the seniors at 8 p. m. The attendance at the two boys' classes were unusually gratifying, according to Mr. Robbins.

The first day's work consisted of the carries to bring him ashore, drill in prone pressure of resuscitation, methods of restoring the apparently dead and also the method of surface diving for recovering a body from the bottom.

Those who attended yesterday's were:

Intermediates—Paul Cooper, James Wildblood, Alfred Earl, Robert Earl, James Hall, Edwin Bloor, Lester Smith, Lorin Howard, Allen Todd, John Mann and Ralph Jones.

Seniors—W. E. Kaiser, Albert Manton and Daniel Richards.

Robbins conducted classes for the elementaries this morning. At 2 o'clock this afternoon he was scheduled to visit the juniors, at 4 the intermediates and at 8 o'clock tonight will conduct another life saving class for seniors.

Tomorrow he will talk to firemen at the Central station, visit Camp Pine Ridge and Rock Springs parx where he will give life saving instruction. He will also meet with classes of girls and women at the Y. M. C. A. in the afternoon.

Oil Company Scout Dies, Friend Hurt In Airplane Crash

ARDMORE, Okla., July 20.—Details are still lacking today on the wreck of an airplane which fell east of here late yesterday, killing Fred Parks, scout for the Sinclair Oil company, and seriously injuring Walter Critchlow, prominent independent oil operator, who were flying the plane.

BRICK HISTORY ROTARY TOPIC

Ohio Valley Pioneer in Industry, Says Anthony Koehler.

The Ohio Valley was a pioneer in the manufacture of firebrick, Anthony Koehler, superintendent of the East Liverpool works of the Babcock Wilcox company, told Rotarians at the weekly meeting of the club in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. at noon today. His subject was "The Manufacture and Prospects of Refractory Brick."

The first fire clay brick works west of the Allegheny mountains was established in what is now Wellsville in about 1842, Koehler declared. A second plant was erected a year or two later at Hammondsville. Clay, used in the manufacture of these brick taken from the hills in this section, was found to be the best for brick making purposes and soon other plants were established along the river front, he said.

Koehler was introduced by Malcolm W. Thompson, who presided. The chorus singing was led by Dr. Colin F. Kinsey with Mrs. Danks Cochran as the accompanist.

Frank L. Wells, who attended the annual convention of Rotary International held at Denver in June, made a brief report of the meeting. Wells, who was accompanied by his wife, made a pleasure visit to the Pacific coast after the convention, returning to their home in Wellsville a few days ago.

T. S. Brush, general manager of The Review-Tribune, will be chairman of next week's meeting. Mr. Brush will show members of the club through The Review-Tribune plant, Washington street.

Urges Moratorium

or "Yanqui," is particularly rife among the working classes who are told at every opportunity by street orators and newspaper editorials that the United States is responsible for all their ills, particularly the waning purchasing power of the franc.

Throughout the Latin quarter American tourists have been having trouble with quarrelsome and argumentative natives. Most of these ruins, while not serious, do much to mar the pleasure of the visit to Paris.

Quest for American Dollar.

Agents for the large steamship companies reported that the July bookings on the American-bound steamers were unusually heavy, in some cases record-breaking. The homeward rush does not usually start until August. The premature rush was attributed in part to the anti-American feeling in France today.

Aggravating the situation is the declining value of the franc. Frenchmen have lost confidence in their own currency and are beseeching their American friends to sell them dollars. Storekeepers invariably suggest to their customers that they prefer payments in dollars or pounds at the rate of exchange current.

Apartment houses concierges, waiters and others are asking that their tips be given in American money.

Signs in Luxury Shops.

Small luxury shops in the downtown district have placed signs on their counters, both in English and French saying:

"Because of the exchange rate, prices have been increased 25 per-cent.'

Ford automobiles have been boosted 20 per cent. The American Express company and other tourist agencies declined to quote prices of tours in francs, insisting on payment on the basis of the dollar or pound sterling, depending upon the nationality of the tourist.

Extra police have been called out to maintain order.

Italian Currency Declines.

NEW YORK, July 20.—Reflecting the heavy selling of francs and lire in the European markets today, the French and Italian currencies declined to new low levels at the opening of the American exchange.

French francs sustained a new decline of 11 points and were quoted at 2.03½ for demand and 2.04 (cents to the franc) for cables.

The Italian lire slumped 14 points to a new low at 3.19 cents for demand, while the Belgian franc declined 8½ points to 2.18½ cents. Dutch, Scandinavian and British exchanges were firm at the opening.

F. A. FENNING QUITS JOB AS COOLIDE ACTS

Commissioner of District of Columbia Resigns Place.

Announcement is Made at Summer White House.

WHITE PINES CAMP, N. Y., July 20.—Frederick A. Fenning has resigned as commissioner of the District of Columbia at the formal request of President Coolidge.

He will step out of office in a few days and his successor will be named immediately.

The official statement was forthcoming today from the summer White House here.

It was revealed that Fenning's resignation actually has been in the hands of the attorney general since President Coolidge left Washington two weeks ago. Announcement of its receipt was withheld, however, as the president desired the commissioner to complete certain tasks before stepping out of office.

In behalf of President Coolidge it was stated that the executive had anticipated the resignation of Fenning as a result of the findings of the two house committees which had investigated the conduct of his office, but to make certain the executive had, just before departing on his summer vacation, made a formal request for it.

HURT IN WRECK, ASKS $25,000

Mrs. Ida Fox Sues Traction Company in County Court.

Mrs. Ida Fox, of this city, through her counsel, W. A. O'Grady, Wellsville, has filed an action in common pleas court at Lisbon, seeking $25,000 damages from the Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction company as the result of a collision between two Grandview street cars on August 8, 1924.

Mrs. Fox claims that she was a passenger on a north-bound Grandview car which was struck by a southbound car at a switch just south of the Riverview cemetery entrance. She alleges that she was violently thrown to the floor and as a result received severe injuries to her spine and neck and also suffered from a nervous shock.

THE distinguished and Rt. Rev. Dr. Manning, Episcopal bishop of New York, sailed last week for Europe, leaving this sensible message.

He adds that the "jazz period," with the smoking and drinking among women, is fading away.

BISHOP MANNING in France will study the great cathedrals, and see in one of them huge stones dragged along the ground, mile after mile, by crowds of men, women and children, working for the glory of God and no other reward in the middle ages.

HE will see real cathedrals, built with a Christian enthusiasm that never sent a collector into Wall Street and never included a "sports feature" among its stained glass windows. And he will wish that his cathredal building activities had fallen in those ancient days of deeper faith.

THE 29 Mohammedan seamen of the British ship City of Newcastle, deserted at New York, camped on the dock and cooked their own food. They discovered that their cook was a Buddhist and they couldn't eat of his cooking because, as everybody should know, what a Buddhist touches is contaminated. They may take that less seriously when they reach England under a charge of mutiny. The belief of these ignorant seamen that the Lord of the universe is vitally interested in their food was common enough once.

With each detail of Psialias' story carefully checked in the localities where he told police he had stopped on his trip to Warren, O., on the day of Mellett's death, police had a completely tabulated account of Psialias' movements to present to Lieut. Connors when he returned from a conference with officials at Canton.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, July 20.—Stocks of the motor companies absorbed most of the speculative interest in the stock market in the early trading today. Hudson Motors jumped into the spot light with a new 4 point gain in the first period but declined to 65, professional trading, chiefly the "squeezing of the shorts," was the most important factor in the market movements of this stock.

The financial district was pleased with the weekly report on brokers loans, issued after the close of business yesterday. It showed that there was no increase in speculative borrowing, despite the recent heavy turnover in stocks at higher price levels. The chaotic situation in the foreign exchanges spread to the Italian lira, which also reached a new low for the year, in company with the French franc, which today approximated 2 cents to the franc.

The stock market was unusually active for a mid-summer session, sales in the first hour approximating 525,000 shares. General Motors and United states steel were freely offered on profit taking and short selling, and prices declined nearly 2 points. But pool operations were resumed aggressively in Chrysler and Dodge Motor and in other stocks with which William C. Durant is reported to be identified.

The Copper stocks continued to move forward under the lead of Anaconda and American Smelting, while Baldwin led a moderate rally in the equipments and sold above 120 for the first time since March. A new fractional slump in the oils followed reports of 22,000 barrel increase in daily crude oil production and the prospect of a heavy flow in the newly discovered fields in Texas panhandle.

Call money was unchanged at 4 per cent.

PASTOR CALM AS HE AWAITS MURDER TRIAL

Accused Cancels His Engagement in New York.

FORT WORTH, Tex., July 20.—While sentiment smouldered threateningly here today for and against the Rev. Frank Norris, who killed B. E. Chipps, Fort Worth lumberman, during a bitter quarrel, the pastor slayer calmly announced plans for a mammoth revival service.

Rev. Mr. Norris announced he has cancelled an engagement in New York for next week because he wished "to remain with my congregation this summer and inaugurate one of the biggest revivals I have yet attempted," he said.

Kary Crowley, Fort Worth manager for Lynch Davidson, gubernatorial candidate, today was drawn into the grand jury investigation of the killing.

He, with 12 others, was summoned to appear before the jury, although District Attorney R. K. Hanger refused to indicate what connection Crowley might have with the affair.

Unofficially, Portsmouth reported 99.

Chicago Death Toll 12.

CHICAGO, July 20.—Refreshing breezes from Lake Michigan brought a measure of relief to sweltering Chicago today. The government weather bureau promised no other respite from the high temperatures that scorched the city yesterday and exacted a toll of 12 lives.

The heat wave is general from the Rocky mountain states to the Atlantic seaboard. The middle west suffered most. Temperatures of 100 degrees or more were recorded in a number of places. Chicago reached a maximum of 94.2 at 4:30 yesterday afternoon, the hottest July 19 on record.

Deaths by States.

Known dead, due to the heat and accompanying storms, in the states over which the torrid wave has settled, totalled 35 at 6 o'clock this morning. Scores of persons are prostrated. States reported as follows:

No Tangible Clues

Check Up Hotel Clerk's Story.

This morning he declared that he "was through quizzing" members of the underworld. With the police department practically ignored as participants in the probe, the chief seemed not unwilling to get the department working "on normal cases again."

It is possible, however, that Slater may go to Warren today to check up on the story told by George Psialias, alias "George, the Greek," and on the story told by the clerk of the Lincoln hotel there to Lieut. Connor, of the Pittsburgh homicide squad, on his visit there last night.

The clerk is said to have admitted that he registered for Psialias on last Friday morning, or rather—"about midnight." Garage attendants were said to have told Connor that Psialias' automobile was not placed in a Warren garage until about 1 o'clock Friday morning.

It was not learned, according to an announcement early today, whether the clerk had registered while Psialias was present, or if he had been previously told to place the Pittsburg man's name on the register. If the habeas corpus action being started in Pittsburgh by Psialias' attorney proves successful, County Prosecutor C. B. McClintock will start counter action to have him held until Slater can check up on the Warren angle, McClintock said today.

Mysterious Telephone Call.

Possibility that a person other than the foreign-speaking man who warned Don Mellett on the Sunday before the crime that death was approaching might have had some knowledge of the murder was revealed here today, when it was learned that a mysterious call for the slain editor was received by Earl Shaeffer, composing room foreman on the Canton News within 45 minutes before Mellett was brutally murdered.

"The call came in about 11:30 o'clock on Thursday night," Shaeffer declared.

"No," I replied.

"Where does he live?"

"On Tuscarawas street. What do you want of him?" Shaeffer asked the mysterious caller.

Caller Slams Up Receiver.

Shaeffer said that he got Mellett's address and telephone number and gave it to the "caller" over the phone.

"When I asked him 'who was talking' he slammed up the receiver," Shaeffer added.

Although it is possible that this last mysterious telephone conversation might have been in reference to some of the battles that Mellett was waging on the underworld and the police department, it is thought significant by some because it came less than an hour before the publisher met his death.

The eyes of many of the probers were turned toward Pittsburgh, Warren, Massillon, Cleveland, and other cities in the belief that the solution of the crime might be found in these cities.

But Ora Slater, hired by the county to take charge of the search, declared this morning, after a full night's work, that he "really had no more to work on now than yesterday morning."

Slater also let it be known that his work would "keep him in Canton today," which might indicate that the wily Cincinnati detective thought that the killers or an important lead might be found in Canton.

Chief of Police S. A. Lengel maintains in a rather solitary manner that the killers of Mellett and those back of the killing will never be found in Canton.

Donahey Summons Detective.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 20.—John D. Cleary, head of a Columbus, O., detective agency, today was summoned by Governor Donahey of Ohio to join the investigation of the murder of Dan Mellett, Canton newspaper publisher.

Cleary, who was here attending the convention of the International Secret Service association, said he had received a telegram asking him to meet the governor in Philadelphia. From there he expects to start actively on the trail of the slayer.

CROWD ATTENDS BIG CARNIVAL

Patterson Field is Thronged at Opening of West Shows.

Every attraction of the 25-car organization was ready for the opening. The company presents a dozen shows, 10 riding devices and about two-score concessions.

The midway, with its thousands of electric lights, was a dazzling spectacle last night. The show is conspicuous by the absence of the usual objectionable features which are associated with many carnival companies.

A children's matinee will be given between 2 and 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. A five-cent admission fee will be charged for all shows and rides.

The show will operate every evening this week.

BRADLEY BURNS IS FINED $10

Pleading guilty to a charge of speeding, Bradley Burns was fined $10 and costs by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley, this morning. Burns was arrested by Patrolman Roth and McFarland along the River Road last night while traveling at a rate estimated by the police at between 40 and 50 miles an hour. His fine was paid.

CANTON CRIME PROMPTS CLEAN-UP OF UNDERWORLD IN CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, O., July 20.—Declaring that the crime situation at Canton was a "warning example," Safety Director Barry today ordered a wholesale cleanup of Cleveland's underworld.

"I am going to rid the city of all undesirable characters and gunmen," Barry announced.

"I am issuing herewith an open ultimatum to the underworld leaders of Cleveland to come in and tell what they know about the Mellett case or we will use coercion," Barry said.

The safety director said that his men were making a roundup of all police characters who will be quizzed for any information regarding the shooting of Don Mellett, Canton publisher.

Cincinnati Launches Fresh Attack Against Underworld

Grand Jury Called to Investigate Alleged Race Track Gambling and Handbook Making.

CINCINNATI, O., July 20.—An offensive against the Cincinnati and Hamilton county underworld and general vice conditions launched with the impaneling of a grand jury to investigate alleged race track gambling and handbook making, has been intensified since the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher.

The special grand jury is still in session. County Prosecutor Charles S. Bell, Sheriff Richard B. Witt and a representative of Attorney General Crabbe were to meet today to determine whether or not they will allow the Coney Island racing program to open Thursday or delay it until the grand jury has made a report.

It is expected these authorities would either keep the entire racing plant closed or issue orders against any gambling that may have been contemplated with the opening of the season.

The probe was launched in connection with the operations of alleged "bookies" working with horses running on tracks already open in Kentucky, Ohio, and other states.

Cincinnati police and federal prohibition officers also were bending every effort toward a general round-up. So far the results have consisted in the arrest only of an occasional white underworld character on minor charges, and of negroes on liquor charges.

PLOT TO ASSASSINATE PUBLISHER WAS NOT HATCHED IN OHIO PRISON

Warden Thomas, Denying Investigation, Expresses Belief Inmates Know Nothing of Cowardly Killing.

COLUMBUS, July 20.—"The plot to assassinate Don Mellett was not hatched behind the walls of the Ohio state penitentiary. Prisoners sent here from Canton have not been receiving visitors, and no communications have been passed through. We have questioned one of our prisoners, a man from Canton's underworld, as to who were the higher-ups, but learned little. He knew nothing," was the statement of Warden P. E. Thomas here today.

Warden Thomas declared no investigation is being made in the prison, and expressed belief that inmates knew nothing of a plot, if there was one.

"Mellett's murder was deplorable and the murderer or murderers would be welcome guests here," he added.

Bandit Whittemore Will be Hanged on Thursday Aug. 12

BALTIMORE, Md., July 20.—Richard Reese Whittemore, the "Candy Kid" bandit, will not die on Friday, the thirteenth.

Instead, he will be hanged until dead at 11:30 p. m. on Thursday, August 12, at Maryland penitentiary.

Warden Brady today sent out the first batch of tickets to witness the hanging. He shoved the time ahead half an hour. Governor Ritchie had set the date as August 13. The warden was privileged to make the change.

Eighteen tickets will be issued. The first five went to the Baltimore newspapers.

Whittemore was convicted of the murder of Robert H. Holtman, prison guard. He carried an appeal to the state's highest court at Annapolis, but lost. He has told prison officers he wanted "to get the thing done quickly, the quicker the better."

Death Twice Visits Ohio Home Within Past Two Days

COLUMBUS, July 20.—Death twice visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Chauncey Rader, on West Second avenue, here within the past two days, and today arrangements were being made for a double funeral service.

The father, 32 years old, and his "buddy," Robert Chauncey, aged 6, were the victims.

Apoplexy coming as the father sat beside the bed of his ill son, brought death first on Sunday night. The child suffered a relapse as his father was carried from the room, and early today his little soul took flight. Today they lay side by side in the once happy little home, while "Mother" Rader and sister, Jean Anna, aged 4, wept.

Tomorrow afternoon the mother and her daughter will accompany the two bodies to Bloomfield, Ohio, where they will lay to rest their husband-father and son-brother.

Boy is Gunshot Victim.

Lengel Condemns "Fags" When Asked About Death Plot

CANTON, July 20.—Chief of Police S. A. Lengel today was perhaps the least perturbed of all persons who are centering their efforts toward the solution of the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton's crusading editor.

Shoving his hat back on the top of his head so that it revealed a mop of coarse gray hair, the chief, who was the target for every charge that the unfortunate publisher hurled at the police department, seemed more prone to condemn cigarettes than to talk of the murder episode.

"Naw, I don't smoke cigarettes," he declared when a newspaper man offered him one.

"I never smoked them but once—that was at the world's fair in Chicago. People thought that a cigarette smoker was a 'tough egg' in those days. I bought a whole package and smoked 'em while I wuz walkin' down Clark street just to keep the beggars away."

LIFE SAVING LESSONS GIVEN

Oil Company Scout Dies, Friend Hurt In Airplane Crash

ARDMORE, Okla., July 20.—Details are still lacking today on the wreck of an airplane which fell east of here late yesterday, killing Fred Parks, scout for the Sinclair Oil company, and seriously injuring Walter Critchlow, prominent independent oil operator, who were flying the plane.

BRICK HISTORY ROTARY TOPIC

Ohio Valley Pioneer in Industry, Says Anthony Koehler.

The Ohio Valley was a pioneer in the manufacture of firebrick, Anthony Koehler, superintendent of the East Liverpool works of the Babcock, Wilcox company, told Rotarians at the weekly meeting of the club in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. at noon today. His subject was "The Manufacture and Prospects of Refractory Brick."

The first fire clay brick works west of the Allegheny mountains was established in what is now Wellsville in about 1842, Koehler declared. A second plant was erected a year or two later at Hammondsville. Clay, used in the manufacture of these brick taken from the hills in this section, was found to be the best for brick making purposes and soon other plants were established along the river front, he said.

Koehler was introduced by Malcolm W. Thompson, who presided. The chorus singing was led by Dr. Colin F. Kinsey with Mrs. Danks Cochran as the accompanist.

Frank L. Wells, who attended the annual convention of Rotary International held at Denver in June, made a brief report of the meeting. Wells, who was accompanied by his wife, made a pleasure visit to the Pacific coast after the convention, returning to their home in Wellsville a few days ago.

T. S. Brush, general manager of The Review-Tribune, will be chairman of next week's meeting. Mr. Brush will show members of the club through The Review-Tribune plant, Washington street.

Urges Moratorium

or "Yanqui," is particularly rife among the working classes who are told at every opportunity by street orators and newspaper editorials that the United States is responsible for all their ills, particularly the waning purchasing power of the franc.

Throughout the Latin quarter American tourists have been having trouble with quarrelsome and argumentative natives. Most of these runins, while not serious, do much to mar the pleasure of the visit to Paris.

Quest for American Dollar.

Agents for the large steamship companies reported that the July bookings on the American-bound steamers were unusually heavy, in some cases record-breaking. The homeward rush does not usually start until August. The premature rush was attributed in part to the anti-American feeling in France today.

Aggravating the situation is the declining value of the franc. Frenchmen have lost confidence in their own currency and are beseeching their American friends to sell them dollars. Storekeepers invariably suggest to their customers that they prefer payments in dollars or pounds at the rate of exchange current.

Apartment houses concierges, waiters and others are asking that their tips be given in American money.

Signs in Luxury Shops.

Small luxury shops in the downtown district have placed signs on their counters, both in English and French saying:

"Because of the exchange rate, prices have been increased 25 per cent.'

Ford automobiles have been boosted 20 per cent. The American Express company and other tourist agencies declined to quote prices of tours in francs, insisting on payment on the basis of the dollar or pound sterling, depending upon the nationality of the tourist.

Extra police have been called out to maintain order.

Italian Currency Declines.

NEW YORK, July 20.—Reflecting the heavy selling of francs and lire in the European markets today, the French and Italian currencies declined to new low levels at the opening of the American exchange.

French francs sustained a new decline of 11 points and were quoted at 2.03½ for demand and 2.04 (cents to the franc) for cables.

The Italian lire slumped 14 points to a new low at 3.19 cents for demand, while the Belgian franc declined 8½ points to 2.18½ cents. Dutch, Scandinavian and British exchanges were firm at the opening.

LIMA COMPANY LOW BIDDER ON HIGHWAY JOB

Lewis and Copeland May Get County Road Contract.

TWO JOBS SLATED

H. C. Armstrong, Lisbon, May Get Bridge Award.

With an estimate of $170,210.27, Lewis & Copeland, Lima contractors, were the low bidders for the surfacing work on that part of the proposed new Youngstown-East Liverpool intercounty highway which begins at the Y. & O. sub-station and extends to a point near Williamsport. Bids for the job were opened by the state highway department at Columbus.

The Allison and Harris Construction company, of this city, submitted an estimate of $172,002.48; Holmes Construction company, Wooster, $173,321, and Hill & Hill, Elyria, $183,892.95. The job also provides for a connecting link between the Lincoln highway at Apple's Corners and the new Youngstown-East Liverpool road at a point near the Township Line school.

Herman C. Armstrong, Lisbon, was the lowest bidder for the concrete span at Cannons Mill, his proposal being $10,166.70. # JUDGE SPENCE HOLDS COURT

New Jurist Passes on Motions and Grants One Divorce.

Judge William H. Spence, of Lisbon, who was appointed to the vacancy on the common pleas bench in this county caused by the death of the late James G. Moore, took oath of office Monday morning, it being administered by Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine. Motions were heard and one decree entered.

The divorce case was that of Blanche Ball against her husband, Clyde M. Ball, the plaintiff being represented by Attorney Samuel W. Crawford. In this case the decree was awarded the plaintiff and the mother also was given the custody of minor children. The decree was granted upon the proof of allegations set up in the petition that the defendant had been guilty of wilful absence and gross neglect of duty.

Temporary alimony, as prayed for, has been granted in the divorce action filed June 23, last, by Nina Dora Dawson against her husband, Benjamin Dawson. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney W. A. O'Grady, of Wellsville.

In the case of the W. J. Gilmore Drug company, of Pittsburgh, against Harold Bulger and others, doing business under the name of Bulgers Pharmacy, the court has awarded judgment and interest in favor of the plaintiffs, amounting to $2,388.52. The costs in the action have also been assessed against the defendant.

An order of publication for the unknown heirs has been ordered by the court in the partition action now pending of John B. Walborn against Mrs. Hattie Guy and others.

A temporary restraining order has been handed down in the divorce action filed July 15, last, by Elizabeth Zurbrugg against her husband, Elmer F. Zurbrugg. In this case a decree of divorce, alimony and custody of children are sought by the plaintiff.

In the case of Frank Bosco against the Star Insurance company of America, wherein $2,000 with interest is sought upon refusal to pay the fire loss the policy covered, the court has granted leave to the defendant interest to plead by July 31. The action was filed on the appearance docket May 26, last.

The sale of premises has been confirmed, a deed and distribution ordered and a writ of possession has been awarded in the case of the Union Savings and Loan company against Ada Hall. This was an action in foreclosure and the case was filed in court June 2, 1925.

"Dismissed without prejudice" is the entry of the court in the case of the People's Saving and Loan company, of Lisbon, against Fred S. and Nora C. Woodburn, which was filed March 10, last. The costs in the case have been paid.

A decree of foreclosure has been ordered in the case of J. C. Horton against Edward F. Luck and the New Waterford Building & Loan company, which was an action to marshal liens, and to sell real estate. While the foreclosure was ordered March 24 last Judge Spence has now confirmed the sale of premises and a deed and distribution ordered.

CROSS PETITION FILED IN COURT

An answer and cross petition has been filed by the defendant in the divorce action which was filed in common pleas court May 25 by Emmet E. Longbottom, of Washingtonville, against his wife, Bertha L. Longbottom, by her counsel, George T. Farrell, of Lisbon.

Mrs. Longbottom admits thatshe accompanied her first cousin, Howard Kean, a divorced man , to visit his home at Earnfold, Saskatchewan, Canada, and later motored to Midwest, Wyo., where she visited the home of her father, Edgar Mortimer. On the trip she was accompanied by her two-year-old son, Paul M. Longbottom. She then returned to Leetonia.

Mrs. Longbottom denies all other allegations made in the petition of the plaintiff which was filed by Attorney K. L. Cobourn, of Salem, and in her petition she seeks a decree of divorce, and temporary and permanent alimony. The hearing on the question of temporary alimony has been set for Friday.

GREEN LAW FUND IS EXHAUSTED

No money from the Green law fund appropriation made by the last session of the state legislature will be distributed in Columbiana county this year, although every township in the county, received the $1,000 it was entitled to last year.

Advices received from the ofice of State Auditor Joseph Tracy show that the fund of $350,000 has been exhausted, and that no more money will be made available until there is another appropriation by the legislature.

The distribution was made at Columbus in the order the applications were received, and because of there being so many townships in the state it is declared that when the second year was reached, there was not sufficient in the fund to meet all applications.

Records of this county show that Columbiana county applications were filed in the proper way, and that the distribution of the fund at Columbus did not extend far into the second year. Counties of the state who have been left behind in the distribution are first in order to receive additional funds when another appropriation is made.

GRANTED LEAVE TO FILE PETITION

Leave to file a petition in error in the case of R. L. Griffith, as plaintiff in error against the State of Ohio as defendant in error has been granted by Judge William H. Spence. The motion was filed by Atorneys George T. Farrell of Lisbon and John P. Barrett of Youngstown.

Counsel for the plaintiff in error sets up in its motion there was error found in the judgment of Justice S. S. Weaver, Fairfield township, also irregularities in the proceedings of the trial court, wherein the state of Ohio obtained a judgment against the plaintiff in error for $500 June 29th last.

It is alleged among the nine causes of error, that the affidavit for the search warrant upon which the arrest and conviction of the plaintiff in error was obtained, were illegal and contrary to law, also that the court acted as prosecuting attorney for the state as well as judge, and as a result thereof the plaintiff in error did not obtain a fair trial.

Attachments Filed.

Two attachments have been filed against the property in Lisbon of J. D. Clouser, residing at California, Pa., but formerly living in Lisbon. The claims were filed by Attorney Walter W. Beck. One was for the recovery of $223.73 and interest from Oct. 26, 1921, claimed to be due on the account of the Lisbon Lumber Co., and another was for $275.46 and interest from July 29, 1923 claimed owing L. ## CROSS PETITION FILED IN COURT

An answer and cross petition has been filed by the defendant in the divorce action which was filed in common pleas court May 25 by Emmet E. Longbottom, of Washingtonville, against his wife, Bertha L. Longbottom, by her counsel, George T. Farrell, of Lisbon.

Mrs. Longbottom admits thatshe accompanied her first cousin, Howard Kean, a divorced man , to visit his home at Earnfold, Saskatchewan, Canada, and later motored to Midwest, Wyo., where she visited the home of her father, Edgar Mortimer. On the trip she was accompanied by her two-year-old son, Paul M. Longbottom. She then returned to Leetonia.

Mrs. Longbottom denies all other allegations made in the petition of the plaintiff which was filed by Attorney K. L. Cobourn, of Salem, and in her petition she seeks a decree of divorce, and temporary and permanent alimony. The hearing on the question of temporary alimony has been set for Friday.

GREEN LAW FUND IS EXHAUSTED

No money from the Green law fund appropriation made by the last session of the state legislature will be distributed in Columbiana county this year, although every township in the county, received the $1,000 it was entitled to last year.

Advices received from the ofice of State Auditor Joseph Tracy show that the fund of $350,000 has been exhausted, and that no more money will be made available until there is another appropriation by the legislature.

The distribution was made at Columbus in the order the applications were received, and because of there being so many townships in the state it is declared that when the second year was reached, there was not sufficient in the fund to meet all applications.

Records of this county show that Columbiana county applications were filed in the proper way, and that the distribution of the fund at Columbus did not extend far into the second year. Counties of the state who have been left behind in the distribution are first in order to receive additional funds when another appropriation is made.

GRANTED LEAVE TO FILE PETITION

Leave to file a petition in error in the case of R. L. Griffith, as plaintiff in error against the State of Ohio as defendant in error has been granted by Judge William H. Spence. The motion was filed by Atorneys George T. Farrell of Lisbon and John P. Barrett of Youngstown.

Counsel for the plaintiff in error sets up in its motion there was error found in the judgment of Justice S. S. Weaver, Fairfield township, also irregularities in the proceedings of the trial court, wherein the state of Ohio obtained a judgment against the plaintiff in error for $500 June 29th last.

It is alleged among the nine causes of error, that the affidavit for the search warrant upon which the arrest and conviction of the plaintiff in error was obtained, were illegal and contrary to law, also that the court acted as prosecuting attorney for the state as well as judge, and as a result thereof the plaintiff in error did not obtain a fair trial.

Attachments Filed.

Two attachments have been filed against the property in Lisbon of J. D. Clouser, residing at California, Pa., but formerly living in Lisbon. The claims were filed by Attorney Walter W. Beck. # Wellsville Topples Laughlin; Motors Smother K. T. K., 15-1

Kestner Making Slab Debut, Allows Newell Club Three Safeties

Pass Paves Way for Wellsville Run in First and English's Triple Ties Count in Second; Dustman Crosses Plate With Winning Counter.

IN ONE of the best City Industrial league games of the season Wellsville, playing snappily behind fine pitching, defeated Laughlin, organization leaders, 2 to 1, in the down-river city yesterday.

Kestner, twirling his first game for Wellsville, held Laughlin to three safe hits, all being extra base clouts, doubles by Crawford and Finley and a three-bagger by English.

Bubin, pitching for Laughlin, fanned three as against two by Kistner. A walk, fielder's choice and an error by Finley gave Wellsville its first run in the first inning.

Finley, doubling in the second, scored on English's triple, making the count one all.

In Wellsville's half of the second Hancock singled to right but he was forced at second by Dustman, Watson to Finley. Dustman stole second and scored on Shipley's single over second.

Finley, brilliant Laughlin shortstop, accepted seven of eight chances.

FLAG RIVALS CLASH TODAY

Chester-Turk Nash Battle Billed for Smith Field.

With both teams at the top of the procession, neither having lost a game to date in the second half of the City Industrial league season, Chester and Turk-Nash will clash in their initial meeting at Chester this evening.

A huge crowd is certain to be in attendance, with both outfits regarded as leading claimants of the second half title.

The game, originally scheduled for Patterson field, was transferred to Chester because of the presence of a carnival on the west end lot.

For the same reason the Turk-Nash game with K. T. K. on Friday night has been transferred to Columbian park.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,
Maker of 51 Golf Champions. "Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

The golfer must always watch that tendency of the wrists to run wild in the back swing. It is peculiarly true that permitting the wrists to be free and loose in the address encourages them to act too rapidly in the back swing. That is, they take the club upward much more quickly than it should be taken. The back swing should be more of a sweep back with the club, with the clubhead approximately even with the hands and wrists until near the top, where the wrists break it over and then take up the slack, so to speak. When the wrists act too quickly the clubhead is made to break directly upward. Thus it describes an ars that is too narrow and altogether too close to the body. Reach slightly out with the club in the lower part of the back swing.

HAGEN SHOOTS FOR NEW MARK

Breaks World's Record for Medal Play Over 36 Holes.

DELAWARE WATER GAP, Pa., July 20.—Having broken the world's record for medal play, scoring for 36 holes with 132 for the first two rounds, Walter Hagen resumed play in the eastern open golf championship today with the announced intention of going after a new world's record for 72 holes of open play on a 6,500-yard course.

The present record is held by Emmet French, of Youngstown, who made a score of 274 in 1922 in the Ohio open on his own course. His rounds were 67 68 71 68.

Hagen's score at the half way mark is 132, with a 67 and a 65. He needs a 70 and a 71 to break the record.

Rickard Fails to Announce Plans for Heavyweight Bout

Policemen's Benevolent Association of Chicago Said to be Dickering for Big Fight.

By GEORGE A. STRICKLER.

CHICAGO, July 20.—Tex Rickard and the proposed Dempsey-Tunney bout today were just where the world left them yesterday, and many days previous. One still in the offing, the other in the throes of statements and counter statements, hastily making new promises to replace those broken yesterday.

At the appointed hour last night, Rickard failed to weigh in with his formal announcement regarding the site of the fight and the identity of the mysterious "committee of five" with which he is convening.

Police Seek Fight.

Among the intelligentsia this morning, however, there was a tendency to accept with marked sincerity a rumor linking the officials of the Policemen's Benevolent association of Chicago with the identity of these "five biggest men in town." The policemen's representatives, the bruit ran, are dickering for the bout as a substitute for their annual track and field benefit, scheduled for late in the summer.

After a day of conferences and long distance telephone calls, mostly from New York, Rickard intimated last night that his formal statement would be forthcoming today, and that he was not in the least worried over the threatened interference of the Coliseum A. C., which purports to hold Dempsey's contract for a Wills bout here.

"Dempsey analyzed their contracts and agreement to me at the time he signed with me in Little Rock last May," Rickard said. "They were to pay him $150,000 on a certain date. A few weeks after that date they made their first financial move, offering Jack $35,000, which he refused. Their failure to comply with the terms of their contract nullified it. They have nothing for me to worry about."

Commission Silent.

The Illinois state boxing commission, up to a late hour this morning, has been successful in holding its silence. As far as it was concerned, Secretary Con O'Brien said, the fight was still a rumor. No formal application to stage it had been made to the commission, and therefore the solons had nothing to say, individually or collectively.

It is a matter of record, though, that a local promoter was refused a license last week to feature a heavyweight bout, the commission rejected his application with the dictum that it was not in favor or heavyweight fights in the state during the first year of legalized boxing. A Dempsey-Tunney match might cause them to reflect and repent, however.

Rickard's only positive statement yesterday was that he would not stage a Dempsey bout here, or anywhere, unless all claims had been settled and all obstacles, bona fide or inspired, had been cleared away, giving him free reign to put on the fight as a heavyweight title bout should be put on. Such a situation smacks of the impossible.

Rickard's failure to issue an announcement yesterday is construed as a move prompted, indirectly, by the scheduled meetings of the Illinois and New York commission today.

Jennings and Jackson Hammered For 15 Safeties by Auto Outfit

Sainor Blanks Potters in All But Third When Foe Counts on a Hit, Error, Putout and Sacrifice.

FIFTEEN hits, good for as many runs, aided by the numerous miscues of their opponents, enabled Victory Motors to win handily from K. T. K. last evening at Columbian park before a large crowd. Only once did the Potters make the circuit. The final count was, accordingly, 15-1.

Jennings, K. T. K. pitcher, was found for seven runs in the second inning despite the fact that he fanned two men with the bases full. After 10 men had batted Jackson went in and retired the side after pitching to two batters.

The Motors jumped on Jackson in the third and scored six more runs as nine men used the bludgeon.

Saulsberry, formerly of the Chester club, finished the last two innings. Two runs, one in each inning, were made off him by the slugging Motors.

Sainor pitched steadily throughout the contest, blanking his opponents in all but the third when a hit, an error, putout and a sacrifice fly enabled the losers to score once. Incidentally Sainor was second only to Robinson in hitting with a mark of .667 for his two singles and being hit by Jennings in the four tries that he had.

Robinson, former Hall China player and one of the best catchers in the city, returned to the game with Victory Motors following a layoff of practically two years with the exception of a few games with Laughlin last season. He enjoyed a perfect swatting figure for the day with two doubles and a walk for his trio of attempts. He batted in three runs and scored twice himself.

All the Strobels, including John Henry and "Chick," were back in the Victory Motor lineup and all pasted the ball hard. They scored a quintet of runs among themselves.

Myers, hitting for Lysle in the third, singled but was left on the bags as Jackson retired the side by flying to H. Strobel.

Sainor was hit in the pitching arm in the second and reached second as Jenning's throw to catch him off first went by Lysle. C. Coleman, Simcox and V. Bailey, sacrificing, was safe as Wilson threw low to Simcox at third. With the bases clogged, H., and C. Strobel struck out. Robinson, walking, forced in Sainor. J. Strobel doubled to middle and Robinson and J. Strobel finished. Davis stole second and scored on Mundy's single to left. The latter reached second on a passed ball and tallied on Sainor's rap. Jackson succeeded Jennings. C. Coleman singled but V. Bailey flew to Rardin.

H. Strobel, opening the third, singled to middle. C. Strobel beat out an infield hit but was hit in the head by Jackson, who assisted to first. Haught ran for him and took second. H. Strobel went to third on the bad throw. Robinson doubled to left, scoring two runners. J. Strobel was safe on Rardin's error and stole second. Davis singled to left, scoring Robinson and J. Strobel. Davis stole second and counted on Mundy's single to right. Sainor flew to Rardin. C. Coleman singled past third and stole second

Kestner Making Slab Debut, Allows Newell Club Three Safeties

Pass Paves Way for Wellsville Run in First and English's Triple Ties Count in Second; Dustman Crosses Plate With Winning Counter.

IN ONE of the best City Industrial league games of the season Wellsville, playing snappily behind fine pitching, defeated Laughlin, organization leaders, 2 to 1, in the down-river city yesterday.

Kestner, twirling his first game for Wellsville, held Laughlin to three safe hits, all being extra base clouts, doubles by Crawford and Finley and a three-bagger by English.

Bubin, pitching for Laughlin, fanned three as against two by Kistner. A walk, fielder's choice and an error by Finley gave Wellsville its first run in the first inning.

Finley, doubling in the second, scored on English's triple, making the count one all.

In Wellsville's half of the second Hancock singled to right but he was forced at second by Dustman, Watson to Finley. Dustman stole second and scored on Shipley's single over second.

Finley, brilliant Laughlin shortstop, accepted seven of eight chances.

Chester-Turk Nash Battle Billed for Smith Field.

With both teams at the top of the procession, neither having lost a game to date in the second half of the City Industrial league season, Chester and Turk-Nash will clash in their initial meeting at Chester this evening.

A huge crowd is certain to be in attendance, with both outfits regarded as leading claimants of the second half title.

The game, originally scheduled for Patterson field, was transferred to Chester because of the presence of a carnival on the west end lot.

For the same reason the Turk-Nash game with K. T. K. on Friday night has been transferred to Columbian park.

TAGGING ALL --BASES--

The Reds came back to life and trimmed Brooklyn, 5 to 2. Carl Mays gained the decision over McWeeny.

Pittsburgh kept in the swim by trouncing the Braves, 10 to 4. Genewich lasted only two innings.

The Cubs permanently ruined the Giants' big drive by winning again, 9 to 5. Wilson, Stephenson and Grimm donated the fireworks, while Huntzinger starred as a relief pitcher.

Somebody fed the Phillies raw meat and the Quakers beat the Cardinals in the tenth, 4 to 3. Bottomley and Mokan got in some heavy batting, Sunny Jim collecting his fourteenth homer.

Scoring eight runs on as many hits in the first inning, the Yankees coasted home to an 11 to 2 win over the Browns, and increased their lead over the Athletics to seven games. Paschal got a homer and a single in the first inning.

The Athletics lost to the Tigers, 8 to 3, when Jack Quinn blew up in the eighth. Sammy Hale and Gehringer got four hits apiece.

Firpo Marberry, starting his second game of the season, held the Indians to three hits and the Senators won in a walk, 4 to 1.

The Red Sox got back to normalcy and lost to the White Sox, 5 to 4. Johnny Mostil's first hit of the series knocked in the winning run.

RING BODY SPLIT ON TITLE BATTLE

NEW YORK, July 20.—The location of the proposed heavyweight fight between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney may be determined here this afternoon at the weekly meeting of the New York state athletic commission.

James A. Farley, chairman of the commission, declared that the commission positively would not issue a license for the fight, while William Muldoon, another member of the board, said he would do everything in his power to prevent the bout from slipping away from New York.

SKULL PRACTICE

Jack Delaney fought 10 rounds with a sprained thumb without a murmur to win the light heavyweight championship. But now that he has it he's using the same thumb as an excuse to call off two matches. Figure that one out.

Paul Berlenbach says he is still a light heavyweight. He doesn't attempt to go any farther.

Bill Tilden has just won the Tri-State title at Cincinnati but the experts haven't doped out yet just what effect this will have on Bill's play in the Davis Cup matches.

If Gene Tunney gets a battle with Jack Dempsey my choice of a winner is Tex Rickard.

Jennings and Jackson

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO.

ARTICLE XVIII, SECTION 11.

PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO SECTION 11 OF ARTICLE XVIII OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF OHIO, RELATIVE TO ASSESSMENTS FOR THE COST OF ACQUIRING PROPERTY.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to both houses concurring therein:

That there shall be submitted to the electors of this state in the manner provided by law, on the second Tuesday in August, 1926, a proposal to amend section 11 of article XVIII of the constitution of Ohio, so as to read as follows:

Sec. 11. Any municipality acquiring property by purchase or appropriation for a public improvement may provide money therefor, in whole or in part, by assessments upon property benefited by the improvement whether abutting, adjacent or otherwise located. Such assessments shall in no case exceed special benefits conferred thereby.

Fight Results

Harry Goldberg, New York welterweight, knocked out Frankie Pitcher, New York, in the seventh round.

RING BODY SPLIT ON TITLE BATTLE

NEW YORK, July 20.—The location of the proposed heavyweight fight between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney may be determined here this afternoon at the weekly meeting of the New York state athletic commission.

James A. Farley, chairman of the commission, declared that the commission positively would not issue a license for the fight, while William Muldoon, another member of the board, said he would do everything in his power to prevent the bout from slipping away from New York.

SKULL PRACTICE

Jack Delaney fought 10 rounds with a sprained thumb without a murmur to win the light heavyweight championship. But now that he has it he's using the same thumb as an excuse to call off two matches. Figure that one out.

Paul Berlenbach says he is still a light heavyweight. He doesn't attempt to go any farther.

Bill Tilden has just won the Tri-State title at Cincinnati but the experts haven't doped out yet just what effect this will have on Bill's play in the Davis Cup matches.

If Gene Tunney gets a battle with Jack Dempsey my choice of a winner is Tex Rickard.

TRAFFIC COUNT FINES ROLL IN

Four Pay Up; Others Scheduled for Appearances.

Four of the alleged traffic law violators rounded up in the week-end crusade by Mayor W. L. Fogo and local police, chiefly against speeders, appeared before the chief executive last night and paid fines.

Approximately 11 more are slated for hearings before Mayor Fogo. License numbers were jotted down and summonses were sent out by police.

Joe Galipo, East Liverpool; John Kane, Midland; G. D. Merrell and Angelo Ross, of Wellsville, paid fines of $8.60 and were released.

MRS. MARY FIELDS SEEKS DIVORCE

In the divorce action filed in common pleas court by Mary L. Fields against her husband, Carter A. Fields, the charges of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty are made by the plaintiff.

They were married at London, Ky., December 14, 1920.

For 14 months after their marriage, the petition relates, the defendant failed to establish a home for her, also that he failed to provide for her. She also declares that after a home had been established, Fields compelled his wife to keep boarders, and that while she spent the money she earned to keep up the home, her husband spent his money in riotous living and gambling. Fields is also charged with drunkenness for three years last past. Under the charge of extreme cruelty, Mrs. Fields relates that she was struck over the head with a heel of a shoe by her husband, that she was knocked to the floor, when she was kicked and her body discolored, and that on July 16, last, he placed his knee on her back and struck her.

The petition for the plaintiff was filed by Attorney W. A. O'Grady, of Wellsville.

Will Battle Clerks Again in Pennsy Series.

Victorious in the initial encounter with the Foremen in the first tilt of a three-game series, the Pennsylvania Railroad Clerks here will defend their lead in another engagement scheduled for the latter part of the week. The Clerks took over the Foremen by an 8-7 count in the inaugural battle.

"Christy" Hirst, machine shop foreman, lacking his old-time speed, but none of his cunning and control, passed but two men and had the Clerks fanning the air until they solved his delivery in the last two innings.

Denton Thomas, storehouse clerk, took the mound for the Scribes and held the foremen in check until the seventh when a sore arm forced him to abdicate in favor of P. L. Morris, who had considerable speed, accompanied by wildness.

The Clerks presented a complete lineup, but the Foremen were shy three men, due to emergency work, and were forced to fill in with substitutes.

The fielding of Walter Brooks, boiler shop foreman, cavorting at second, was one of the features, reminding the old timers of his playing when he was a member of the Allegheny Shop league.

The battling highlights were the three-base blow by Catcher Crumbley and the two-bagger lined out by Rosenberg of the Clerks with the sacks loaded.

The score sheet, kept by Joe Quayle, revealed that the Clerks registered 10 hits off Hirst, while the Foremen collected 13 off Thomas and Miller.

The work of J. B. Dugan, serving, after much persuasion, as arbiter, was deemed so satisfactory that he has been engaged to umpire the remaining games of the series.

He was a member of the Ben Hur lodge of East Liverpool.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the home of his son. Burial will be made in Spring Grove cemetery, East Liverpool.

TRY TO FIGURE ILLINOIS RACE FOR GOVERNOR

Toga Fight is Problem With Wet and Dry Issue.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Political dopesters in Illinois are having a merry time, with prospects that "figurin' " winners will become more difficult as time goes on.

Although it is early yet, a number of candidates are considered as positive entries in the gubernatorial race. Personal friends of Gov. Len Small are confident that he will be in the primary contest in 1928.

John G. Ogelsby, former lieutenant governor and a former candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, has definitely tossed his crush hat into the ring.

Also mentioned as possible starters are Lieutenant Governor Fred E. Sterling, Rockford, Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom, Allen F. Moore, of Monticello.

And all of these are Republicans! Whom the Democrats will groom for the contest is to much a matter of conjecture for comment.

The senatorial race is also to be staged between lanes of interrogation points.

There are three candidates, George E. Brennan, Chicago, "dripping wet," a Democrat and Col. Frank L. Smith, a Republican dry, and James H. Kirby, who has entered the dash for the federal toga as an Independent Democrat, bone-dry.

Kirby's entry is expected to affect most seriously the chances of Colonel Smith as the colonel is expected to lose to Kirby dry Democratic votes which otherwise would be his.

The senatorial compaign will seriously start at the Illinois State Fair in August, at which political field days will draw candidates and present office holders from all over the state.

Before this transpires, however, the federal investigation will be held at Chicago by the senatorial committee into charges that Col. Frank Smith spent over $1,000,000 in his campaign.

While the distance between Cairo, Egypt, and Khartum, capital of the Sudan, is only a little more than that from New York to Chicago a journey between the two requires four days of continuous travel.

Greece is placing a tax on every person practicing any kind of trade or profession.
